WASHINGTON, N. C., SEPT. 3

LET THE NEWS FOLLOW.

Parties leaving town should not fail to let The News follow them daily with the news of Washington fresh and crisp. It will prove a valuable companion, reading to you like a letter from home.

MUST BE SIGNED.

All articles sent to The News for publication must be signed by the writer, otherwise they will not be published.

PRESERVE AND PLANT.

There are a good many folks who think it unwise to have trees on the streets. They do not look business-like, or they have a country-fied appearance. Every town passes through this phase of foolish impatience with the arrival of beautiful conditions.

ODDITIES IN THE DAY'S NEWS.

Miss Ida Buckles, of Piquette, first grade teacher who has supported an invalid mother for years, entered her name in a spirit of fun with 100 others and won a tract of land in the Government—drawings at Courthouse, Idaho, worth $25,000.

RELIGIOUS CHURCHES.

Mrs. Nelson Sweeney, of this place, has a flock of what are known as religious "fowls" which answer to but one bill or sound. When Mrs. Sweeney wants to feed her fowls she gathers them together by whistling a familiar hymn.

THE SECRET OF A HAPPY HOME.

"A true mother is one of the holiest secrets of home happiness. God sends many beautiful things to this world, many noble gifts; but no blessing is richer than that which he bestows in a mother who has learned love's lessons well, and has realized something of the meaning of her sacred calling. One writes: God thought to give the sweetest thing

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR.

A man gets to be conceited by thinking he isn't. Some men will find fault with their wives if they don't save more out of their allowance than it amounts to. The reason a girl likes to hesitate over a marriage proposal is she is sure she is going to accept. An unlucky thing about being lucky at making money is all the people you have to do something for with it.

CONFESSIONS OF MARRIAGES.

To steal candy from a kid used to be considered the punishment of marriages, but that is just what our tariff has brought the government to, as witness the following from the Springfield Republic: "Under the new tariff, the customs officers are very strict. A little girl, coming on a Cunard steamer in New York last week, was held up because she was eating a small package of chocolate. No, the chocolate could not go ashore with the little girl unless a duty were paid on it."

BETTER SCHOOLHOUSE.

Next Saturday Night is the Rally at Singleton For School.

Now is our opportunity for a better schoolhouse at Singleton, for which we school children and Sunday school children have been waiting so long. How many times have I heard this said: "I do wish our schoolhouse was celled and painted, of white-washed." Now we have the opportunity of having it so, if we will only be up and doing.

Our schoolroom is beautifully situated among a fine grove of oaks and pines, and with just a little more work done to the yard, I feel sure we would have one among the prettiest school grounds anywhere in the country. How many places there is I could name where there is not over six shade trees, or some not even that many around the schoolroom, while we are blessed, with a fine grove, and do not appreciate it enough to keep the bushes cut down and the yard brushed. There is going to be a meeting at Singleton Saturday night, September 4, for the benefit of raising funds to cell the schoolroom, and also to whitewash it. Let us all turn out and see how much we can raise now helping this worthy cause. I feel sure everyone that contributes will be greatly rewarded in time to come. Let us all get together and let us work together and have our schoolroom and school grounds so we will feel proud of it at any and all times.

Colorado proposes to have a law making it a misdemeanor to call a man a liar. In North Carolina we have an unwritten law making it an imprudence punishable with a swat on the jaw.

Carelessness is criminal when human life is sacrificed on account of it. Fool-hardiness is more criminal than carelessness. The man who makes a play-thing of a pistol belongs to the fool-hardy class.

A young woman who is infatuated with Orville Wright, claims that she is his wife, but he denies it. Probably Orville never even went so far as to "fly around her," as courting is alluded to in North Carolina.

These divorce cases are developing the fact that it requires five different gowns to decorate the anatomy of the fashionable woman during the day and before she comes to her night gown.

The most important think that the debate on the tariff in the United States Senate disclosed was that there are a number of those old mossback representatives of trusts that ought to be elected to stay at home.

Don't forget the date, Saturday night, September 4. Let us all be there.

LUCIE GRAY WOOLARD, Singleton, N. C., Sept. 2, 1909.

IN MEMORIAM.

Harvey G. Hill was born in Chocowinity, N. C., 71 years ago, and passed away August 25, 1909. When a young man he enlisted in the Confederate army and proved to be a brave and true soldier. He first entered Swindell's company. After this company was disbanded he enlisted in Whitford's company, where he remained until the war closed. His record as a soldier was commendable. He always was at his post of duty.

He was happily married to Miss Elizabeth Donby, and to them were born ten children, of which five are living. After the death of his first wife he married Miss Elizabeth Moore, who still survives him. Mr. Hill is survived by four brothers and one sister, Mrs. Ireland G. Hill and Capt. G. H. Hill, of Washington, Hilliard and Jesse N. Hill, of Chocowinity. His sisters are Mrs. John Satterthwaite, of Washington, and Mrs. Eli Barr, of Chocowinity. About 27 years ago Mr. Hill joined the Christian Church and remained in the faith until his death. He was honest, upright and faithful in all his dealings. He was a devoted husband, kind and loving father and popular among his friends. He fulfilled the scriptures by getting his bread by the sweat of his brow. Stricken with paralysis sometime ago, he never regained his accustomed health. The funeral was conducted by Rev. Joseph Roberts at the home. His body now rests in the family cemetery. May the grace of God sustain the bereaved ones and bring them to the eternal kingdom to dwell with God and their loved ones forever. A FRIEND.

Pleasant Dance at Chocowinity

On the night of September 1, Chocowinity again dressed for a good time. In a large room which was the dining room of Trinity School, Mr. N. C. Hughes, Jr., gave a dance, which was without doubt thoroughly enjoyed by all, and a dance long to be remembered. The dance began with German figures, led by Mr. N. C. Hughes, Jr., with Miss Mabel Von Eberstein, and followed by Wm. Elouft with Miss Emily Brown, Wm. Von Eberstein with Miss Sadie Blount, Sam Griste with Miss Carrie Bright of Washington, Mack Bright of Richmond, Va., with Miss Jella Von Eberstein, Will White of Hertford, with Miss Helen Griste, Clayton Brown with Miss Annie Griste, Quincy Nemmek of Washington with Miss Augusta Charles of Washington, Guy Harding of Washington with Miss Lillian Primrose Whitehead of Enfield, N. C., Geo. F. Hill with Miss Sarah Barker, Wiley Griste of Wilmington, with Miss Blanche Harding of Washington, and J. E. Passage with Miss Eliza Branch of Washington. Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Brown, Jr., were the chaperones. To suit every possible taste no matter how fastidious, there were dances to please, for there were not only German figures and round dances, but square dances and Virginia reels. Among in the line of a mandolin and guitar. The music was quite by which to express appreciation to Mr. Hughes for this most enjoyable evening.

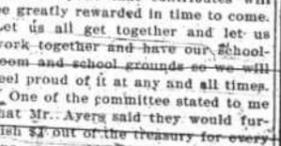

It makes you dull, stupid, peevish, sickly, - this dust; 'tis terrible.

Better build in Washington Park, where 'tis different.

LOOK OUT! LOOK OUT! LOOK OUT!

The entire wharf property between the Buoy-ward and the extreme East end of town is owned by 14 people or companies, and excepting that I have for sale you can't buy an inch of it. This I have to sell in the center of business; its most desirable location, it's very valuable and you in any business, who in any way can utilize this property should grasp and grasp quick. If you don't you will have to every few years pay more rent, or look out for another property. Look to the future. If you study you will decide that the free inland water route will be granted us, and 'twill make every piece of water-front property in Washington worth double and triple the price of today. Fortune goes to the man who looks and invests in real estate for its future. See me at once and secure a piece of this valuable water front. Will sell from 20 to 80 feet fronting on Water street. Come, get a piece now while you can, or later you'll regret. Only a little cash and long time notes required.

RUDOLPH HOWARD. Former Citizen Passes Away in N. C.

The following clipping taken from the local paper where Mr. Rudolph Howard lived at present, Mr. A. W. tells of his death. Mr. Howard was well known in Washington, having lived here a number of years and engaged with the Willis Bakery, on Third and H Street. He was a young man of excellent character, and was well thought of. Tidings from his loved ones, especially his mother, told of his untimely death.

Mr. Rudolph Franklin Howard died at the home of his mother, Mrs. George Flowers, near Flat Rock, at 10:45 o'clock Friday morning, aged 23 years. Mr. Howard had been a sufferer for three years with consumption and sought relief in our mountain climate, but the progress of the disease could not be checked. His brother, Mr. Lawrence Howard, of Newton, arrived Friday evening and returned to his home Tuesday. The deceased was buried at Oakdale cemetery Sunday afternoon, Rev. Claylor conducting the services.
