Phonograph of Children
 Parents should remember that every disturbing, bloodcurdling story told to a child, every superstitious fear instilled into its young life, and their mental attitude toward the child, their whole treatment of it, are simply making phonographic records in its nature which will be reproduced with scientific exactness in its future life, says Orison Hewitt Marston in Success Magazine. Whenever you do, never punish a child when it is suffering with fear. It is a cruel thing to punish children the way most mothers do nowadays, but to punish a child when it is already quivering with terror, and especially when you are angry, is terrible. The same principle applied to punishing children in school.

Monks in War
 The first man, so far as history can speak on the subject, to do anything to mitigate the hardness of the usage of war was Marcus Aurelius, the noblest of the Roman emperors. Of this distinction says a Quaker writer, "Marcus Aurelius first resolutely maintained that certain inalienable rights belonged to every soldier simply as a man, which rights capture by the sword or any other accident of war could do nothing to shake or diminish." Modern humanitarianism in war dates from about the beginning of the eighteenth century.

Coroners in England
 In early times the coroner in England was a revenue officer of the crown, and his business was to find out the criminals, extort their confessions and confiscate their goods to the crown. From records it appeared that King Alfred had a predilection for hanging his coroners because they did what was unjust.

At the present time practically the only office of coroners is to hold inquests on dead bodies and on treasury treasuries and to pronounce judgment in outlawry.—London Telegraph.

PERSONAL MENTION

Gathered Here and There by a Daily News Man.

Mrs. Daniel G. Fovis and children who have been visiting Mrs. Fovis's mother, Mrs. Apple Moore, has returned to her home.

Mr. John T. Bell went to Washington this morning on business.

Mrs. A. S. Fuller has returned from Beaufort where she attended the opening ceremonies of the Beaufort canal.

Ex-Sheriff E. J. Clark of Littleton, N. C., is in the city the guest of Dr. and Mrs. P. A. Nicholson at the corner of Market and Fourth streets.

Mrs. W. J. Hunch and children who have been residing in the city for the past several months, left today for Beaufort to make that place their future home.

The many friends of Mr. Jack Reed of Plymouth, N. C., are glad to see him in the city. No more popular Knight of the Grip comes to this city. Mr. Reed was at one time manager of the Nicholson Hotel.

Rev. C. E. Lee of Bunyan was in the city today between trains on his way to Swainsland to marry a couple.

Mrs. W. C. Ayers and daughter, Miss Ruth of Plymouth, who have been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Ayers on Market street, left for their home today.

Editor James L. Mayo of the Daily News and son, Lacy, went to South Creek yesterday afternoon.

Rev. H. C. Bowen left for his home in Belhaven yesterday afternoon.

The Retort Legal

"Sometimes the law seems unjust for the reason that it isn't comprehended," said a judge. "Take the case of the woman prisoner before Sir Edward Coke. This woman appeared in court with her hat on. The judge said sternly:—

"A woman may be covered in church, but not when arraigned in a court of justice."

"To this the woman replied:—

"It seems singular that I may wear my hat in the presence of God, but not in the presence of man."

"And she would appear, in her legal ignorance, to have got the better of the argument until Sir Edward Coke retorted:—

"It isn't singular at all. Man, with his weak intellect, cannot discover secrets known to God, and therefore in investigating truth the court must see all obstacles put aside. Accordingly it is fitting that the prisoner's hat be removed and that the shadow that dwarts on her face."

He Didn't Like Connecticut

"I have always had a mild interest," said the lawyer, "in the origin of the Connecticut Yankee's reputation, but I had no idea that it extended so far back until I ran across in the surrogate's office the other day the will of Lewis Morris of Morrisania, made in 1702 and admitted to probate in 1702."

"It is my line that my son, Governor Morris, may have the best education that is to be had in England or America, but my Express Will and Directions are that he be never sent for that purpose to the Colony of Connecticut, least he should imbibe in his youth that low craft and cunning so incident to the people of that country, which is so interwoven in their constitutions that all their art cannot disguise it from the world, the many of them under the sanctified garb of Religion have endeavored to impose themselves on the World for honest men."—New York Sun.

Saves Two Lives

"Neither my sister nor myself might be living today, if it had not been for Dr. King's New Discovery," writes A. D. McDonald, of Fayetteville, N. C., R. F. D. No. 8, "for we both had frightful coughs that no other remedy could help. We were told my sister had consumption. She was very weak and had night sweats but your wonderful medicine completely cured us both. It's the best I ever used or heard of." For sore lungs, coughs, colds, hemorrhage, lagrippe, asthma, hay fever, croup, whooping cough, all bronchial troubles, its supreme. Trial bottle free. 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed by Dr. Hardy's Drug Store. 1-31

Taken Down a Peg

While one thing essential to a cultured lawyer is a thorough knowledge of Latin, it is not necessary, said a judge, that he should parade his classical knowledge, for he might be "taken down a peg," as was the young lawyer who displayed his learning before an Arkansas jury. His opponent replied: "Gentlemen of the jury, the young lawyer who just addressed you has romanced with Romulus, dined with Cantharides, ripped with Euripides, soaked with Socrates, but what does he know about the laws of Arkansas?"—Case and Comment.

Speaking of Color

She-Girls seem to have the color sense better developed than boys, according to experiments recently conducted in the schools of Cologne, Germany. He—But when it comes to hair boys stick to one color longer.—Youkers Statesman.

Sumptuary Laws of Cape Town

Cape Town, since it had had no severe code of sumptuary laws that anything like display was restricted to the governor and his household circle. This runs contrary to the Dutch laws against luxury and ostentation: "No one less in rank than a justice merchant and those among the citizens of equal rank and the wives and daughters only of those who are or have been members of any council shall wear the restricted possession and use of umbrellas to about fifty persons in Cape Town."

Solves a Deep Mystery

"I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote E. Hader, of Lewisburg, W. Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of rheumatism, from which I had been an almost helpless sufferer for ten years. It saved my life as though made just for me." For dyspepsia, indigestion, jaundice and to rid the system of kidney poisons that cause rheumatism, Electric Bitters has no equal. Try them.
