tending. The McLendon campaign is now in its fourth and last week and the inter-set seems to grow and increase as the meeting draws to a close. Great crowds of people from Lee and adjoining coun-ties have crowded into the big tent at every service during the past jew days, especially the night services. Great congregations heard Mack preach three powerful servinos Sunday. Fer-haps the largest congregation that has attaded any service since he came to Sanford, heard him Sunday night. There were something like 4,000 peo-ple crowded in and around the tent. Nothing approaching it in the way of a religious gathering has ever been wit-nessed in this part of the country. Men and women sat and sweitered from the intense heat and seemed to never grow tired of hearing Mack bilster, poel and dynamite them for their sina and shortcomings. Mothers travet many miles with children in arms to hear him preson and appeal to the poe-ple to become Christians and live right in the sight of God.
