

LOCAL BRIEFS.

A one week term of court is being held at Carthage this week with Judge Cline presiding.

The camping party of young ladies who spent a week at Lakeview, returned home Wednesday.

Since the hot weather set in some of the people of Sanford who have automobiles, almost live on wheels.

About all the public schools of Lee county have secured their teachers for the coming year. Many of these are new teachers.

Forces of men and teams have been busy for the past two or three weeks graveling the unfinished link of the Sanford-Carthage road.

Farmers say cotton has begun to shed its squares. This is caused by the hot dry wind. Should many of the squares drop there will be put few left to make a crop.

The schedules of the north-bound Seaboard passenger trains are now somewhat out of joint on account of the grading and straightening of the track south of this place.

The Sandhill Citizen says the peach crop of this year was not a record breaker for size, but was one of the most profitable in the history of the Sandhills. Most of the crop sold at good prices.

Mr. Cameron Morrison, of Charlotte, Democratic elector-at-large, will speak on the political issues of the day in this place on August 20. Mr. Morrison is a good speaker and should be heard by a large crowd.

Mr. A. J. Bost accidentally stuck the blade of a large pocket knife in his leg at his home here last Friday making an ugly wound. He had the wound dressed and will soon be able to walk without limping.

Mr. James Pardo, who went to Baltimore to purchase a new stock of goods, is now spending a few days with his son, Rev. Clarence Pardo, in Wm. Virginia. He is expected to return home the last of the week.

Henry Dowdy, who was injured about the legs by falling from a Seaboard trestle that is being built south of this place by a construction force, was brought to the Central Carolina Hospital Saturday for treatment. He was not seriously injured and will soon be out again.

Mr. J. R. Rives, who has been traveling and working with a Farmers' Institute party in some of the western counties, returned home this week. He traveled through the Bat Cave and other sections where the great floods did so much damage. He says the picture of destruction has not been overdrawn by the newspapers.

Mr. C. J. Dickens, who is engaged in the trucking business near Sanford, says he has had better success with his vegetables and other truck this year than ever before. He has had no trouble in selling his produce at good prices. The grocery merchants of Sanford want his vegetables because they are delivered in good shape. Mr. Dickens expects to enlarge his truck farm next year.

Every farmer, his wife and sons and daughters should attend the Farmers' Institute and annual picnic at the court house Saturday and every local union in the county should be represented at the meeting of the County Union which will be held there on the same day. Good speakers are on the program for the Farmers' Institute and all may come expecting to get much pleasure and profit out of the occasion.

The singing class from the Odd Fellows Orphanage at Goldsboro, gave a concert at the L. M. Theatre last Thursday night. The class is composed of a number of bright boys and girls. A good sized audience enjoyed the program of songs, recitations, etc., rendered by them. The extremely warm night kept many away. The sum of $7.60 was realized from the concert. The class planned to visit Springs on Friday afternoon by Miss Leslie Perry. They enjoyed a good dinner and various amusements. It was a most delightful outing for the children.

Mr. Elton H. Butler, who is publicity agent of the State Fair, spent a few hours in Sanford Thursday. Mr. Butler is anxious that Lee county have a good exhibit at the State Fair this fall. He thinks it would do more to advertise the advantages and resources of the county to the outside world than almost anything we could do. By giving a little time and labor to the matter a very creditable exhibit could be arranged. This exhibit could be displayed both at the State Fair and Lee County Fair. Let our progressive citizens think over this matter and take steps to get up an exhibit.

The Democrats of Harnett county on Monday of last week named Dan Hugh McLean, of that county as a candidate for State Senator from the 15th Senatorial District which is composed of the counties of Harnett, Lee, Johnston and Sampson. Mr. McLean is a Democrat of ability, a good speaker and fine campaigner. The Harnett Reporter speaks of him as "the silver tongued orator of the Upper Cape Fear."

Mr. McLean will no doubt make an active campaign and do his part to win the district to Democracy. Mr. O. A. Barber, of Benson, has been named as the senatorial candidate from Johnston.

Mr. J. F. Collins, who was recently elected superintendent of roads by the Highway Commissioners, is paid a salary of $100 per month for his services. Mr. Collins is a good roads man, having graded and constructed some of the best highways in Lee county. Mr. Collins took charge of the road force last week. He intends to keep up the repair work all over the county, working those roads that need it the worst first. It is now thought that Lee county will get an annual appropriation of about $3,000 from the State and Federal road funds. This, with the funds raised through county taxes, ought to be sufficient to keep the improved highways in good repair. What is going to be done about working the roads that have never been improved? Some provision should be made to keep them in repair.

COLON ORGANIZES BOARD OF TRADE.

A. W. Wicker Elected President and H. C. Booker Secretary—Town Growing.

Colon, N. C., August 12.—At an enthusiastic meeting of the citizens of this town and community held in the school auditorium Tuesday night, the Colon board of trade was organized, the purpose being to promote the best interests of the community and to bring to the attention of manufacturers and those looking for factory opportunities the unusual advantages afforded by this place. Some of the most representative men in Lee county live in Colon, and the immediate community, and they were not only strong factors in the organization, but some of them accepted the executive management of the board for the ensuing year, with every hope of most successful results.

The president elected was A. W. Wicker, who has served in both branches of the North Carolina General Assembly and is widely known as a progressive, constructive citizen. Thomas Gross was elected vice-president. Mr. Gross is a man of pronounced public spirit and a highly esteemed citizen. H. C. Booker was elected secretary.

During the course of the evening the board was addressed by James A. Holloman, of Jacksonville, Fla., who is largely interested in realty holdings in this vicinity. Mr. Holloman is a North Carolinian who is proud of the opportunities offered by his native State, and has especially been pleased with the conditions at Colon, which are in his estimation more attractive to investors, particularly to prospective manufacturers of every branch, than at any other point in the State, or in the South for that matter.

Colon is veritably the limelight. A large number of people are at work on the streets, and the Seaboard is working a large extra force on its yards here. It is currently reported that several industries, soon to be established, are looking into the Colon advantages now, and it is known that construction work will begin on one of these in the next few weeks. That this town will soon be the most rapidly growing town in the State is almost assured.

Colon is on the main lines of both the Seaboard Air Line and the Norfolk-Southern, both tide-water systems, and has a freight differential that is most attractive by reason of its competitive point. Few towns in North Carolina, even the cities, have the available truckage for manufacturing and shipping facilities. While Colon is only a short distance from Sanford, it is a fact that the Norfolk-Southern railway does not reach Sanford, Colon being the transfer point for that city, thus there is a great difference in the carload rates, in and out of Colon, in Colon's favor.

The power lines of the Southern Power Company pass through the town of Colon and a power station is already established in less than four miles. It also enjoys the peculiar advantage of being within six miles by rail of one of the largest fuel coal fields in the South, and the only deposit of consequence in the South Atlantic States.

All of these matters and others will be brought to the attention of the world by the board of trade just organized.

The Colon board of trade is purely a civic organization and not a single floor of the board has any speculative or investing interests involved or at issue. Any person desiring correct information therefore will be answered promptly and intelligently and the board invites interested parties to investigate this town at once and to write to the board for such information as desired.

Col. Patrick Stars Again. You just simply can't down Col. J. T. Patrick, founder of Southmont and sundry other growing towns in North Carolina. Along come the flood and washed away the cologne's print shop at Bat Cave, but he waded through to Asheville to tell the news of the Bat Cave-Chimney Rock disaster to the Associated Press. From there he went to Cincinnati and established himself in the offices of the Billboard, the great magazine of the showmen. This time Col. Patrick is working on a Southern cotton field, which he expects bodily to build in several fair grounds of the northwest. He will show the fleecy staple growing in the South, with Charles' singing between the rows. The Billboard gives him several columns of publicity, speaking of Mr. Patrick as "the best known Southerner."

To Make Good Jelly. The catering club specialists of the States Relations Service for the Northern and Western States recommend that the following points be observed to make certain that jelly will be of good quality:

After the fruit has been boiled and the texture broken down it should be poured into a jelly bag and permitted to drain for a considerable time. Ferrous juice from the pulp will cause cloudy jelly. When the juice has been collected, place two teaspoonfuls of unwhitened fruit juice in two teaspoonfuls of grain alcohol and mix by shaking gently. Allow it to settle for one-half hour, preferably in a glass tumbler. If a jelly-like substance collects in the bottom of the mixture it is evidence that pectin is present and the juice is suitable for jelly making. When the test shows absence of pectin, the white portion of orange peel, apples, or green citron melon may be added to the juice to supply the necessary pectin. Twelve ounces of sugar added to a pint of juice will make a jelly of the proper firmness and texture. Jelly is ready to be poured into the glasses when two rows of drops form on the end of a paddle or on the edge of a spoon held sideways.

PROPOSE A FAT PEOPLE'S CLUB FOR THIS TOWN.

Numerous Citizens Report Big Gains Through Tanlac—One Man Added 18 Pounds.

Realizing that many people of Sanford and immediate vicinity have gained wonderfully in weight through Tanlac, a clerk at the Crabtree Drug Co., laughingly suggested that a "Fat Peoples' Club" be formed here at once.

The latest person to increase his weight and health through Tanlac is William Brown, Chief Chef at The Langren, Asheville's leading hotel. He said:

"Having to taste so many different kinds of foods caused my stomach to be completely deranged. I tried all kinds of medicines but continued to fall off in weight, strength and energy. I had about given up hope for recovery when a friend advised me to start on Tanlac. From the first dose of it I felt better and with the finish of my fourth bottle I gained exactly 18 pounds; stomach trouble and indigestion disappeared entirely; my sleep is sound and I am able to really enjoy my work. Tanlac did the work and I am only too glad to recommend it to all run-down people."

Tanlac is sold in Sanford by Crabtree Drug Co.; Broadway, by Broadway Drug Co.; Maxton, Barnes Bros.; Madison, E. A. Ellington; Pittsboro, George Pilkington; Moncure, C. B. Crutchfield; Jonesboro, W. G. & R. A. Watson.

CALOMEL WHEN BILIOUS? NO! STOP! MAKES YOU SICK AND SALIVATES

"Doddson's Liver Tonic" is Harmless To Clean Your Sluggish Liver and Bowels. Ugh! Calomel makes you sick. It's horrible! Take a dose of the dangerous drug tonight and tomorrow you may lose a day's work. Calomel is mercury or quicksilver, which causes necrosis of the bones. Calomel, when it comes into contact with your bile crashes into it, breaking it up. This is when you feel that awful nausea and cramping. If you are sluggish and "all knocked out," if your liver is torpid and bowels constipated, or you have headache, dizziness, coated tongue, if breath is bad or stomach sour, just try a spoonful of harmless Doddson's Liver Tonic tonight on my guarantee. I have my guarantee—Go to any drug store and buy a 50 cent bottle of Doddson's Liver Tonic. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't straighten you right up and make you feel new and vigorous I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Doddson's Liver Tonic is destroying the sale of calomel because it is real liver medicine; entirely vegetable, therefore it can not salivate or make you sick. Guarantees that one spoonful of Doddson's Liver Tonic will put your sluggish liver to work and clean your bowels of that sour bile and constipated waste which is clogging your system and making you feel miserable. I guarantee that a bottle of Doddson's Liver Tonic will keep your entire family feeling fine for months. Give it to your children. It is harmless; doesn't gripe and it's pleasant taste.
