LOCAL BRIEFS

Mr. J. F. Morgan is having a cottage built on Melver street.

We are glad to know that Mr. W. R. Makepeace who has been confined to his bed for three or four weeks is up again.

Shelton and Bert Varborough, who entered the Boys' Corn Contest in this county, have decided to withdraw from the contest as they failed to get a stand of corn.

Mr. W. R. McAlamy has sold his automobile to Mr. T. M. Cross. This machine will make it easier for Mr. Cross to go to and from his office at the court house.

The ditch along the Southern Railway has been cleaned out and the grass cut from the embankment. Disinfectants have been applied, and that part of town is now in better sanitary condition.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Riddle wish to thank their friends and neighbors for their kindness and attention during the sickness and death of their daughter, Beatrice.

Mrs. P. H. St. Clair and two children left Wednesday for Mt. Vernon Springs where they will spend some time. They were accompanied by Miss Rachael McKernon, little Eleanor St. Clair, who has been ill for several weeks, has been carried there for a change.

Mr. John Brown left Tuesday morning for Darlington, S. C., to see his son, Mr. Harvey Brown, who still with typhoid fever in that place. Mrs. Brown has been with her son about two weeks. The friends of the young man hope to soon hear of his recovery.

Messrs. Chas. Preddy, C. C. Cheek, Dolph Griffin, S. V. Scott, S. M. Jones and Capt. W. C. Donnell went down to Morris pond Tuesday afternoon where, that night, they tried their hand among the fishy tribe. They say they had plenty of fish to eat. The sensational catch of the evening was three turtles in about as many minutes by Capt. Donnell.

Mr. D. L. St. Clair, of The Express, left Monday for Lenoir to attend the annual meeting of the State Press Association. After the business part of the meeting has been finished, the members of the Association will go on an excursion through the mountains. They are no doubt enjoying their outing in the "land of the sky," and will return home after taking a much needed rest.

Beatrice, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Riddle, died at the Central Carolina Hospital where she had undergone an operation for appendicitis, on Saturday, 17th, at the age of nine years. She was buried at Spallow Well the next afternoon. She was a bright and attractive girl and was sadly missed in the home. The parents have the sympathy of friends and neighbors.

The Wilkins-Lashley Co. are recently successful stock dealers, but they know how to raise corn, oats and hay. They raised an excellent crop of timothy this year. They sowed timothy last fall on two acres of land which they were told was so low and cold that it would not produce anything.

B. J. JOHNSON COMMITTS SUICIDE.

Ends His Life by Taking Poison—A Little Girl Saw Him Commit the Rash Act.

Mr. B. J. Johnson committed suicide at his home one and one-half miles west of Buffalo church last Friday morning. It is thought that he killed himself by taking strychnine. A small girl of the family saw him take the drug from a bottle and swallow it soon after which he lay down on a pallet on the porch and after a few minutes of intense suffering was dead. Mr. J. D. McPherson, a neighbor, who was sent for, found the bottle supposed to have contained the deadly drug in the yard, but there was no label on it indicating the nature of its contents. Mrs. Johnson, who is in the family, reached Mr. Johnson's side about the time Mrs. McPherson arrived. She at once realized that there was no chance to save the patient as he was then dead.

It is thought that Mr. Johnson's death was due to bad health. He had been in bad health for a number of years and was informed had in time passed threatened to commit suicide. Mr. Johnson is survived by his wife, who fought in the Confederate army. He was born and reared near Woodard's bridge in Chatham county and died at the age of about 73 years. The remains of Mr. Johnson were interred in Buffalo cemetery on Saturday.

Marriage of Mr. Weller and Miss Cox.

On Tuesday night of last week it was reported here that Mr. Nelson Weller and Miss Allie Bell Cox, both of this place, had, that day, gone to Pittsboro by automobile and were married. They went to Pittsboro as stated, but returned home without Miss Cox having changed her name to Mrs. Weller. Upon reaching Pittsboro Mr. Weller called at the office of the Register of Deeds and procured a marriage license. He then engaged a preacher and soon had everything in readiness at the house for the ceremony. When the news spread in the quiet town of Pittsboro that there was about to be a marriage at the hotel many gathered in to witness it. For one time at least they assembled to witness a marriage and went away disappointed. The young lady changed her mind and decided that the marriage should be postponed for so important an occasion. Mr. Weller and Miss Cox returned to Sanford that evening, but as they had fully made up their minds to get married they were making plans for their early celebration. They left the next evening for Monroe where they expected to have the knot tied. Here they encountered another difficulty in carrying out their plans. They failed to find a preacher or official who could perform the ceremony. They finally went to Rev. K. D. Holmes, of this place, to go down and officiate. He went down on a train that reaches Monroe some time after midnight, performed the ceremony and returned home on an early morning train.

The bride and groom spent their honeymoon in Raleigh and Lakeville and have returned to Sanford with congratulations and best wishes.

Lee County Cotton Blooms.

The Express asked last week the farmers of Lee county send in their first cotton bloom. The paper had hardly gone to press before there were a number of cotton blooms in the office. The first bloom sent in was by F. L. Sloan, who lives near Salem. It was found on his farm June 20th, J. L. Gunter sends in a bloom found on his farm in Deep River township, near Lockville, 22nd. C. C. Kelly, of the Broadway section, sends in a bloom plucked also on the 22nd. Mr. C. A. Wicker, of Jonesboro township, sends in a bloom found on his farm on the 23rd. Mr. J. M. Thomas, of Sanford, reports with a bloom on the 25th. Mr. J. E. Thomas, of the Colon section, found his first bloom on the 25th. Mr. J. W. Lawrence, of Jonesboro, sends in a bloom plucked on the 25th. Mr. C. M. Yarborough, of the Osgood section, found his first bloom on the 26th. We received a bloom from A. J. McVey, Jonesboro No. 2, 26th, and one from N. A. Matthews, of the Broadway section, 27th; one from R. L. Seawell, of Lenoir Springs, on the 27th and one from A. W. Causey, of Carleton, on the 27th. The note with one bloom which was sent in was lost out of the envelope which was left unsealed consequently we are unable to give the party sending it. E. S. Tiley, of Wilson, sends in a bloom on the 27th. P. W. Powers, Sanford, No. 2, 27th, and M. E. Wicker, one on the 28th.

Lawn Party at Gulf.

A lawn party was given at the home of Mrs. F. D. Jones Tuesday evening by Miss Debie Jones and Grace Frazer in honor of their guest, Miss Elizabeth Goldston, of Sanford.

The approach to the house was beautifully lighted by Japanese lanterns while the porch was tastefully arranged with ferns and fragrant flowers. The feature of the occasion was a contest, the prize being presented to Miss Elizabeth Goldston and Mr. J. T. Walker, Miss Mary Grover and Prof. G. H. Palmer the booty.

Quality refreshments were served. House on Saturday evening, all agreeing they had spent a pleasant time.

Those in attendance were Messrs. Emma and Mary, Mrs. J. L. and Sabra Palmer, Mrs. M. J. and Mrs. Marie and Helen Jones and Frances Goldston and Miss J. T. Walker, Fred Knight, John and Annie, Fredman, Ralph Jordan, Mrs. J. M. and Mrs. J. Jones, Herrman, Mrs. and Mrs. Hamilton Frazer.

Can Be Spared.

In noting the exit of the Lee County Times the Concord Times says:

The Lee County Times has suspended publication. The Greensboro News says the paper has been fighting a proposition to build good roads in Lee county and with a knowledge of this fact there will be neither wonder nor regret expressed that the paper has "succumbed the inevitable."

The United States Circuit Court for the district of Delaware has handed down a decision declaring that the alleged powder trust which is dominated by the E. I. DuPont de Nemours Company, is a combination in restraint of inter-State commerce in powder and other explosives in violation of section 1 of the Sherman anti-trust law. The combination, which consists of 13 corporations and 15 individual defendants, is ordered dissolved.

The Children's (or Education) Day exercises were held at the A. M. E. Zion Church here on last Sunday and were witnessed by a large and appreciative audience. The exercises consisted of recitations, drills, essays, solos and duets by the members of the school. Certificates of promotion were presented to James Stout, Frank Monroe, Edward Boykins, and Bettelle Wicker, by Prof. M. H. Barnes, in a very nice speech, commending them for their proficiency and regular attendance in their classes.

C. Heck.

For the Fourth.
