STATE NEWS

Condensed-Items of Interest Happening Throughout the State.

The agricultural fair will not be held at the Albemarle park in this city next week as announced, but will be held week after next, beginning on the 26th and ending on the 31st. The management of the fair has secured reduced rates on the N. & S. railway and the various steamboat lines that operate from this city to the points in the district, and large crowds are expected to be in attendance. Secretary Parker states that there is every assurance that this will be the biggest fair ever held here.—Elizabeth City Tar-Hed.

This morning in the chemical laboratory at the State agriculture building Dr. John Butler died while sitting in a chair. He was a brother of Dr. Tall Butler, for years State veterinarian and now one of the editors of the Progressive Farmer. Mr. Butler was a native of Canada and 52 years of age. He was a very accomplished veterinarian and graduate of the greatest agriculture college in Canada. He had been in poor health for a number of years and his death was due to arteria. His death occurred about 5 o'clock and his brother, who is now at Starville, Miss., was immediately notified.

Mr. J. Holmes Davis, president of the Atlantic Yacht Club, was notified yesterday morning that he had been elected one of the vice presidents of the National Power Boat Association, which has headquarters in Cleveland, Ohio. The appointment, which is one of great honor, was made by the executive committee of the association. Many friends of Mr. Davis congratulate him upon the honor conferred in the appointment.—Wilmington Star.

The Board of Aldermen met last night to canvass the returns of last Tuesday's election for the bond issue for the pavement of the streets. They found that the returns corresponded with the first result as printed in this paper: 327 for bonds and 60 against, a majority of 267 votes.—New Bern Journal.

Postmaster R. C. Flanagan has been quite busy the last few days assigning mail boxes in the new post-office and getting things in readiness for moving to new quarters in the Quinerly building. The transfer will be made tonight after the evening mails are closed. Mail will be delivered as usual, tonight at the old office and business will begin at the new office tomorrow morning. The new office is well fitted up and arranged for the handling of mails to advantage. It presents a handsome appearance.—Green City Indicator.

CAPITAL ABOLISHES FREE LUNCHES.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 18.—No more soup, sandwiches, or "hot dog" are to be furnished free to customers in the drink emporiums of the national capital. By unanimous agreement of the Liquor Dealers' Association the time-honored free lunch was abolished today from all of the saloons in Washington.

On complaint of the licensed restaurants the Excise Board intimated to the saloons that it would be well for them to curb their generosity in providing free lunch. The saloons were perfectly willing to comply with the request, especially since the free lunch counter has been a source of ever increasing expense. Now the individual who goes into a saloon to quench his thirst will have only a pretzel or two to satisfy his hunger.

NURSES LEAVE HOSPITAL

Charlotte, N. C., Oct. 16.—Early this morning every nurse in St. Peter's Hospital, except one, walked out of the building, firmly determined never to return, so long as Miss Mary Gardner, of Canada, remained as superintendent of the hospital, and Miss Janette Brown, of New York, as head nurse.

"We left because of ill treatment. The superintendent and the head nurse are from the North, and are always throwing off on Southerners and calling us fools. I suppose it is hot-headedness of the South made us strike, but none of us are sorry for it," was the reason given for the action taken this morning.

A DISAPPEARING ISLAND.

Lake Orion, in the State of Michigan, possesses an extremely curious phenomenon in the form of an island which sinks and reappears above the surface of the water at regular intervals. About the middle of August the mysterious bit of land rises from the depths of the lake, and there it remains until the following February, when it gradually disappears from view. The natives have ceased to wonder at this freak of nature and now receive the visits of this island without comment.

There is a favorite story of several farmers who some years ago attempted to dissuade the island from making its weird appearances. During the early part of the winter, while

The island was above water, these men deposited many loads of field stone upon it. By this means they believed it might be held down and never rise again when once the water had closed above it in February. But the island was not so subjugated so easily, and late in the summer it silently reappeared, free from any trace of the stones.

This island, apparently, is composed of soft mud and rushes, and some scientific persons have declared there is no mystery connected with it. The periodic appearance and disappearance are attributed to the collection of vegetation in one spot by the currents of water and then the subsequent decay of the debris.
