By mistake "He Can't Lose His Wife's Ma" was not shown last night at the Gem, but tonight this interesting and laughable picture will be a feature. The program last night was pleasing, however, and was well patronized. Tonight the "Children of the Desert," a western drama; "The Wooden Indian" and "Little Cyril the Runaway" will be exhibited, besides other pictures. The program for this evening bids fair to be a hummer and all who attend will certainly have no cause for complaint. The Gem Theater grows in popularity nightly. Each evening nearly every seat is occupied. The management is sparing no expense to please and satisfy and they are succeeding. Their programs are meritorious and worthy of patronage. Attend tonight. Buy the tickets and secure your coupons for the candelabra to be given away Friday night.

KILLED UNDER CAR WHEELS. Norfolk, Va., Oct. 19.—On his way home from school and chasing his smaller brother, whose bicycle he was riding across the street car track, LeRoy Hendricks, a colored boy, apparently 14 years old, was run over and almost ground to pieces by a Traction car near the corner of Granby and High streets this afternoon about 2:30 o'clock. The boy's head was crushed and his body badly cut. He died almost instantly. Coroner Knight was notified and after viewing the remains ordered them sent to the morgue. Motorman R. N. Flemming and Conductor J. B. Sullivan, in charge of the car, were placed under arrest and were carried in the second precinct station by bicycle policeman Abbott. The boy was on his way home from school and was met by his younger brother, James, who was riding a bicycle. He persuaded the smaller boy to let him ride the wheel and the two started off together. As they approached High street they started to cross Granby and James struck the front wheel of the bicycle, throwing the rider to the ground and across the track. Before the car could be brought to a standstill the front wheels had passed over the boy, literally cutting him to pieces and dragging his body several feet. A large crowd was attracted to the scene and Patrolman Egis notified police headquarters, from which the patrol wagon was sent. The boy lived on a little street, near Granby, between High and Wilson.
