Mrs. H. F. Makepeace and Dr. and Mrs. Milliken, of Southern Pines, spent the past week end at Carolina Beach.

Sanford is glutted with watermelons and cantaloupes these hot days. As money is scarce they are going cheap. Many of these melons are trucked in from a distance. However some of the largest and best melons put on the local market are raised within a few miles of Sanford.

Mrs. J. U. Gunter and son, J. U. Gunter, Jr., have returned from Chapel Hill and are now doing light house-keeping in the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Husketh on Summit Avenue. Mrs. Gunter is having a cottage built on Summit Avenue where they will make their home.

Not so many tramps are riding the Seaboard trains as were passing through Sanford a few weeks ago. The officials are now pulling them and putting them to work on the highways. Six were arrested here in one batch last week and put on the roads.

As was stated in the last issue of The Express the World War veterans of this county will hold a picnic in McIver Park Friday evening at 8:30. The meeting will be in charge of W. T. Dowd, commander of Lee Post No. 18. The speaker of the occasion will be Coongressman Walter Lambeth, of this district. Bryce P. Beard, commander of the North Carolina Department of the American Legion, will also speak.

Rev. T. Craighill Brown, Rector of St. Thomas Episcopal church, left Monday for Matha's Vineyard, Mass., to join Mrs. Brown and spend his vacation. There will be no services at the church next Sunday, August 6th. An announcement as to services on the following Sunday will be made later.

Mr. E. B. Faulk, who is engaged in farming near Jonesboro, brought the finest lot of peaches to Sanford last week we have seen here this season. They were very large and of a beautiful color. As good peaches can be raised in that section of the county as will grow in the famous Sandhill section.

It has been announced that the Atlantic and Yadkin railroad officials will stage another fight in Raleigh on August 10th to take the passenger trains off that road. They make fight to get these trains off about every 6 months. They may be displaying bad judgment, but one can not help but admire the determination they show in the matter.

All government crop production loan borrowers who have cotton stored in bonded warehouses and in the N. C. C. G. Association warehouse as collateral against their loans may sell their cotton by writing C. C. Culbreth, local field supervisor, requesting that this be done. There are more than 650 bales stored by Chatham, Lee and Moore farmers. At one time only 6 cents was offered for this cotton; now it will sell at 10 to 12 cents.

Congressman Walter Lambeth, who is vice chairman of the joint committee on printing, writes The Express that the committee put into effect some government economy this year in the matter of printing of the Yearbook of the Department of Agriculture and on this alone saved more than sixty thousand dollars. At the same time the book has been made more useful to those who really use it. The edition was cut down nearly a hundred and fifty thousand in number. Those who will really use the book can get a copy by calling on the county agent or writing Congressman Lambeth direct.

What about wheat reduction in Lee county? At present, the idea seems to be that the government will require a reduction of eight per cent below the average of the past five years. And also, it seems, that the reduction will be paid for as in the case of cotton. However, it is likely that as a result of the processing tax and the consequent increase in the price of flour, more farmers will grow wheat here than before, as the processing tax does not apply to wheat grown for one's own use or that of his employees or tenants. The processing tax adds $1.38 to the price of a barrel of flour. A man who grows and uses his own wheat can have it manufactured at the local mill without paying any tax. This no doubt will lead to more farmers growing their own wheat in this section.

The Georgia tobacco markets opened for the season last Tuesday. At some of the markets the average prices paid were low while it is stated in the press dispatches that the prices that prevailed at Douglas were one hundred per cent more than last year. In some sections of that state protests were sent from the farmers to President Roosevelt hoping that he can do something to relieve the situation. The average for low grades at Douglas was reported around twelve cents a pound, with prices ranging from six to twenty-five cents for better grades. Since the recent rains it looks as if the biggest tobacco crop ever raised in this section will be gathered by the planters this season. We noticed in some fields in the Broadway section Wednesday that almost half of the crop had been gathered. Some of the tobacco has taken a new start to grow and will be late in ripening.

JONESBORO NEWS LETTER

BY MRS. J. R. DALRYMPLE

Leaves for Carolina Beach.
Mrs. C. P. Cole and son and daughter, of Cape Girardeo, Mo., who have been spending some time at the home of Mrs. Bertha Cole, left Monday for Carolina Beach to spend two weeks. They were accompanied by Mrs. B. P. Williamson and children and Miss Virginia Cole.

Rev. J. S. Cook Attends Virginia Summer School.
Rev. J. S. Cook left Monday to attend the Virginia Summer School for Rural Ministers at Blacksburg, Va. The above school deals directly with the agricultural and rural life problems which effect the rural churches. Rev. J. T. Barham, pastor of Buffalo Presbyterian church, is also attending this school.

Reunion of Brooks Clan.
August 11th, will soon be here, the time for our annual Reunion and we are hoping to see our family connections well represented. By your presence and cooperation we can build for our family a higher standard of service for ourselves and neighbors and for the future.

We will have Rev. Frank Hawley, D. D., of Portsmouth, Va., Rev. Edgar Brooks, Peachland, and Dr. Clyde Gilmore, Greensboro, to make us short talks. So come expecting to get some thing.—Yours truly,
W. I. Brooks, President.

Class Meeting.
On last Friday evening Mrs. L. L. Thomas and Mrs. Raymond Knight entertained the members of the Ladies' Bible class of the Methodist church at the home of Mrs. Thomas. The devotional was conducted by Mrs. Arthur Rives after which the president, Mrs. R. L. Robertson, conducted a very full business program. There was a large attendance about twenty members being present. Mrs. H. L. Caddell was the only visitor present. At the close of the meeting the hostesses served ice cream and angel food cake.

Recovering From Operation.
Misses Joyce and Yashti Lassiter, of Orlando, N. C., arrived a week ago last Friday to visit at the home of Dr. R. G. Sowers. Saturday night at nine o'clock Miss Joyce was rushed to Lee County Hospital where she underwent an operation for appendicitis at the hands of Dr. Sowers. Miss Lassiter was removed from the hospital Saturday to the home of Dr. Sowers where she is convalescing. On Sunday afternoon Mrs. Walter Tyler, of Kelford, who was before her marriage, Miss Mary Lassiter, was rushed from Kelford to Lee Hospital where Dr. Sowers also performed an operation for appendicitis. It was quite a coincidence that the two cousins underwent similar operations within twenty four hours of each other. The mothers of the two patients visited them Sunday and both patients are now making satisfactory improvement at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Sowers on Lee St.

Miss Alice Green Honored.
The Belle Barnes Auxiliary of the Methodist church gave Miss Alice Green a miscellaneous shower last Wednesday evening. The members of the auxiliary drove to the home of Mrs. A. T. Lambeth, where Miss Green is visiting and presented her with the shower which contained many beautiful and useful gifts. During the evening many piano selections were rendered by Miss Lucy Bynum Lambeth.

At the conclusion of the evening the guests were served punch and wafers by Mrs. Raymond Knight, Mrs. J. H. Worthy and Mrs. L. L. Thomas. Miss Green, who left August 1st, for China to resume her work as missionary, has received many honors while on a year's furlough and the best wishes of a host of friends follow her as she returns to her work.

Jonesboro Grange.
The council of the Junior Order of Jonesboro has invited the Jonesboro Grange to meet in their hall for the first meeting in August. The grange has accepted the invitation and will meet Thursday evening, August 10th, in the Junior Order hall. "Gent's Night" will be observed and an excellent program is being arranged.

What's the matter with father?
He's got the ginger, he's got the pep; You've got to travel to keep in step. What's the matter with father?
He's all right!

We shall learn what a woman shall do and say, how to select a wife, hear a funny farce and listen in on an unusual orchestra. Refreshments will be served. May we expect a full attendance? 8 o'clock is the hour—August 10th.

Mrs. Marjorie Matthews, R. W. Barnes and J. M. Edwards have returned after a ten day trip to the Peaks of Otter, where they were guests at a house party given by Miss Helen Johnson, of Bedford, Va. Dr. Lynn McIver has moved his office from the rooms which he occupied near the Page Trust Company on Steele street, to rooms on the second floor of the new Monger building, on the same street. Should you desire to see him on professional or any other business, you should call at his new office.

Mrs. D. E. McIver and daughter, Jenni, who have been in Winchester, Mass., for nearly a year, returned home Sunday. Miss McIver has been in Winchester for treatment and her many friends will be pleased to know that she is much better.

The code business is all the go now, and if you are not hooked up with it in Sanford, you are out of luck. Some 15 cars of peaches were shipped from the section around Lexington to the Northern markets over the R. F. W. route. As they were the early variety and no like peaches are raised in that section the market is glutted with them.
