Parties leaving town should not fail to let the News follow them daily with the news of Washington fresh and crisp. It will prove a valuable companion, reading to you like a letter from home.

All articles sent to The News for publication must be signed by the writer, otherwise they will not be published.

The artist who arranged the danger signs on Main and Water streets for the purpose of warning pedestrians against loss of life, should prosecute his talent to the limit. It was well gotten up. He deserves the thanks of the public for his thoughtfulness.

The weather bureau is still playing hide and seek with the weather. Why don't they come out in the open and show something tangible. This way of saying "unsettled weather" is too ambiguous.

All right, you Republicans and Socialists—you just remain on the land where you belong. The G. O. P. will not be driven from the field. They will be counted and they will be counted for too.

The latest scheme the Daily News reported has for ascertaining when a fellow is visiting in the city is to look for his railroad pass check in his hat. He gives the paper man an opportunity to learn that he is a stranger without asking him so.

All the elections have been held all over the world, and the result is the same. The result of the war, everything is ready, the hand has been dealt, and the game will soon begin to heat for their favorites. The winner's prayer will be heard early by the people.

The man who will be the next president of the United States is the man who will be the next president of the United States.

Marked names in this list will be taken to the office and thirty magazines in Washington this fall. This is surely an important duty for the prospective subscribers must have the magazine when he is put into himself at the end of the year.

My Ann, the fly Pontiac, has been to stir the middle waters in the Republican camp these days. Evidently he has gained at least one of the ears of the Billy Taft for his man got the permission. The other fellows seemed to have received it where the chicken was allged to have gotten the axe.

The water works in this city are beginning to show signs of improvement.

Small mice that cannot be caught in a trap may be disposed of by spreading sticky fly paper in places frequented by them.

Man wants, but little here below, but woman wants everything that other women have.

What would you advise a fellow to do that is broke?
