

ANOTHER M. D. LOCATES HERE

Dr. A. C. Hoyt Has Decided to Make Washington His Home.

Dr. A. C. Hoyt, son of Mrs. Margaret Hoyt and brother of Mr. John K. Hoyt, has decided to locate in Washington for the practice of his profession, the medicine.

Dr. Hoyt will have his office in the rooms formerly occupied by the late Charles F. Warren, Esq., in the Carrow building, Main street, where he will be pleased to see his many friends and all patients desiring his attention.

Dr. Hoyt comes to his home town bearing with him a reputation few of his age possess as a practitioner and surgeon. He is a graduate of the University of Maryland College of Medicine. After graduation he was offered and accepted a position in the University hospital as assistant surgeon for one year, and one year in the maternity hospital. This was quite an honor and shows that Dr. Hoyt possesses merit and skill as a physician.

After leaving the hospital he located in the town of Roanoke Rapids, N. C., where he remained two years; here as elsewhere he gained the confidence of the people so much so that he enjoyed a large and lucrative practice.

Dr. Hoyt was selected by the Atlantic Coast Line as one of its surgeons. This responsible position he filled acceptably and creditably for two years with headquarters at Waycross, Ga. While in the employ of the Coast Line he was assistant surgeon and performed many delicate and difficult operations. His skill with the scalpel is enviable.

During his residence at Waycross his health gave way so he was compelled to give up his practice for a while. For several months he has been recuperating here, his old home.

Finding that his health has been regained and realizing there is no place like old North Carolina, he has decided to cast his lot among his home people.

He will be quite an addition to the already strong corps of physicians Washington enjoys. He is a rising young doctor and the Daily News wishes his every success. He hopes to have his office ready within the next ten days.

CITY ALDERMEN HOLD SESSION

Met in Regular Monthly Meeting Monday Evening at City Hall.

The board of city aldermen met in regular monthly session at the city hall Monday night. The following business was transacted:

Howard Flowers was appointed driver of Hose Company No. 1, at a salary of $30 per month.

Ordered that the cemetery committee report be received and that a vote of thanks be tendered E. R. Nixon for his excellent work.

Ordered that W. D. Morgan be allowed $25 in full settlement for a horse killed by fire hose.

Mr. Seth Bridgman was appointed sinking fund commissioner.

The assistant tax collector was required to give bond in the sum of $1,000.

The regular meetings of the board will begin at 7:30 in the future, instead of 8:00 as heretofore.

The board then adjourned.

Polls Scene of Another Crime

Jackson, Ky., Nov. 2.—Predictions made on the streets early today that only "a man or two" would be killed during the voting in Breathitt county were justified at noon in the Spring Fork precinct, and in a dramatic manner. Tilden Blanton, with his left hand, instantly killed Demosthenes Noble after Noble had crippled Blanton's right arm with a bullet. Noble had previously, according to Blanton, placed a pistol at the breast of two of Blanton's brothers. Noble was a member of a powerful feudal family, a former employe of Judge James Hargis, and complications are expected. Blanton, whose father was Democratic candidate for county attorney, was acting as challenger.

The shots were fired while Blanton was leaning from the window of the voting place. He was carried into Jackson to the home of his father and there tacitly arrested.

AROUND WORLD IN AN AIR SHIP SOON TO COME

Will Stay Up One Year

Prof. Lowe of the Lowe Observatory Says His Airship Can Make 25 Miles an Hour Against a 15 Mile Breeze.

CAN CARRY EIGHT TONS

Union, S. C., Nov. 2.—A plan to circumnavigate the globe in a dirigible balloon without a stop is regarded as practical by Prof. Thaddeus S. C. Lowe, the noted aeronaut and scientist, and head of the Mount Lowe Observatory, near Pasadena, Cal. He is constructing an air craft designed to accomplish this remarkable feat. Prof. Lowe's experience in aeronautics covers more than half a century, and he holds the world's balloon speed record, made in flight from Cincinnati to Pea Ridge, S. C., April 29, 1861, more than 800 miles, in less than nine hours.

Details of Prof. Lowe's plans are made public for the first time in a letter to Allan Nicholson, editor of Progress, a local newspaper.

Referring to his long flight in 1861, Prof. Lowe says:

"It is not sufficient to hold at least the speed record for a long time the aeronautic fraternity will soon have an opportunity to not only surpass this, but will be given a chance to try their skill in keeping up with an airship for which I am now getting out plans, that I believe will circumnavigate the globe without having to stop and replenish the carrying power, hydrogen. The new vessel will be capable of propelling to any part of the globe."

His Can Carry Eight Tons.

"The Zepplin machine, 150 feet long by 60 feet in diameter, has a surface of 22,500 square feet, and, owing to its shape and necessarily cumbersome construction, is unable to carry more than three tons of surplus weight."

"The Lowe airship, 100 feet in diameter, with its great downward taper, has less than 10,000 square feet of surface presented to the wind. Owing to its lighter and still stronger construction, it will carry eight tons of surplus weight. What is meant by 'surplus weight' in both cases is that in addition to fuel and provisions, which surplus is used for freight and passengers."

"With only quarter head wind, the Zepplin can make no headway in a 15-mile breeze, while the Lowe airship can easily make 25 miles against the same wind, and can ascend to the high altitudes and select favorable currents, which the Zepplin cannot do. The Lowe can rise and lower perpendicularly and land on a small surface and rest its heavy weight without the loss of either gas or ballast, and can anchor in any desired spot indefinitely, and resume operation at any time, with the same lifting power, without additional expense of any kind, except that used in propelling the craft."

Could Stay in Air a Year.

"The most important feature of all is being able to do away with expensive balloon houses—as was fully demonstrated with all of the Lowe war balloons, from 1861 to 1867, both for war, scientific, and pleasure purposes. All other air crafts, including balloons of all shapes, as now constructed, have to be housed at great expense, and their gas has to be frequently replenished, also at great expense; while with the Lowe method of construction the balloon war balloon would hold its gas for continuous operation for three months without refilling, while the larger Lowe air craft—built for circumnavigating the globe, if desired—could hold their gas for a year at a time, owing to so vastly less surface in proportion to contents between a sphere 30 feet in diameter, lifting 840 pounds, and one of the 100 feet in diameter, lifting 22,725 pounds."

Prof. Lowe says he expects to have his new airship ready for the initial experiments within the next few months.

WHOLE GET THE DOLL?

The lovely doll now seen in J. K. Hoyt's show window is attracting the attention of all. Some one will secure this beautiful gift on the night of December 24. Each person trading 10c at Hoyt's store secures a vote; if you trade $1 you are entitled to ten votes. Votes are rolling in at this popularemporium daily, and the contest as to who will be the owner of the doll grows more excited all

WOULD TAKE CHARGE OF HEAD AND STOMACH

Says Bishop Candler

He Calls the Rockefeller Hookworm Fund Insult to the South. Is Filled With Wretched Brood of Dirt Eaters.

GIFT DUM-DUM BULLETS

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 2.—Declaring that the gift of $1,000,000 for the investigation and cure of the hookworm disease is an outrage on the South, a slander on this section of the country, and a "dum dum" donation, Bishop Warren A. Candler of the Southern Methodist Church today made a sensational attack on John D. Rockefeller.

"It is to be hoped," said Bishop Candler, "that our people will not be taken in by Mr. Rockefeller's vermin fund and hookworm commission. The habit of stinging out the South for all sorts of reforms, remedies and enlightenment is not for our benefit and the too ready acceptance of these things on the part of some of our people is now to our credit. Mr. Rockefeller would take charge of both our heads and our stomachs, and purge our brains of ignorance and our bowels of worms."

"For some reason self-appointed philanthropists have taken it on themselves to discover and proclaim conditions in the South calculated to create further prejudice against the States and people of the South as to divert immigration and to alarm the resident population."

"A great deal of exertion has been required in the past to establish the fact of the many slanderous charges made against the South, and this section has not yet recovered fully from them. Recently an outcry was made that the Southern people had become the victims of a deadly disease named 'pellagra,' which was charged to the use of Indian corn. The disease has been traced to Southern Europe, where it is common, and later information goes to show that it was imported in the persons of immigrants."

"But the pellagra panic having failed of the expected result now comes a howl about the hookworm. The South is represented to be filled with a wretched brood of dirt eaters. Who that knows the South can for a moment believe this?"

"It is time the Southern people began resenting this officious disposition to take care of them which certain parties are addicted to. Donations may easily, as dum dum bullets wound where they hit and leave a mortal poison in the hole they make after being received. We are certainly able to care care of and to cure our hookworm, without Mr. Rockefeller's million dollar dose of verminage."

The Bishop who was consecrated in 1898, is fifty-two years of age, has been a university president, editor of a religious publication and has written books on Georgia's educational work and other subjects. Last April he declared that the purpose of Andrew Carnegie and John D. Rockefeller in giving $58,000,000 was "to dominate the educational interests of this entire country, and by the bribe of this enormous sum of money they have already partially succeeded."

DEMAND CHANGE IN THE RULES FOR FOOTBALL GAME

Sane Football the Cry

Recent Fatalities Have Aroused the College Presidents and Others Over the Country—A Revision is Necessary.

MASS PLAYS DANGEROUS

The death Sunday of Cadet Eugene A. Byrne, left tackle of the West Point Military Academy team, as the result of injuries received in the Harvard-Academy football game at West Point, and the death of Michael Burke and Roy Spayback, in other games, all played last Saturday, has awakened college presidents throughout the country to the dangers of football under the present system of rules, in which mass plays are allowed. Sentiment among the heads of institutions of learning throughout the country already has crystallized into a demand that a radical change be made in the rules of the game.

Officers of the War and Navy Departments are awaiting official reports from West Point and Annapolis before taking any action in regard to the future of football at these institutions. No report has been received at the War Department on the death of Cadet Byrne. The War and Navy Departments will probably allow the superintendents of these two academies to handle the question.

The abandoning of the football team at West Point will result in the abandonment of the remainder of their schedule and will necessitate the cancellation of the Army-Navy game, which was to have been played on the Saturday after Thanksgiving. Although the Navy Department is leaving the matter to Capt. John M. Boyer, superintendent of the Naval Academy, Beckman Withrop, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, said yesterday that it was probable that the Navy team would complete its present schedule, with the exception of the Army and Navy game.

John C. Kilgo, president Trinity College, Durham, N. C.—I think the game should be abolished from colleges as beneath their character and dignity.

S. C. Mitchell, president of the University of South Carolina, Columbia, S. C.—Revision of football rules is necessary to avoid risks and place skill above force. A more open game, allowing greater strategy, is eminently desirable.

Her American Husband Good

Mr. Cluxton Proves Merit as an Actor—Supported by Excellent Company.

The public school auditorium was packed last evening with an enthusiastic audience to see "Her American Husband," a musical comedy, played by Mr. Walter Cluxton and his company. Art triumphant over conditions was the state of affairs; for the play was enacted without scenery, drops, wings, or curtain, but the audience was well pleased and the laughter and applause was continuous throughout the evening. Mr. Cluxton is an accomplished actor and his recitation of the "Fugate Star" was the most finished and beautiful bit of acting ever seen in this town.

Miss Bessie Brennan, too, is an elocutionist of great accomplishment, and received encore after encore to her Dago songs and recitations.

The musical selections were all pleasing and the company have unusually good voices, but perhaps the best among them is that of Mr. Pelletier, who as McAllister did some of the best work on the stage. His voice, both for singing and speaking, is rich, deep and musical, and it is safe to say that no finer bass voice has been heard here. The violin solo by Miss Catherine Clarke was delightful and much appreciated by the house. All in all, the first of the Lyceum course attractions has come up to the mark and pleased the ticket-holders, who are looking forward with delightful anticipations to the next number, which will be given on the night of the twelfth of this month.

COURT DENIES A REHEARING IN CONTEMPT CASE

Comes As a Surprise

The Supreme Court Has Refused to Grant a Rehearing of the Shipp Contempt Case Up From State of Tennessee.

SYMPATHY IS EXPRESSED

Washington, Nov. 1.—The unusual proceeding of an arraignment for sentence at the bar of the Supreme Court of the United States—will be witnessed two weeks from today, in accordance with an announcement made today in the cases of Joseph H. Shipp, of Chattanooga, Tenn., and five co-defendants, charged with contempt. The court today denied motions for a rehearing of the cases.

The cases originated in the court's decision in MARCH, 1908, to consider the appeal of a negro named Ed Johnson from a verdict of the Tennessee courts, holding him guilty and sentencing him to be hanged on a charge of criminal assault. The night after the determination of the Supreme Court to review the proceedings in the case was wired to Chattanooga, where Johnson was confined in jail, a number of people stormed the jail and took him out and lynched him.

The court was much incensed over the lynching, and at its instance the attorney general instituted proceedings against Shipp, who was the sheriff, and the jailer, and 25 others supposed to have been implicated in the lynching, charging them with contempt of the Supreme court. Many of the accused were exonerated and in the end only six were found guilty. These were Sheriff Shipp, his deputy Jeremiah Gibson, who was the sheriff, Luther Williams, Nick Nolan, Henry Padgett and William Mayes, residents of Chattanooga.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 1.—The news from Washington today to the effect that the Supreme court of the United States had refused to grant a rehearing of the Shipp contempt case was received by Capt. Joseph F. Shipp and his five co-defendants with much surprise. The attorneys for the convicted parties were greatly surprised that the case was on call today, no notification to this effect having been given.

Captain Shipp, after recovering from the shock of the news, said that later he would have something to say but after consulting his attorneys he decided that it was best to preserve silence.

Jeremiah Gibson, the sheriff, who is summoned with the others to appear in Washington November 15 to receive sentence, was almost prostrated by the news. He is 74 years of age.

Attorneys for the defendants are hard at work in the endeavor to discover new evidence, but the time being short, they have little hope of securing anything sufficiently tangible to serve as a further stay.

The feeling expressed in Chattanooga tonight is that of the deepest sympathy and there is an undercurrent of excitement that is somewhat alarming.

MURDER TAKES PLACE AT HAMLET

Hamlet, Nov. 1.—Clam McLendon was shot and mortally wounded by George Boston, a colored man, at the residence here last night. The principals in the affair were both negroes and it seems that the trouble arose over the fact that McLendon was admonishing the other negro for being drunk and was trying to persuade him to go home.

Poston made a dash for the tall timber immediately after the shooting, but evidently could not rest and came back to see how his victim was faring. He was arrested by several negroes and turned over to the officers.

McLendon died this morning about 9 o'clock and Poston was remanded to jail without bond.

WILL RECOVER

The many friends of Mr. Thomas Goethe Woolard will be pleased to learn that his condition is much improved and strong hopes are entertained by his physician and others that he will recover.

Mr. Woolard was struck on the head week before last near his home, Old Ford, by a bumping log which crushed his skull.

TAMMANY'S MAYORALTY CANDIDATE TRIUMPHS EASILY

REST OF TICKET DEFEATED

Hearst Runs Third in Tuesday's Election--Tom Johnson Probably Snowed Under--Virginia is Safely Democratic--Maryland In Doubtful Column.

Democrats Gain in Massachusetts

Elections were held yesterday in many States and cities throughout the country, with varying results, there being no national issue involved to bring about concerted party action.

In Massachusetts the returns up to midnight indicate that Governor Eben Draper, Republican, had been re-elected over James H. Vahey, Democrat, by a greatly reduced majority, estimated at 10,000. Governor Draper's majority last year was 60,000.

In Rhode Island, Governor Pothier, Republican, was re-elected over Onley Arnold, Democrat, by a substantial majority.

In Virginia the early returns indicate that the Democratic ticket, headed by Judge Mann for governor, had been elected by about the usual majority.

In New York city, which has been the storm center of the State, Tammany Hall scored a decisive triumph in the mayoralty election, Judge William J. Gaynor, the Democratic nominee, supported by Tammany, rolling up a plurality of upward of 70,000 over Otto Bannard, Republican, who, in turn, led Wm. R. Hearst, by approximately 25,000.

In Philadelphia, another battleground on reform issues, Samuel P. Rotan, Republican, was elected district attorney over D. Clarence Giboney, representing the law and order society, and the reform element. Roban's majority exceeded that in a previous reform campaign, being estimated at upward of 30,000.

The Pennsylvania State elections, for treasurer, auditor general and judge of the Supreme court, resulted in the usual Republican majority.

The returns from San Francisco, where reform issues are uppermost, are meagre up to midnight, and give no indications of the outcome.

In Maryland the constitutional amendment, disfranchising the negro is still in doubt, the Baltimore vote being strongly against the amendment, while returns from the interior indicate increasing strength for the amendment.

Mayor Tom Johnson, the picturesque mayor of Cleveland, has been defeated by a decisive majority by Herman Baehr, Republican.

In Indianapolis, where the temperance issue has figured, Lewis Shank, Republican, is elected over Charles A. Gauss, Democrat.

Battle is Defeated.

GUN CLUB SCORES, SEASON 1909.

Below are given the season averages and scores, made by members of the Pamlico Gun Club, in the season of 1909. Mr. T. H. Clark, with an average of $32 per cent, won the loving cup to the high gun. Mr. J. C. H. Sterling, Jr., with an average of 74.3 per cent, won the DuPont Handicap trophy, a bronze statuette of the famous dog, Joe Canning, given to

Mr. Sterling's average in the handicap was 93 per cent.

T. H. Clark, 83.2; L. A. Squires, 55.3; Smith Paul, 61.1; C. H. Sterling, Jr., 74.3; G. B. Hardy, 65.1; C. M. Williams, 55.5; A. M. Dumay, 63; Herman Carrow, 61.9; F. S. Worthy, 67.3; William Rumley, 58.7; P. P. Maxwell, 55.5; R. T. Gallagher, 59; J. D. Eborn, 62.4; J. H. Bryan, 19 per cent.

The following shooters qualified for the DuPont handicap, won by Mr. Sterling:

C. H. Sterling, Jr., 93; Wm. Rumley, 91.9; A. M. Dumay, 91.5; P. P. Maxwell, 90.5; L. A. Squires, 89 per cent.

A CURIOSITY.

Mr. W. P. Randolph is quite a raiser of flowers and his sample of nasturtium measuring 15 feet in length is indeed a curiosity. This variety of nasturtium seeds were around here measuring over a foot inches.

AMENDMENT DEFEATED

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 2.—After midnight Republican State Chairman Hanna estimates that the amendment is defeated in city and State by from 6,000 to 10,000, this estimate being based upon meagre returns.

Democrat Gain.

Democrat Gain.

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2.—It is many years since Massachusetts voters were evenly divided on the question of State government as in today's election. With about two-thirds of the State accounted for, Governor Draper, Republican, will apparently have a margin over his Democratic opponent, James H. Vahey, of about 10,000, compared with 60,000 a year ago. It also appeared that Lieutenant Governor Frothingham, Republican, had been elected by about the same plurality, although last year he swamped the State, leading Governor Draper and defeating his Democratic opponent by over 90,000.

Virginia.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 2.—Early returns from all over the State indicate that the Democratic ticket, headed by Judge Mann for governor, has been elected by about the usual majority.

The indications are that B. O. James, the eleventh hour nominee of the Democrats for secretary of the commonwealth, is keeping up very well with the rest of his ticket.

Claims Johnson is Defeated.

Cleveland, Nov. 2.—City Treasurer Carl H. Nau (Democrat) has notified Mayor Johnson (Democratic) that Baehr (Republican) has carried the city by 1,000. The mayor does not concede this.

The preliminary hearing in the case of State vs. J. B. Whitehurst for an attempted assault on Mr. K. A. Aldridge with a gun, was held yesterday at the Springer Lumber Company store before Justices J. M. Measure and W. T. Cooney. Mr. Whitehurst, through his attorney, waived examination and gave bond for his appearance at the next term of Beaufort county court.

Mr. W. A. Thompson, the attorney for Mr. Whitehurst, while appearing in the case was taken very ill, but in little while he was able to be carried to his home in Aurora. He is much better today.
