The picture of the king of Spain packing up and going home because he had a row with his mother-in-law is one which brings home the grim truth that one touch of nature makes the whole world kin and that like to commiserate in the common antagonism to mothers-in-law.

Nothing is more unfortunate, nothing is more unwarranted than to think of politics as a contest of classes, as made up of interests in competition with one another and in hot opposition to one another.—Woodrow Wilson.

W. J. BRYAN'S APPEAL TO VOTERS OF THE COUNTY

(By Josephus Daniels.)
New York, Nov. 4.—The following is W. J. Bryan's appeal to the people of the United States:

"To the People of the United States: On the eve of another presidential election with the day for choosing a successor to President Taft but a few days distant, I find the outlook for Democracy success bright indeed. In no states that I have visited have I found any indication that the electoral vote will be given to either Taft or Roosevelt. Democratic success seems absolutely certain as anything human can be. Everywhere hope is ascending and the very air seems surcharged with the spirit of approaching victory.

"Of all presidential years within the past score, this seems essentially to be Democracy's year and the only danger of falling sort in this respect lies in over confidence. During the remaining days of the campaign every Democrat should be on his mettle and should work with renewed energy and enthusiasm for the success of the ticket—national, state and congressional.

"While we have a great deal to overcome, our cause seems to have made such amazing progress as to furnish substantial ground upon which to build a logical hope of triumph all along the line. From exhaustive inquiries and personal observation I am absolutely convinced that the voters are weary of Republican misrule and party strife and are only awaiting the chance to institute a new and better order of things politically.

"Why Taft is Condemned. It is not strange that the voters of the country should turn from President Taft and condemn his failure to lead the peoples' fight for reforms. But it is strange that any one who opposes Taft should turn to Roosevelt for relief. Colonel Roosevelt had twice as long in which to secure reforms as Taft had and now he asks a third term (and he do not know how many more he wants) in which to do what he could have done when he was President. After giving us Mr. Taft and then failing to help him to make good, he asks us to accept him as his substitute for Taft. Should anything be more audacious? Governor Wilson is the only hope of the nation if we would free ourselves from the burden of taxes and the menace of monopoly. He is a big, brainy statesman and patriotically a man who has the courage of his convictions and who, if elected, will make this country one of the best and safest Presidents it has ever had.

Is No Sham Battle.

"People of the United States, this is no sham battle. We are not drawn upon dress parade. We are a fighting band that has been fighting for sixteen years, and we hope to make this the last battle of a war for human rights and progress. The breastworks of the enemy are crumbling before the onslaughts of a united and triumphant Democracy and ere another week has passed I confidently expect to see the glorious banner of Democracy floating from the shattered ramparts of the disorganized Republican army.

"I firmly believe in fair play and in being charitable to a disabled opponent, but when they tell me I am striking a man when he is down, because I criticize the policies of Roosevelt and his past and present attitude in the campaign I reply that brave men when they yogo into battle do not put their wounded in front. It is as Roosevelt says:

A campaign of issues, not men, and I further say that it is a matter that must be decided by good, hard common sense, not ill sentiment; a question that must be settled by the sane people of the country and not by a maniac.

"We are at the close of one of the greatest campaigns the country has ever known. I have not found it a campaign of pose and bluster, but on the whole, one of sober attention and an apparent desire on the part of the voters to carefully weigh the issues and to exercise their God given intelligence and prerogative in settling the great questions of moment that now confront the people of these United States. In this attitude of the people I can see but one thing, and that is the election of Wilson for the presidency on the 14th of November. For an able utterer of Wall street and the big interests.

As Happy As Wilson.
"And when the news comes that Wilson is the choice of the voters as some I believe it rarely will, I can picture how happy that noble man and his wife would be in their New Jersey home. But out in Nebraska there will also be another man and his wife equally happy, for it will mean to us the consummation of sixteen years of struggling and fighting for a principle.

"A great cause, and the victory would be just as sweet as if it were myself instead of Governor Wilson, who had been elected to the highest office with the gift of American people.

"This is my message to the people of the United States, a message of hope on the eve of victory.

"Yours for a triumphant Democracy."

"WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN."

SOCIAL FUNCTION AT AURORA

LAST THURSDAY EVENING

Thursday evening proved to be a joyous one for the young people of Aurora, when the young men of the place gave an old-time oyster roast at the Thompson Ginning Company's plant.

At 9:30 the purring of the machinery was soon drowned by the chatter of the jolly crowd as they came trooping up.

The large bon-fire, at which the oysters were roasted added much to the cheer of the fun-makers.

There were many burned fingers as well as lips and tongues which only made things merrier.

This high-spirited crowd consisted of Misses Cora Tames, Helen Lark, Julia von Eberstein, Hannah Cutbrell, Emma Hooker, Bessie Gowers, Garnet Bonner, Rebecca Bonner, Mary Bonner and Minta Bonner; Messrs. Hardy Thompson, Archie Bonner, Ralph Thompson, William Jones, Henry Chapin, John Hooker and Willie Selby.

Porto Rico's New Wonder.

From far away Porto Rico come reports of a wonderful new discovery that is believed will vastly benefit the people. Ramon T. Marchan, of Barcelona, writes: "Dr. King's New Discovery is doing splendid work here. It cured me about five times of terrible coughs and colds, also my brother of a severe cold in his chest and more than 20 others, who used it on my advice. We hope this great medicine will yet be sold in every drug store in Porto Rico." For throat and lung troubles there is nothing better. A trial will convince you of its merit. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by The Hardy's Drug Store.
