HAS SAVED 300 LIVES IN EIGHTEEN YEARS

CAPT. McWILLIAMS A CITY VISITOR FROM PORTSMOUTH

Brought Life-Saving Boat
Here for Repairs at the Marine Railways.

HIS LIFE STORY ONE OF INTEREST

Accompanied by Capt. W.
Roberts Another Hero of the Sea.

Uncle Sam's latest Life-Saving boat is now in port from the Portsmouth, N. C. Life Saving Station. The boat was ordered by the government to this city to go on the marine railways for painting and other repairs. The work of painting was finished this afternoon at the Chesapeake railways and she was re-launched and will return to her station tomorrow. The boat which is a beauty and attractive in every way has been visited by a large number of citizens since her arrival. She is the crowning feat of the government for saving life and since her arrival at the station has already figured in more rescues than one.

Captain Charles S. McWilliams in charge of the Portsmouth Life Saving Station and his first assistant Captain Washington Roberts, are here with the boat. Captain McWilliams although young in years is a veteran in the life saving service. For eighteen years he has been engaged in the work and for the past nine years he has held the responsible position as custodian of the station. Captain McWilliams has the distinction of saving over three hundred lives during his career and during the past year forty persons were rescued by him from the outside. We doubt if there is a man in this noble service on the entire Atlantic coast, certainly not of his age, who can boast of a better record. It is a record to be proud of.

The station since Captain McWilliams assumed charge is one of the most complete on the entire coast and its record for service under his management has been of the very best. Captain Washington Roberts, first assistant at the station is a brother of Captain David Roberts of this city. He too has seen many years on the coast and he also has been the means of bringing many to the beach in safety.

The boat these gentlemen have here or repairs is a new 36-foot improved life saving boat of 30-horsepower motor. She has a speed of 12 miles per hour and is non-sinkable. She is the very latest patent for this character of work. It would pay any citizen to visit her and see what a wonderful piece of mechanism she is.

MISS JULIA MAYO AT HOME YESTERDAY

Miss Julia Mayo entertained her Sunday School class at her home, corner of Second and Bridge Streets yesterday afternoon. Many interesting and laughable games were played and all present enjoyed themselves to the fullest. Miss Pearl O'Neal was awarded the prize for pinning on the Duke's hat. Refreshments were served. All left for their respective homes voting Miss Mayo many thanks for a charming afternoon. Those present were: Annie Harris, Ruth Mayo, Thelma Baker, Ruby Swindell, Bonner Swindell, Sybil Bramby, Pearl O'Neal, Mary C. Bland, Elsie Harris, Rosalie Morgan, Annie Laura Bishop.

IS IMPROVING

The many friends of Mr. M. A. Smith will be pleased to learn that his condition is more favorable today and unless something unforeseen happens he will soon be out again. Mr. Smith has been confined to his room since Sunday last with an attack of

TWO PARTY PLATFORMS DIFFERENT

That of Democrats Specific and Definite. No Attempt Made to Evade.

Special to the Daily News.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12.—There is a vast difference between the platform adopted by the Republicans at Chicago and the Democrats at Baltimore. The Republican platform is thoroughly reactionary and standpat. It does not concede that the last Republican administration have erred in their tariff policy, notwithstanding the almost universal verdict of the country to the contrary. This platform still prates about "protecting American workmen," and "maintaining the American standard of wages," when every citizen with a grain of intelligence knows that both of these are shame and hypocrisies. The Republican platform also is evasive, so that in the remote event of Republican success at the polls it could be interpreted in any way the high tariff bosses might want it interpreted.

The Democratic platform, on the other hand, is specific and definite. It pledges the party to an exact policy, without any attempt at evasion. It promises, not to "revise the tariff" but to "revise it downward." The wording is so plain and so definite that a child could understand its meaning and intent. Here, briefly, are some of the important promises in the Democratic document:

1. A tariff for revenue only. Immediate revision downward. Trust controlled products to go on the free list.
2. Civil and criminal prosecution of trusts. Laws to stop monopoly and stock watering. Amendment to make the Sherman law effective.
3. A demand for the ratification of the amendments for an income tax and direct election of Senators.
4. Publicity for all recommendations on which Presidential appointments are made; for the ownership of newspapers, and for all campaign funds in national elections.
5. Presidential primaries and popular election of national committeemen. The use of money by corporations at elections to be made unlawful.
6. A single term for president.
7. Supervision of railroad, telegraph, telephones and express rates.
8. Laws to improve rivers and prevent floods.

LAST REPORT ON DREADED HOOKWORM

The last Quarterly Report of the State Director of the campaign against hookworm disease shows that the names, post office addresses, ages, etc., of 47,906 persons who have been treated for hookworm disease by the States Board of Health's representatives are on file in Raleigh. In addition more than 1,300 general practitioners representing every county in the state have sent in written reports which are also on file of treating 35,752 persons for the disease, making a total to July 1, 1912, of 83,658 treated persons.

Forty-three counties have made small appropriation providing for the local expense of free treatment for all infected applicants, the sum total of which is $10,100. The county free dispensary campaigns are now in progress in Wilkes, Catawba, Jones and Gaston Counties. The work in Burke, Caldwell and Surry Counties is open spots. Lincoln and Lee are the last two counties to provide for the valuable and popular free treatment.

HAS RETURNED

The many friends of Mrs. W. C. Ellis, who left in February last, for an extended visit to relatives and friends at Long Island, New York and Pittsburg, are pleased to know of her return this week.

OLD CO. OFFICERS SHOULD DECLARE THEIR INTENTION

RESOLUTION PASSED TWO YEARS AGO

Resolved that rotation in office is one of the cardinal principles of the Democratic party; that all the people should share equally in the emoluments of office so far as practicable and that long tenure in office by any individual or set of individuals tends to weaken the strength of our party and to create cliques and factions in our party, which is injurious to the party as a whole; and whereas, the good of party is more to be desired than the enrichment of any member thereof, Now Therefore, Be it Resolved: That we do declare ourselves in favor of no county officer holding more than two terms in succession.

Mr. Editor:—

Replying to the numerous inquiries I have received from different sections of the county relative to a resolution I introduced in the Democratic County Convention in 1910. It was to restrict the county officers to a two term policy, which was passed by acclamation. The true meaning of this resolution was to apply to the present "long termers," but as no law, it is rumored the present incumbents are claiming another term under this resolution. I have also heard from reliable sources they are not willing to be bound by this resolution. As there seems to be some misunderstanding or confusion along this line, I, as an individual Democratic voter, having the welfare of the party and good government, more at heart than the interest of any individual candidate I think it wise for the party to give Messrs Rumley and Ricks another term for the sake of peace and harmony, providing they will agree to be bound by the resolution above referred to and in justice to the good people of Beaufort County, we ask them to express their intentions through the columns of our county papers so the voters and promoters of the said resolution will know where they stand. I write the above with the best of feeling for all parties concerned, but I sincerely think public sentiment demands it.

I have also talked with some of the candidates who are aspirants for the positions now held by the present officers, who state they are perfectly willing to withdraw from the contest this year, providing the above parties will make the announcement through the press of the county, that they will be bound by the above resolution.

Very respectfully,
L. H. REDDITT.

TO LEAVE FOR NEW HOME

Captain R. B. Corvell and family expect to leave for Sanford, Florida, tomorrow to make it their future home. The best wishes of all their numerous friends go with them.

G. T. MAYO ESCAPES A SERIOUS ACCIDENT

Mr. Grover T. Mayo, the efficient and accommodating Deputy Clerk of the Superior Court, came near meeting with a serious accident while enroute to his home on Main Street, Wednesday afternoon. One of the electric wires had broken and been wound around the pole near the ground. Mr. Mayo in passing the pole received a severe shock so much so that he was knocked to the ground. Fortunately he was not burned or bruised in any way—his only inconvenience being a sore foot. Mr. Mayo states that when he received the shock for some unaccountable reason the wire unwound itself from the pole and jumped across the street and struck his wife, but she received no injury. It was a narrow escape.

MILITARY BOYS BACK FROM ENCAMPMENT

Company "G", forty-five strong under the command of Lieutenant B. B. Ross returned this morning via the Norfolk Southern train from their annual encampment at Camp Glenn, Morehead City, where they have been for the past ten days. The members enjoyed themselves immensely and state that their outing was the best yet. The company made an excellent showing in every way and was the recipient of much praise from the officers in charge.

GOOD PICTURES AT LYRIC LAST NIGHT

The pictures at the Lyric Theater last evening were very creditable and were seen by a large and appreciative audience. The management is certainly "delivering the goods" these hot nights both in attractive and interesting pictures and a cool breeze. The Lyric is a popular retreat for after supper and many take advantage of the opportunity.

I. O. O. F. MEETING

There will be a meeting of Pamlico Encampment No. 22 at their hall this evening at eight o'clock. A full attendance is requested as business of importance is to be transacted.

CONDITION NO BETTER

The condition of Mrs. Bettie Rollins, who is critically ill at the Washington Hospital, is reported as no better today.

J. K. HOYT'S MERCHANT TAILOR will be here with his fall line Monday. Have your measure taken and a fit guaranteed.

MAY SOLVE MYSTERY OF THE MURDER

Deslovers Says he is Inno- cent and Still Adheres to Original Story.

Special to the Daily News.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., July 12.—The authorities are hopeful that when Henri Deslovers is given a preliminary hearing in court tomorrow some facts may be brought to light that will help to solve the headless body mystery which has greatly agitated all this section of New England for several weeks past. Deslovers has been under arrest since June 30, three days after the decapitated body of Angeline Parmentier, with whom he had been living, was found in the Blackstone river. Though the head of the victim has never been recovered, her identity was established by the finding of a bundle of clothes on the river bank a few hundred yards from where the body was first seen.

Deslovers continues to maintain his innocence of the murder of which he is suspected. He adheres to his original story that the woman disappeared on June 4 and that he did not see her after the early morning of that date. In contradiction of these statements several neighbors are expected to testify at the hearing that the man and woman were heard quarrelling on the day the murder is supposed to have occurred and that the couple were seen walking towards the river on the evening of June 4. From this walk the woman is believed never to have returned.

APPROPRIATION FOR PUBLIC BUILDING

The work of constructing the second story of Washington's new public building has begun. The material for this story will be red brick. Senator Overman has just had passed in the United States Senate a bill which carries with it an appropriation of $37,000 for the completion of the building here.

MUTUAL MACHINE CO. ENLARGING THEIR PLAN

The Mutual Machine Company is now engaged in enlarging its main building at the corner of Water and Harvey Streets. The addition is being erected for the purpose of repairing automobiles etc.

Mr. P. Orleans has nearly completed the alterations to the store building formerly occupied by Mr. E. H. Satterthwaite on Market Street. Mr. Orleans will open a branch dry-goods store there.

BALED HAY THE MOST VALUABLE

G. H. Alford of Atlanta. Writes Most Interesting of the Care of This Well-Known and Essential Farm Product.

(BY G. H. ALFORD)

Special to the Daily News.

ATLANTA, GA., July 12.—Below is given a few reasons why hay should be baled:

1. Baled hay is much more valuable as a feed than loose hay, even when the loose hay is well housed.
2. Loose hay carries a great quantity of dust and often gives the farm animals a severe cough while baled hay does not.
3. Baled hay takes up about one-fifth as much room as loose hay and for this reason the entire crop of baled hay can usually be stored under cover while loose hay must be exposed to the weather in stacks and ricks.
4. Baling breaks up coarse hay so that the stock will eat it more readily and there is not waste in feeding baled hay.
5. Baled hay is always ready for the market. It is convenient and satisfactory to handle in every way. It can be hauled by team or shipped by railroad.
6. Much of the tops and sides of stacks are spoiled by the weather.
7. Loose hay becomes dusty. Baling keeps out the dust and preserves the hay.
8. Baled hay retains much of the sweet hay odor that stock relish. There's a freshness and appetizing quality and feed value in baled hay that is never found in loose hay.

We should bale our hay whether we feed it on our farms or sell it. Of course, the market demand is for baled hay and for baled hay only and for this reason baling is the only way to be sure of having a market for it.

The growing of hay and especially leguminous hays such as cow-peas, soy beans, peanut and lespedeza will rapidly increase the fertility of our soils, make the growing of live stock profitable, and add very much to the income on the farms.

We can buy a one-horse or a two-horse pull-power hay press or we can buy a motor hay press. For the small farmer who bales his own hay, the one-horse pull power hay press will prove satisfactory and economical.

With it, he can bale his hay at the time most convenient and with a small amount of help. For the farmer who grows large quantities of hay or for the farmer who bales hay for the neighbors, the two-horse pull-power or the motor hay press is necessary.

Of course no man can tell exact capacity of any hay press as this depends, to a considerable extent, upon the kind and quality of hay being baled, the skill of the operators, and the speed of the team. However, under ordinary conditions, a 14x18 two-horse pull power hay press will bale about 8 tons per day, a 14x 18 press operated with a 3 horse power engine will bale about 12 tons per day, a 16x18 press with a 4 horse power engine about 14 tons per day, and a 17x22 press with 6 horse power engine 16 tons per day.

We should purchase a hay press that has been designed for convenience. There should be a considerable distance between the sweep and the feeding table. Both of these points should be located at the extreme end of the press so that the baling chamber may be set well into the interior of the shed or barn and ample room be had for the revolution of the sweep to make outside of the shed or barn. Another advantage of the arrangement of such a press is that the bale chamber may be set between two stacks and fed from both stacks without resetting the press. The close arrangement of feeding table and sweep will not allow sufficient space for the sweep to describe the circle necessary to operate the press. The reach bed should be very narrow and should not be more than four or five inches high without causing the least trouble. To enable the horses to walk over it when operating presses that have a high step-over, the horses will generally slow down, hesitate, and often stumble at this point which is annoying to the man, wearing on the horses and slackens the speed of the press.

The power construction of the press should be such that when the horses reach the step-over, they are pulling practically no load. One stroke should be completed before they reach the step over and the load of the next stroke should not begin until the low narrow step over has been passed.

The bale chamber should be very low so that it is an easy matter to reach across and tie the bale. This saves much time and trouble, as in tying the bale, it is not necessary to go around the bale chamber to the opposite side.

The press should be principally constructed of steel and high grade iron and should be strong and durable.

The two horse pull power and the motor baling press should have a self feed attachment as it increases the capacity of the press and at the same time reduces the work of feeding the press.

The hay press is a money maker and a money saver and should be used on every farm.

QUIET MARRIAGE ON LAST EVENING

A quiet home wedding was celebrated at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Lucy Caddell on Hackney avenue last evening at eight thirty o'clock, the contracting parties being Mr. Suffolk Miles of this city to Miss Mary E. Lucas, formerly of Wilson, N. C. The ceremony was impressively performed in the presence of a few intimate friends of the couple by Rev. R. H. Broom, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

The bride is a native of Wilson, N. C., and since her residence here has formed the friendship of a large number of friends who wish her every happiness. The groom is one of Washington's most estimable citizens and counts his friends by the score. He is the manager of the blacksmithing department of the Washington Buggy Company. The Daily News joins in extending congratulations and best wishes.

WEEKLY PRAYER MEETING HELD THIS EVENING

The regular Nicholsonville prayer-meeting will be held this evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Daniels on East Fourth Street. The services will be led as usual by Rev. R. H. Broom pastor of the First Methodist Church. All are cordially invited to be present.

SOCIAL FUNCTION GIVEN AT SMALL

On last Wednesday evening at her home in Small, N. C., this county, Miss Mae Bowen entertained a party in honor of her cousin, Miss Elizabeth Sparrow, of New Bern.

Miss Bowen proved to be a charming hostess. The residence was brilliantly illuminated for the auspicious event and no social function in Small this season carried with it more pleasure and merriment. Delicious and tempting refreshments were served. All departed to their respective homes carrying with them pleasant memories of the occasion. Those present were: Misses Elizabeth Sparrow, Mae Bowen, Laura Rowe, Lena Mixon, Maggie Mixon, Hattie Lee, Rubie Bowen, Rena Bowen, Sybil Spruill. Messrs. Eugene Cayton, Wilbur H. Ross, Grady Cayton, Willie Walker, Jos. V. Rowe, Noah Mixon, Joe Gurganus, George Barnes.
