TO DETERMINE COST OF PIG FROM ITS BIRTH

Statistics Being Secured at Three Test Farms in the State.

Notwithstanding the fact that the most expensive period of a pig's life is from time of birth to the weaning age, no careful studies have yet been made to determine the cost. This work is now being conducted on three of the test farms of the State and some definite results are being secured from each of the farms.

Some idea as to the cost of raising a little of pigs can be seen by some results picked at random from the records of the Animal Industry Division. Sow No. 1 at the Iredell Test farm raised six pigs at a total cost of $14.63. Sow No. 2, from the same farm, raised four pigs at a total cost of $16.23. Sow No. 1 at the Pender Test Farm raised four pigs at a cost of $15.98. Sow No. 2, at this same farm raised nine pigs at a cost of $18.25. Sow No. 1 at the Edgecombe Test Farm raised six pigs at a cost of $10.16. Other records are being obtained on these different farms and when the work has been carried on for two or three more years some definite idea as to methods of lowering these costs can be given. At the present time it might be wise for the farmers of the State to give some consideration to this phase of their stock farming.

BUSINESS CASUALTIES.

Two Wilson Firms Strike Rough Weather on Financial Sea.

Wilson, Dec. 29.—High Brothers, general merchants of Middlesex, closed their doors Monday and A. S. May, of Spring Hope, was appointed receiver. The firm is the oldest and largest mercantile concern in Middlesex and has always done a large business. The inventory is being taken today and the books of the concern are in such condition that it will take time to make a statement of the financial condition of the firm. Conservative estimates made this morning give the total liabilities at $50,000 and the assets at $25,000.

The W. L. Russell Shook and Lumber company, a concern which for a number of years has employed several hundred hands and manufactured boxes for the northern trade closed down Monday and a meeting of creditors is in progress. Then Mr. Russell sold out his interest to the Collier Bros, who have been operating the plant under the former name. Mr. Russell holds liens against the machinery. It is estimated this morning that the concern owes over $40,000 and with practically no assets.

GOOD ATTRACTION AT NEW THEATER

Tabloid Company Puts Up High Class Entertainment. Good Comedy and Singing.

Most of the large audience at last night's performance at the New Theatre, were agreeably surprised at the high quality of the entertainment which was provided for them.

Pinnegan & Dean's musical comedy company furnished the attraction and met with a good reception. The comedy was excellent and void of any suggestiveness or obscenity. One of the most enjoyable features of the program was the singing of the Dean Trio. They rendered a number of selections and were loudly applauded. The dancing on the part of the chorus was good and they sang fairly well.

Taken altogether, the show is more than worth the admission price that is asked and those who go to see the troupe in an entire change of program tonight, may be assured of an entertaining evening. The company leaves town after tonight.

MARSHAL LEGGETT COURTS THE MUSES

Sings Verses With Surprising Ability. Refutes Mr. Hodges' Argument in Poem Recently Published.

The campaign against good roads has now run into poetry. Mr. Hodges recently wrote a poem, which was published, regarding the building of roads in Caswell's time. Just to show that Mr. Hodges has nothing on him, Mr. Leggett dropped into the office this afternoon with the following set of verses, refuting Mr. Hodges' argument.

Only the rich could own their home. When he wanted to improve the road He called on those of the rich abode. Come! shell it out, and don't be lax. I'll soon call for another tax.

Now we have men at our own home Who imitate the man of Rome; Who want good roads, without a squeal, That they may enjoy their automobile.

Come! shell it out to us they say, I'll call again another day.

If you don't act as I'd have you do, And vote to get the bond issue through, We'll not give you another barbershop. Not even give you a Brunswick stove. Come! shell it out with your vote, That we can swell some bond's blow.

The majority now are satisfied Over the present roads to ride; Except those who on a pleasant morn Delight in the blast of the auto horn. So on election day we'll to them say You'll have to call some other day.
