

LABOR UNIONS HAVE UNITED TO SAVE MEMBERS

Prevent Tuberculosis Nine Fraternal and Benefit Organizations and Three Labor Unions Have Joined Ranks of Fighters Against Disease.

Nine fraternal and benefit organizations with a membership of nearly 3,000,000, and three international labor unions with a membership of over 100,000 have joined the ranks of the fighters against consumption within the last year, according to a statement issued today by the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis.

A year ago only one fraternal organization, the Royal League, and one labor organization, the International Typographical Union, maintained institutions for the treatment of their tuberculous members. Since January 1, 1909, the following fraternal and benefit organizations have taken up the consideration of tuberculosis; and in most instances have decided to erect institutions: Brotherhood of American Yeomen, Order of Eagles, Improved Order of Red Men, Modern Woodmen of America, Knights of Pythias, Royal Arcanum, Workmen's Circle, Knights of Columbus, and Foresters of America. The international labor unions which have joined the fight against tuberculosis are the International Photo-Engravers Union of North America, the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union, and the International Boot and Shoe Workers Union.

The Modern Woodmen and the Knights of Pythias have already opened sanatoria for their members who has tuberculosis at Colorado Springs, and East Las Vegas, New Mexico. The Workmen's Circle is about to erect a similar institution at Liberty, N. Y. The Royal League has maintained a sanatorium at Black Mountain, N. C., for three years. The other fraternal organizations mentioned have either appointed commissions to consider the advisability of erecting tuberculosis sanatoria or are contemplating such action.

The first sanatorium to be erected for the benefit of the laboring man was built by the International Typographical Union in connection with its home at Colorado Springs. The International Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union have recently decided to erect a similar sanatorium, and steps are now being taken to open such an institution. The International Photo-Engravers Union, while not conducting a sanatorium of its own, pays for the treatment of its tuberculous members in institutions in various parts of the country. The International Boot and Shoe Workers Union are recommending to their members that they ally themselves with the various organizations united in the fight against tuberculosis.

All of these fraternal organizations and labor unions are also carrying on campaigns of education among their members. In this way over 3,000,000 men and women are receiving instruction through lectures, through official papers, and by literature expressly prepared showing the dangers and methods of prevention of tuberculosis.

It is a campaign of prevention which will bring to these various fraternal and benefit organizations millions of dollars in the saving of lives and the cutting down of payments for sickness and death resulting from tuberculosis. The recent National Fraternal Congress estimated that 50 per cent of the death losses from tuberculosis could be saved by the various fraternal organizations of the country.

The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis has rendered all assistance possible to these various movements among the labor men and fraternal organizations, and stands ready to cooperate as far as possible with any society of this character.

VALUABLE DOG.

Policeman John Harris has recovered one of the most valuable ever seen here. The animal is finely trained, has a lengthy pedigree, and cost quite a handsome sum. She is splendid dog owned by the officer, and is beautifully formed and colored, and very docile. The animal has a very successful record, and has run down some noted criminals.

A SPANISH HERO SHOT TO DEATH

Prof. Ferrer, Convicted Revolutionist, is Executed in Spain.

Barcelona, Oct. 14.—Prof. Francisco Ferrer, the Spanish educator and convicted revolutionist, was shot yesterday. The execution was done at the fortress of Montjuich, where the prisoner had been confined since his condemnation by court-martial. The doomed man faced the firing squad without flinching and fell dead at the first volley.

Ferrer, except for a momentary expression of emotion, immediately preceding his death, retained his composure to the last. His attorney, M. Galceran, who had defended the prisoner so loyally as to bring about his own arrest for improperly addressing the court had secured permission for a brief talk with the revolutionist before the latter was led to the ditch where he was to die. To his attorney Ferrer spoke feelingly of the work for which he had sacrificed his life and the future of his daughter, whose brave attempt to save his life, touched the father more deeply, apparently, than any other incident of his trial and conviction. On Ferrer's arrest his family was left dependent upon the daughter, who at once secured employment in a biscuit factory. When it was known that her father had been sentenced to death, the daughter made a personal appeal to King Alfonso, calling upon him in the name of his known generosity and chivalry to spare her father's life. When the facts were related by Galceran, Ferrer broke down. It was but a passing emotion, and presently the undaunted revolutionist was himself again.

COLORED TEACHERS EXAMINED. Mr. W. L. Vaughan, County Superintendent of Schools, is today engaged in examining the colored teachers. There are 13 applicants. The examination is being held in the city hall.

NERVY REQUEST OF HIS WIFE

Wanted to Attend Husband's Hanging With the Man She is to Marry.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 13.—Mrs. Mary Nazarko, wife of Stanley Nazarko, the Slav to be hanged tomorrow, visited the county jail today in company with Michael Mazarecki, the man she is to marry after her husband is executed and requested the sheriff that she be permitted to witness the hanging.

The condemned man was writing to his wife, whom he deserted in Russia ten years ago, and the man who is to be her second husband, who is to be present to see him mount the scaffold, but Sheriff Redda said the law would not permit it, and under no circumstances would he allow the woman to be present. Nazarko has left a will in which he bequeaths $1,000 to his wife and her future husband. Nazarko will be hanged for killing a woman with whom he lived in this country.

N. & W. DEPOT IS DESTROYED

The Loss is Not Known But it is Thought it Will Run Up to $200,000.

Fire took a hand in shaping the destiny of a Union Station for Norfolk early this morning when it destroyed the much maligned Norfolk and Western passenger depot, with its long train shed and the freight, baggage and express rooms, together with the quarters of the office force and all the records they contained.

A score of freight and shuttle cars were destroyed and several more were partially consumed owing to the lack of locomotives to move them from the danger zone before the flames had cut them off. It is impossible early this morning to estimate the total loss, but it will be in the neighborhood of $200,000. The loss of the records of the freight and passenger offices, together

Agent N. M. Osborne, can not be valued in money.

PHONES BEING PLACED.

The new phones for the Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Exchange are now being placed in the different business houses and residences.

A GALLANT RESCUE OCCURS IN NORFOLK

Two Men Are Saved

The Rescued Men Were the Firemen and Machinist of the Ferry Boat Winthrop—Rescued By Promptness of Others.

Norfolk, Oct. 15.—Excitement was at white heat on the water front yesterday forenoon while as gallant rescue of men as Norfolk ever saw was being effected. It was 10:45 o'clock. The Old Dominion liner from New York had just passed the foot of Roanoke Dock bound for her pier when the ferryboat Winthrop left her Norfolk slip and in her wake two men were seen struggling in the water.

These men set up a shouting which brought a flock of men intent upon seeing what was up. Then quick and expert men came off lines which moored various craft to docks in the vicinity and a fleet moved with almost incredible swiftness out into the river to save the men who seemed to be about to drown.

The man nearest to those overboard was F. J. Schweitzer, of the United States Marine Barracks, who was in charge of the naval ferry landing. He hastened to assure the swimmers, who were about fifty yards off shore, that aid would soon come and his shouting was reinforced by perhaps fifty more men in the vicinity.

Everything then was moving swiftly in the neighborhood. Captain John Christensen, who had just passed in the gasoline launch Gertrude, of the Marshall Towing Company fleet, threw a life buoy to one of the struggling men. Then the steam launch of the battleship Minnesota, which had just come over from the navy yard, put off from shore and threw a life line to the other one.

Meanwhile the tug Wrester and Pioneer of the Joseph M. Clarke & Co. fleet, which lay at their pier nearby, cast off their lines and made for the scene, and the tug Hampton, of the Southern Transportation Company, which was up the river a little way, bound up, backed toward the men in the water.

The Minnesota's launch, with her expert crew, being nearest, beat the other craft to the men floundering in the water and both were brought alongside. Captain Harney, who happened along shortly, said that the two men are among the most efficient employees of the company and their rescue was very gratifying. The men said that they are good swimmers, but their shoes and clothing dragged them down, and they yelled lustily in order to procure assistance before these should become thoroughly saturated and cause them to sink.

Fortunately, there were in the vicinity a number of especially apt and alert men, always on the lookout and instantly apprehensive of what should be done to save the men overboard. They did this today with wonderful celerity and everybody who saw the rescue said they never had seen anything to equal it, and rarely more active and exciting while the curtain was up.

To Hold a Corn Growers' Contest

On or about November 12th will be held a Corn Grower's Contest. This will be a great thing for the citizens and farmers of this section. Last year this meeting was held in Hertford, and about 2,000 people attended. The judges and committee will be sent from the State Department of Agriculture, and the Hon. John H. Small has been requested to present the medals and prizes. These will be given for the best grade of corn and the largest amount of corn grown per acre. Special rates will be given for the transportation of the corn, and it is hoped that a big crowd will attend.

All is Ready for the Meetings of the Two Presidents Tomorrow

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 15.—This flourishing border city is in a flutter of anticipation over the arrival of President Taft tomorrow and his exchange of visits with President Diaz of Mexico. The meeting of the two rulers is a significant event in which both nations are deeply interested, for aside from the pageantry of the occasion it is a notable expression of existing between the United States and the sister republic south of the Rio Grande.

El Paso has blossomed out in a number of ways to welcome the two presidents and pictures of the two Presidents are everywhere. San Francisco street, Campbell street and San Antonio street, and other thoroughfares through which tomorrow's parades will pass are long vistas of bunting in the American and Mexican colors. In Cleveland Square and other prominent localities large grand stands have been erected for spectators of the parades. A massive "welcome" arch has been erected in front of the Chamber of Commerce where the first meeting of the rulers will take place.

Visitors are pouring into the city in large numbers. The railroads estimate they will bring at least 50,000 from points as far distant as New Orleans, Dallas and Houston. Three thousand troops under command of Brig. Gen. Albert L. Myer have arrived from Fort Sam Houston and Fort Bliss to do honor to the two rulers and to act as escort in their interchange of visits. The military display by Mexico will in every respect equal the display made on this side. In addition to the presidential bodyguard, President Diaz will be accompanied by a regiment of Zapadores, one regiment of infantry and one regiment of cavalry.

Has Been Postponed

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 14.—The first electrocution set to take place in North Carolina has again been postponed. The man to be executed is a convict named John H. Miller, who was sentenced to the chair for the murder of a woman in 1907.

FORBES BREAKS BALLOON RECORD LONG DISTANCE

Receives Lahm Cup

He Makes 731 1/4 Miles in 19 1/4 Hours—He Descends Earlier Than Necessary—Ex-Mayor of Cincinnati His Guest.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 15.—Winning the Lahm cup for the longest flight made in a balloon under the auspices of the Aero Club of America and breaking all speed records for long-distance flights, A. Holland Forbes, of New York, and former Mayor Max Fleischmann, of Cincinnati, landed this afternoon at 12:45 in Chesterfield county, 20 miles south of Richmond. The trip was made in the balloon New York, which Mr. Forbes won the duration contest in the Indianapolis contest.

Mistake as to His Location. Starting from the gas works in St. Louis at 5:30 Tuesday afternoon, the distance of 731 1/4 miles was made in 19 hours 15 minutes, at an average rate of 38 miles an hour.

The balloon passed Lynchburg at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Soon after noon an apparently large body of water was seen ahead and a large town came into view below. Mr. Forbes and his companion, realizing the fast time they were making thought the water might be Chesapeake Bay and the city of Norfolk, and adjudged it better to descend before the ocean was reached.

The hazy weather helped to deceive the aeronauts in this respect, and it was not until after a landing was effected that they discovered that the town was Petersburg and the water James River.

Forbes Going to New York. Mr. Forbes and Mr. Fleischmann came to Richmond as soon as they could get their balloon to a railroad point. Mr. Fleischmann left for his home in Cincinnati while Mr. Forbes will take the train for New York, after spending the night at a hotel here.

The new possessor of the coveted Lahm cup, who is head of the Forbes Publishing Company of New York, and who during the past few years has become a noted aeronaut, was naturally much elated. He has made about 40 flights in four years.

TO DEDICATE NEW CHURCH

Magnificent $100,000 Catholic Structure Will Be Dedicated Sunday.

Asheville, Oct. 15.—Arrangements are about complete for the dedication here Sunday of the new St. Lawrence Catholic Church, an edifice that cost in the aggregate possibly more than $100,000. The dedicatory service will be in charge of Bishop Hall. There will be many visiting priests and other prominent Catholics here to attend the services and to assist Rev. Father Maron, the beloved head of the church in Asheville.

The greater portion of the dedicatory services will be held outside the church, beginning about 10:45 a. m. The procession will move to the closed doors led by the crossbearer and followed by Bishop Hall and the priests; the doors will be opened and the procession will move down the aisles while the litany is sung. The musical program will be elaborate and in charge of Mrs. O. C. Hamilton, of Asheville. There will be a choir of 25 voices selected from the best musical talent of the city.

The last portion of the church to be completed will be the panel over the entrance. This panel arrived in sections yesterday by express from Boston and will be placed Friday. It will show a figure of Christ and His disciples and will be a beautiful thing.

EVERY MEMBER SHOULD ATTEND

Hon. John H. Small Will Address Chamber of Commerce Tonight.

The Chamber of Commerce will hold an important meeting this evening at their rooms.

Every member should be present. Among the important things to be discussed are corn judging day, soon to come, in which prizes amounting to $500 will be given. Delegates are to be appointed to the Deep Water Association to be held in Norfolk. There is also a factory proposition and a new boat line. The question of a railroad through Bath township is to claim the attention of the chamber.

In addition to the above Hon. John H. Small, will address the chamber on the advantages to Washington of the Free Inland Waterway project. No member should absent himself this evening from this meeting for it might mean untold good to the city.

Jumped Beneath Steam Roller

Asheville, N. C., Oct. 13.—Leaping from behind his team, who was accompanying him on a walk, J. R. Giles, of Wilmington, N. C., inmate of an Asheville sanatorium, jumped fifteen feet beneath a steam roller this afternoon and his head was crushed out of shape by the ponderous wheels of the machine operating on the French Broad River road four miles from Asheville.

Mr. Miles was being treated here for temporary aberration.

IT MAY HAVE SERIOUS EFFECT ON THE FIGHT

The Campaign Warm

Judge Gaynor's Chances for Success in New York Mayoralty Contest Not So Good, Owing to Illness of McCarren.

New York, Oct. 14.—The seething political campaign into which New York has been plunged by the triangular fight for the mayoralty is further complicated this morning by the critical condition of State Senator Patrick H. McCarren, following an operation for appendicitis last night. Whatever the outcome of his illness it is most certain that he will not be back in the battle until it is all over but the shouting. His incapacity is a severe loss to Justice Gaynor, the Democratic candidate, who is reported to have practically been forced upon the Democratic ticket against the wishes of Tammany by the insistence and power of McCarren. Furthermore, it was McCarren who was looked to by his party to meet and overwhelm the efforts of his rival in Brooklyn politics, former Lieutenant Governor Timothy Woodruff. Apparently McCarren has no lieutenant big enough adequately to fill his shoes on such short notice and the situation across the bridge is said to be the most perplexing phase of the Democratic problem today.

The glare of red fire will supplant the electric glow of Hudson-Fulton week from now on till November. All three parties to the contest are making ready to carry their issues onto a whirlwind street campaign with all the old-fashioned accessories, oratory, invective and torchlights. Each of the three leaders in the fight, Otto T. Bannard, fusion-Republican; William R. Hearst, Civic Alliance; and William J. Gaynor, Democratic—is reported to be confident that he has at least a good fighting chance, while the followers of each are far more unshaken in their claims.

The intrusion of Assistant District Attorney Elder, of Brooklyn, into the arena in accusations against Gaynor's integrity as a judge, in support of William M. Tynes' race track legislation charges against Judge Gaynor, evoked no retort from the latter. His friends, however, added another to the charges in the campaign, declaring Mr. Elder to be actuated by the hope to succeed in the election of the Supreme Court bench. According to the judge's friends today, Timothy L. Woodruff and other prominent Republicans of Brooklyn, are to endeavor to persuade Gov. Hughes to confer the office upon Elder.

An indication of the breaking of lines, while Elder was preparing his statement, District Attorney Clarke, of Kings county, Mr. Elder's official chief, was reported to be assuring Judge Gaynor of his support and regret that Mr. Elder had made the attack. After the conference Mr. Clark declared that the judge had advised against Elder's removal from office.

Mr. Evans declared that he had witnessed to Elder's veracity, while Judge Gaynor again refused to notice Mr. Evans.

The first real foretelling of the campaign signaled the political activities of Jacob Riis, sociologist and friend of Coi, Roosevelt, and Louis Zeltner in the interest of the fusion candidate, Otto Bannard, last night, as an accompaniment to an automobile speech-making tour by Mr. Bannard on the eastside.

"The fight is now on me," said Mr. Bannard, in his speeches. "The rest of the fusion ticket is elected."

MCARREN SINKING.

New York, Oct. 14.—It was announced at 2:15 o'clock this morning that State Senator Patrick H. McCarren, of Brooklyn, who was operated on Wednesday night for appendicitis, was sinking. The surgeons at St. Catherine Hospital feared that he would not survive the day.
