New Blériot Machines Soon

London, Sept. 10.—Advices from Paris state that this week will witness the completion of no less than a dozen of the Blériot flying machines, duplicates of the Blériot XI, which he crosses the English channel, and that within a month fifty of the aerial craft will have been turned out from the factory near the French capital.

Two of these machines will be seen in America, where M. Blériot is anxious to make a good showing. The monoplane is sold at $2,000 each and all have been contracted for in advance. Some of the purchasers have received orders of a premium of from $1,000 to $2,000 to turn over their craft as soon as completed. Several of the Blériot XII machines are also under construction, but the popular demand appears to be for the smaller machine.

The Blériot XI is the small monoplane carrying but one person, while the Blériot XII is built for one or two passengers besides the operator. In his original XII M. Blériot carried two persons a short time ago.

In length it is not much greater than the smaller machine, the latter being 23 feet, but the wings are stronger and somewhat longer.

Nassr Airship Flies Today

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 10.—Aviators all over the world will be interested in the attempted flight of the Nassr airship, which will be a feature of the Central Canadian Exhibition, opened in this city today. The big fair eclipses all its predecessors in the extent of its displays of Canada's wealth, but the attempt at aerial navigation is attracting more discussion than the exposition itself.

The Nassr airship cost $15,000 and the construction was done almost wholly by its navigator, Tony Nassr, of Toledo, Ohio. The big gas bag which supports the frame work and engine of the airship is 75 feet in length, has a diameter of 16 feet, and when inflated with hydrogen gas has a capacity of nearly 13,000 cubic feet. It is made entirely of Japanese silk, possessing the qualities of lightness and strength. The framework, 5 or 6 feet below, is triangular in form. The gasoline engine which furnishes the motive power is of 16-horsepower, four cylinder, four cycle, air cooled type. It weighs about 142 pounds, though it is quite as powerful as many automobile engines. Unlike other aeronauts, Nassr has the engine so designed that he can stop or start it at will when in the air. The propeller is at the forward end and the rudder at the stern. Sulphuric acid, iron borings and fillings are the principal ingredients in the hydrogen gas and a generating plant to produce it is carried. To house the airship while the balloon is being inflated is a tent 100 feet in length. Nassr sails the ship himself and is conceded to be a wonder in aerial navigation.

Jolly Graping Party at Mish's

Mr. M. A. Smith gave a graping party at the Mish vineyard yesterday afternoon in honor of Miss Annie Woodley, of Elizabeth City, who is the guest of Miss Ada May Ayers, on Market street. A sail down to the vineyard was on the well appointed gasboat of Mr. Smith, and the afternoon was highly enjoyed by the following guests: Miss Annie Woodley, Miss Ada May Ayers, Miss Olive Burbank, Miss Mary Simmons Jones, Miss Julia Mayo and Mr. Fred W. Ayers.

Will Attend Great Council

Mr. Benj. W. Taylor left this morning on the Norfolk and Southern train for Detroit, Mich., to attend the Great Council of the Improved Order of Red Men in the United States. The Great Council meets next Monday and will last four days. Mr. Taylor is one of the three representatives elected from North Carolina.

—When The News representative inquired of Mr. Taylor this morning his destination, he facetiously replied: "I'm on my way to make the necessary arrangements for the funeral of the late E. H. Harriman, and also to look after the reception planned for Dr. Cook, the arctic explorer." "What about Peary?" was asked Mr. Taylor. "Why, he can't be found just at this time. Will wire The News about him later."

STATE NEWS

Condensed Items of Interest Happening Throughout the State.

It is suggested that while the usual improvements are going on in this county the authorities cause to be erected at every road fork figure posts giving the distance to and name of place to which each road leads. This was a custom in olden times, and now with the increased use of the automobile, there will be a great deal more traveling the country roads, and it may be necessary to revive the figure posts and roadside wells.—New Fern Journal.

The Vass Cotton Mill Company, of Vass, was chartered by the Secretary of State. The authorized capital stock is $250,000, but will commence business with $26,100. Angus Cameron, of Vass, is the principal stockholder. The Brannon Carbonating Company, of Charlotte, changes its name to the Brannon-Hahn Ice Cream Company. John W. Crowell, of Lexington, reduces its capital stock to $600, but the stockholders may increase it to a sum not exceeding $15,000.

The total number of students registered at Chapel Hill at the close of the registration period amounted to 703, this number being 45 more than were registered at the same time last fall. Several more are expected to enter later during the term, as has been the custom. The freshmen class numbers 190, with approximately 50 still to enter. Indications show that the students this session will be between eight and nine hundred, a larger attendance than has ever been here in any one session. Lectures in all departments begin tomorrow.—Greensboro News.

The Catawba Live Stock Association, which was formed last February with eight members and now has twenty, is the only organization of its kind in the State. Its purpose is to increase interest in stock raising, promote better farming, build good roads, buy machinery together, exchange bulls to prevent inbreeding, build telephones, increase and improve the poultry business and anything else which will help the farmer. Its members strongly favor good roads and, having failed to get the county commissioners to do anything, have built split log drags and are trying to make better roads themselves.—Hickory Democrat.

The legislature at its last session adopted a resolution setting out that whereas it is the sense of the legislature that the cities, towns and industries of this State should have the benefit of the same relative freight rates from its course as the inland cities, towns and industries of Virginia and South Carolina have from their respective ports. In compliance with its mandate the Corporation Commission has sighted to appear before it on the fifteenth of September the representatives of the freight departments of all the roads. The investigation will beyond a doubt be full of interest. The feeling having been widely expressed that freight rates have been in many cases far too high, and further that there has been these many years gross discrimination against North Carolina, particularly in favor of Virginia.

What is believed in some quarters to be the beginning of a crusade against keepers and inmates of houses of ill-repute was the arrest last night of four denizens of the underworld, who are charged with vagrancy under an act of the 1907 legislature adopted as an amendment to the vagrancy law. Armed with warrants, Patrolman W. G. Brinkley and D. W. Coleman at 8 o'clock last night went to the house of Louise Mebane, on Twelfth street, between Princess and Chestnut, and arrested the keeper and Lena Williams, Beale Deal and Frankie Gray, inmates, all of whom were carried to the office of Chief of Police N. J. Williams, where they arranged bond for their appearance before Recorder Furlong this morning. The Mebane woman gave $500 cash bond for herself and a $100 check on the Wilmington Savings & Trust Company for the other three defendants. The law makes it compulsory upon every chief of police in the State to furnish the recorder or other trial justice every thirty days a list of all the keepers and inmates of houses of ill-repute in the city or town and it is understood that Chief Williams has furnished the recorder with the list as required, but there appeared to be some doubt as to whose business it was to make the affidavit. The warrants upon which the women were arrested last night were sworn out by a citizen, whose name was not given.—Wilmington Star.

There's Always a "Best Place" in Which to Buy It!

Store-competition would be an empty phrase, indeed, if it were not true that there is always a best place to buy a particular thing. If the contemplated purchase is of any importance, the question of where to go is of equal importance; and the question can best be settled—and usually very quickly—by reading the ads.

IF ALL OF THE PURCHASES YOU MAKE IN THE COURSE OF A YEAR were made AFTER CONSIDERING THE ADS, and made—in consequence—"the best advantage" store-competition would then become a valuable thing to you. And you would be amazed at the aggregate of your savings—at the amount of money realized as a direct compensation to you for your labor in "reading the ads."

POMPEIAN Massage Cream

CLEANSES WHERE SOAP AND WATER FAIL

Washing with soap and water makes the face look clean, but it cleans the surface only. It does not clean out the impurities in the skin that make it muddy and sallow. Pompeian Massage Cream goes through the surface. It sinks into every pore—reaches and loosens all foreign dirt and impurities that lodge in the pores.

It is the only facial cream free from grease and that keeps the face free from it. Does not—cannot—promote the growth of hair on the face.

Price 50c and $1.00 per jar. DR. HARDY'S DRUG STORE.
