A Liberal Offer

The Daily News presents another opportunity to the citizens of the county. A forty-two piece dinner set will be given to the person securing five yearly subscribers who pay in advance, or the set will be presented to the one securing ten subscribers for six months, who have paid in advance. Persons interested can see the set on display in The News office window.

The News also makes another liberal offer. A seven-piece dinner or berry set will be presented to the subscriber who pays one year's subscription before November 1. This set is also seen in our window. Now is your chance to secure an elegant set of china for a little work at odd times. Suppose you try for the dinner set, or at least the berry set.

An uncompleted—yet important—visit to a store will probably follow your reading of today's ads.

Rep. Small

Wires Views

Last Saturday, Congressman John H. Small, of this city, received the following wire from the New York American, which explains itself.

New York, Oct. 2, 1909.
Hon. J. H. Small.

Now that the President has come out so forcefully for a ship subsidy and has declared that "There is no subject to which Congress can better devote its attention during the coming session," will you kindly inform the public through the American whether or not you favor such a bill, and why. Answer prepaid.

NEW YORK AMERICAN.
To the above telegram Mr. Small wired the following reply:
Washington, N. C.,
October 2, 1909.

New York American,
New York City.

I am opposed to ship subsidy legislation, either directly or indirectly. No intelligent citizen will question the importance of a merchant marine sailing under our flag with American officers and men. Neither will any one question the importance of extending our foreign trade and the advisability of carrying our shipping in American bottoms. The difference of opinion lies in the appropriate remedy for the restoration of our merchant marine in the foreign-trade. Those who propose to appropriate part of the national revenues and pay it over to our shippers and ship owners are advocating a dangerous and pernicious doctrine. Such a plan is inconsistent with our institutions and will constitute a most dangerous precedent. I do not believe the American people will stand for it when its fallacies and viciousness are properly exposed.

MONUMENT UNVEILED.

A train of five Pullmans passed through the city last night via the Norfolk and Southern for New Bern. Filled with many distinguished people from Rhode Island, who have come down to the unveiling of the monument of the Fifth Rhode Island artillery, which took place in the Federal cemetery in that town today.

Mayor McCarty, of New Bern, welcomed the party last night in the court house in the name of the town. Hon. J. Bryan Grimes made an address of welcome in the name of the Governor of the State, and Mr. John Wolfenden addressed them in behalf of the ex-Confederate soldiers. Gov. A. J. Pothier responded to the speeches. Today at 2 o'clock the ceremonies began, and will be followed in the evening by a reception given by the Daughters of the Confederacy. The following is a partial list of the visiting guests:

Governor A. J. Pothier of Woonsocket, R. I.; Colonel Lattimer W. Ballou of Woonsocket; Colonel E. H. Guerrin of Woonsocket; Col. E. J. San Souci of Providence, Col. Ambrose Kennedy of Woonsocket, Col. Fred B. Lawton of Wickford, Col. E. Sherman of Newport, Col. Henry T. Sisson of Woonsocket, Major Chas. W. Abbott, U. S. A., retired, of Newport; Senator William H. Bowen of Providence, Senator Thomas McKenna of Providence, Hon. Wm. C. Bism of Providence, Judge Frank H. Hammit of Bristol, Albert H. Langworthy of Westerly, Warren Ralph of Cranston, Charles S. Hill of East Greenwich, Edward P. Tobie of Pawtucket, executive secretary; Hugo Jerrett of Woonsocket, Captain Edmund Willcox of Providence, Henry S. Hassard of Newport, Dennis Sica of Cumberland, Oscar Bennett of Woonsocket, Editor McConnell of Woonsocket, Sam W. Peck of Warren.

FIRE TODAY.

Today at 2 o'clock the fire department was called out by the bell and got out the horses and wagons with unusual despatch. When they reached the corner of Market and Main streets they stopped and asked the passers-by, where the fire was. Of course nobody could tell them, although everyone was very anxious to know for their own benefit. After the same old hunt there was nothing doing, and they returned to the fire station out of heart, breath, temper and pocketbook. It is not taken into consideration that every time the wagons and horses are taken out to a fire it means a loss of both time and money to the boys. For goodness' sake let's get that fire alarm system here. Every fire proves how we need it, and no progressive intelligent town would think of doing without it as we have done.

"LEAVES FOR NEW HOME."

Capt. Peter Gallop, who has been keeper of the buoy yard here for the past three years, left this morning for Wades Point Lighthouse, carrying with him the best wishes of all our people.

WHO'S WHO, ANYWAY?

The lamented Vance once said "Great minds would differ." This truth seems to hold good when the two items below are perused. Women are to have a land of their own in Australia where the foot of man, not even a benedict, shall tread, but Bro. Robinson of the Durham Sun gives some consolation to the male sex when he prophesies the future marriage. Readers, take your choice.

When Men Are Monarchs.

Here is the way the papers will write up weddings ten years hence: "The bride looked very well in a traveling dress, but all eyes were centered upon the groom. He wore a dark suit that fitted his form perfectly and in his dainty gloved hands he carried a small rose. His curly hair was beautifully done, and a delicate odor of hair oil of the best quality floated down the aisle as he passed. The young people will miss him now that he is married. He is loved by all for his many accomplishments, his tender grace and his winning ways. The bride commands a good salary as bookkeeper and the groom will miss none of the luxuries to which he has been accustomed. A crowd of pretty men saw him off at the depot.—Durham Sun.

Where Women Will Rule.

English bachelors and benedicts are watching with interest the outcome of an experiment to be tried in Australia. It is a colony where no man will be allowed to hold a rood of land. The whole thing will be of women, by women and for women. Mrs. Emily Crawford, president of the Householders' League, of England, is one of the leading spirits in the movement, and another is a woman doctor, Miss Hetty Sawyer. Mrs. Crawford, by the way, was one of the judges of women's work at the Chicago World's Fair.

The women are going to establish a resort after the plan of the German "Bad," only no gambling will be allowed. They count on making this a paying thing, and a "Bad" owned, run and inhabited by women ought to be attractive to bachelors with gout and fat pocket-books.

"It's merely a question of the parliamentary vote," Mrs. Crawford said. "In England there's no security for women's financial enterprises. We pitch our tents in Australia because there women have the franchise. We want the protection and advantage which this affords."

Even women with husbands are excluded from ownership, though they may live in the colony if they like and bring their husbands and also their children, for whom, by the way, there will be schools.—York Tribune.

SOME REMARKABLE VOYAGES.

Men Who Have Made Long Cruises on Planks and Small Boats.

By what means will man next attempt to cross the channel? The question naturally arises as one reads of the many crossings and novel methods by which men have tried of late years to cross from Dover to Calais. It was only a day or two after Bierlot's successful flight across the channel that a man named Westlake announced his intention of crossing on a plank, 2 feet wide, 18 feet long and 2 inches thick, fitted with a mast and sail and two empty-oil-drums to give it buoyancy. Westlake, however, was picked up more dead than alive off the Belgian coast, but still hopes to accomplish the feat.

A few days later Thomas Wakereil set out to row across the channel in a boat of his own construction, consisting of two planks, with sides a few inches high. He was ultimately
