LET THE NEWS FOLLOW.

Parties leaving town should not fail to let The News follow them daily with the news of Washington fresh and crisp. It will give a valuable companion, reading to you like a letter from home.

MUST BE SIGNED. All articles sent to The News for publication must be signed by the writer, otherwise they will not be published.

DAY OF DECISION.

Monday the citizens of Beaufort county cross the Rubicon. They will say to the outside world whether or not the Mattamuskeet railroad comes to Washington from Belhaven.

The Daily News has too much confidence in the manhood, the integrity, the loyalty of Beaufort county citizenship, to believe other than they will vote as a unit for the building of this road from Belhaven.

The News believes our people will support the construction of the Mattamuskeet road to this city means too much for the community to be defeated.

ABOUT ADVERTISING.

What a narrow idea some business men and corporations have about advertising. When they spend a little money and get things coming their way, they shut off the power and expect the business to prosper.

ix," and we all know that when the farmer is contented and happy and got things coming his way, there's prosperity ahead for everybody.

We are for the farmer, because we know "what side our bread is buttered on." We are for the farmer because we believe his toil should count for something.

We have been in the game with the farmer for a long time and he always gives us a square deal—and a square meal.

LESSONS OF JOHNSON'S RISE.

While the fascinating hope of Americanhood that no had in too long been to rise to the White House has been somewhat obscured by the eminently respectable antecedents of recent Presidents, it receives new lustre from the career of Gov. John A. Johnson, of Minnesota.

"His love of the common folk was sincere. He sympathized with their struggles. He aided them by precept. But he did infinitely more for them by his example. He proved by his life that the battle with obscurity and poverty, while always hard, is never hopeless.

THEY STAYED AT HOME.

"It's lodge meeting tonight," said Brother Brown. "But I don't believe that I'll go down. I'm tired, and it's pretty cold tonight. And everything will go alright if I'm not there."

FOR PAIN IN CHEST.

education by reading. He got an interest in a newspaper and connected himself with the National Guard, and because he always tried to make good and made friends, he was elected to the State Senate.

The death of Governor Johnson leaves Mr. Bryan in undisputed control of the Democratic party, thinks the New York Tribune (Rep.). To quote:

"His death leaves only two Democratic governors in Northern States available for a presidential nomination—Judson Harmon, of Ohio, and Thomas H. Marshall, of Indiana. But neither of them has impressed the country as Governor Johnson succeeded in impressing it.

Brother Grey. "But I guess I had better stay away; I don't like the way the young folks take things into their hands, and try to make the good of the order all jokes and fun."

And the faithful few who didn't dodge Around their duties and try to shirk. But did their own and other's work, Grew discouraged at last, and in dismay
