ANOTHER OPEN LETTER.
Greenville, N. C., November 11, 1909.

To O. L. Joyner:
Sir—Something like 14 days ago I wrote you an open letter, challenging you to meet me in the courthouse at Greenville, on a public issue you are conducting with the people of North Carolina, setting forth a bill of indictment very clearly which I am ready to defend at any time. Not having heard anything from you, I will state that unless you set a date soon, then I will, as I am determined to be heard, and am standing pat on the proposition.

Yours, etc.,
J. R. HUCHINGS.
