(Staff Correspondent.)
The delegates named by the convention to the National convention at Baltimore are generally all favorable to the candidacy of Gov. Woodrow Wilson for the presidency but they go to Baltimore unfettered by any instruction. It appeared to be the sentiment of the convention that Governor Wilson is the logical man.

The first ballot of the convention was over the Lieutenant Governorship. The nominees were John D. Hlaw, of Cumberland; J. D. Boushaff, of Wake; Walter M. Daniel, of Halifax; K. T. Mayne, of Robeson; K. L. Daughtridge, of Nash.

The first ballot taken showed the following result: Boushaff 109 and 74-100; Daniel 226 and 78-160; Daughtridge 223 and 74-100; Mayne 150 and 84-100; Shaw 223 and 18-100.

There were 976 votes in the convention and the chair announced that no nomination had been made. A second ballot was taken and showed a considerable change in favor of Daniel, his vote being 344 and 62-100. The next highest candidate was Shaw with a vote of 245, and 44-100. There was some lively rooting after this ballot had been announced, there were calls for a McRay and Shaw consolidation and the third ballot was taken. The feature of this ballot was a great speech by Sanford of Hoke, who said that Shaw was entirely in favor of the farmer's candidate, K. L. Daughtridge. This ballot showed a still greater increase in the vote for Daniel. After this ballot a motion was made to adjourn for one hour for supper. The Daniel delegates opposed this motion and upon roll call it was overwhelmingly defeated and the fourth ballot proceeded with Daniel within 31 votes of the post. But on the fifth ballot there was a mighty slump. Daniel lost 60, reducing his vote to 283 and 47-100 while Daughtridge's vote was increased to 315 and 85-100. All the other candidates showed a great falling off on this ballot, were practically out of the running. Upon the announcement of the vote the Daniel sympathizers were shouting their heads, they had failed to take the hour's counsel which had been offered to them. The fifth ballot began with an effort by 101, the Daniel and Daughtridge forces to outstep the resolution, but neither was successful except to do so. It is thought the Simmons-Kitchin combination had entered into the contest. The Kitchin forces lined up for Daniel and the Simmons supporters for Daughtridge. Mr. Daniel was on the floor and within the hour the process of the election was over. The Simmons forces were the way and prevailed. It was evident that Daughtridge was gaining and that the Simmons forces were about to be defeated. The Simmons forces were the way and prevailed. It was evident that Daughtridge was gaining and that the Simmons forces were about to be defeated.

Daughtridge speaks. Before the secretaries could add the roll a party of Daughtridge men bore him on their shoulders. The calculation was soon made and the vote announced as follows: Daughtridge 593 and 85-100; Daniel 279 and 33-100; Shaw 99 and 12-100. Mr. Daughtridge was declared the nominee for Lieutenant Governor.

The platform in his remarks said: I am a farmer as has been said and I am now supporting my wife and seven children from its products. (Amplified). I shall know no class in my representation on the state ticket. I am proud of being a farmer and proud to be on the ticket with that great democrat Locke Craft.

The next and most bitter fight came up when the platform was read by Cameron Morrison which is as follows:

The Majority Platform.

The platform as submitted by the majority of the platform committee late last night was as follows:

We, the representatives of the Democratic party, in convention assembled, reaffirm our devotion to the time honored principles of constitutional government, as established by the fathers of the republic, and to the still greater principles of human equality, as proclaimed by Jefferson, with equal rights to all and special privileges to none, and hereby declare:

We favor an income tax. We favor the election of senators by a direct vote of the people. We oppose subsidies in any form. We favor publication of campaign funds both before and after primaries, conventions and elections.

Corruption in Elections.
We condemn the corrupt use of money, or other corrupt means to influence voters in primaries, conventions and elections, and we favor the enactment of such criminal laws as will effectively prevent such practices.

Public Roads and Natural Resources.
We favor the improvement of our public roads and highways, wise and reasonable drainage laws, and the conservation of all our natural resources.

Trusts and Monopolies.
We are opposed to, and demand the suppression of trusts and monopolies, and favor the enactment of such laws in both state and nation, with such necessary machinery and powers, as will make their existence impossible. We believe that guilt is personal, as well as corporate, and we demand that all anti-trust laws be enforced both by the civil and criminal processes of our courts.

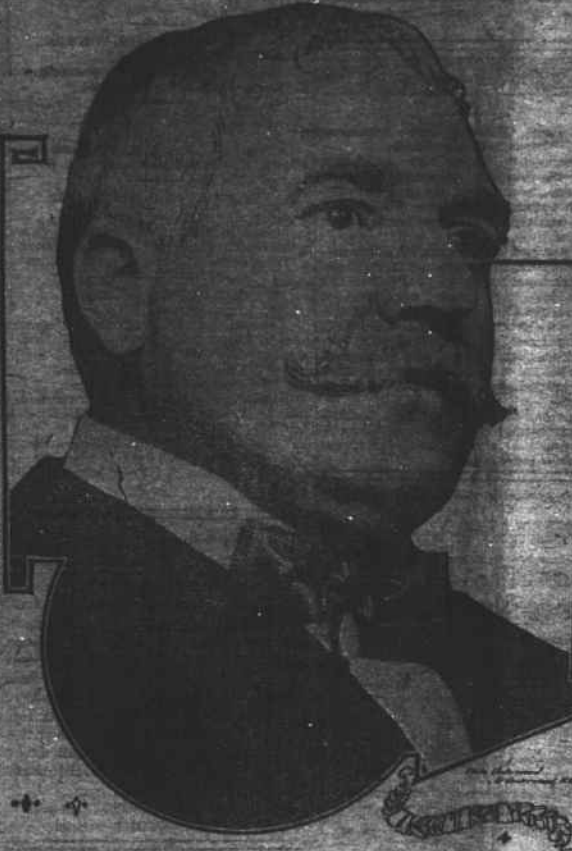

Tariff.
We denounce protection, as a robbery of the many to enrich the few, and we favor a tariff limited to the needs of the government, economically administered, and so levied as not to discriminate against any industry, class or section, to the end that the burden of taxation shall be distributed as equally as possible.

We favor a revision and reduction of the tariff to a revenue basis by the friends of the masses and for the commonwealth, and not by the friends of the abuses, its distortions and its discriminations, keeping in view the ultimate end of equality of taxation and the constitutional purpose of raising a revenue by taxation, to the support of the Federal Government in all of its interests and activities, but in no wise to be increased or represented in Congress.

We heartily endorse the record of our Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the United States, and the administration of our state's affairs by our Governors and other state officers.

We have faith and confidence in the intelligence and patriotism of the people of the State, and in the intelligent development of our untapped natural resources, and we will support any program which shall be of administration of the Democratic party. We favor the continued support and increased efficiency of the public school system in the state, and the enlargement of the opportunities of the children of the state to obtain an education, and we favor an increase length of public schools as will foster an interest in country life and furnish better preparation for more profitable farming and more comfortable living in the country.

HAS RECONSIDERED RESIGNATION TO SCHOOL BOARD ON MAY 31

Refuses Flattering Offer Elsewhere. Trustees Made a Material Increase in Superintendent's Salary. His Intention to Remain in Washington Gratiifying to the Entire City.

Superintendent N. C. Newbold, of the Washington Public Schools is to remain in Washington. This decision was reached by him yesterday afternoon and so stated to the meeting of the board of school trustees held at the school building.

Some weeks ago Mr. Newbold received a flattering offer to go elsewhere and after looking over the field decided to accept the offer. In consequence of his determination to leave here and at a meeting of the school trustees on May 31 he tendered his resignation as superintendent of schools.

The board prevailed upon Mr. Newbold to reconsider his determination and proposed to him a material increase in salary to remain. They further suggested that he take the matter under advisement for several days and then render his final decision. Mr. Newbold on yesterday, as already stated, made his answer and it was that he had decided to remain in Washington.

There has been a rumor on the streets for the past several days that Superintendent Newbold had resigned to accept a more flattering offer but the rumor could not be verified at the time. Mr. Newbold was approached with the matter by the Daily News but he gave no answer sufficient to form a conclusion whether he had decided to leave Washington or not.

That he has decided to remain in Washington as superintendent of the Public Schools will not only be received with joy by the entire student body and the teachers, but the entire citizenship as well. The school under his management has progressed and forged ahead under all lines and his departure for another field just at this time would have been a public calamity.

Washington could not afford to release him. He has done a wonderful work in this city for education.

Mr. Newbold was seen this morning by a representative of the Daily News and when asked for an expression he gladly gave out the following:

Mr. Newbold said: "This is the first time I have ever asked the privilege of making a personal statement through the newspapers, but in order to give definite information to my friends in Washington, I have thought it wise to make the frank and open statement which follows:

"I hasten to state it is not given with the idea of any special importance attaching to the matter so far as I am concerned but simply to inform my friends definitely and at once about the situation.

"I was offered a position last September and asked by the party making the offer, to request the board here to release me. For satisfactory reasons I declined the offer.

"On April 16, 1912, another position was offered me which pays $2,250.00 salary a year. After a trip to New York and Virginia, concerning the work offered, I decided to accept the offer but reserved my decision until after a conference with our local school board. The board met on May 31. I stated the facts of the new position to them, and then tendered my resignation as superintendent of schools here. Rather than accept the resignation and make a change in superintendents at this time, the board offered me a very material increase in salary to remain in Washington. Having made up my mind to leave I could not give a definite acceptance, so the board suggested that I consider the matter a day or two. I agreed to this proposition.

After consulting the parties interested in the offer on April 16, who thought perhaps I ought to respond to the local call and continue as superintendent here although the salary is not so large.

Yesterday P. M., after considerable discussion the board renewed their offer stating that they thought it wise to stick to the proposition made on May 31.

Their offer was accepted and I shall remain in Washington. Under these new conditions I shall hope for renewed co-operation on the part of our citizens.

REV. DENNIS W. DAVIS DIED THIS AFTERNOON

The condition of Rev. Dennis Davis, former pastor of the Christian Church here, is not so well today. The end is expected at any time. Mr. Davis was brought here yesterday from Mackays, where he lives, for treatment. His condition is a source for regret from his large number of friends throughout the city and county. He is one of the most brilliant preachers of his church in the state.
