SHORT ITEMS FROM Neighboring Cities.

Judge Whedbee Won't Talk.
New Bern—When it was announced that Judge Harry W. Whedbee, of Greenville, was coming to New Bern to preside over a two week session of Craven Superior court, local citizens thought that he would have something to say to give out as to whether or not the recent rumors relative to the probability of his resigning from the bench and entering the race for Congress against John H. Small, the present incumbent.
However, these citizens seem to be doomed to disappointment. Judge Whedbee won't talk about the matter. Whether this is one of the cases where "silence gives consent" remains to be seen. But the Judge absolutely and finally declines to discuss the matter, preferring rather to let the public do the talking.
When a newspaper man approached the Judge this morning and asked if he had read the newspaper accounts of the matter, Judge Whedbee replied that he had perused some of them but he had nothing to give out in regard to the matter and so far as that particular subject was concerned, he declined to have anything else to say about the matter.

Eugene Smithson Dead.
Elizabeth City—News reached here yesterday of the death from tuberculosis of Eugene Smithson, near Oak Grove in Perquimans county, Saturday morning. The funeral was conducted yesterday at eleven o'clock by Rev. J. Y. Old of his city. Mr. Simpson was twenty-three years old and leaves a wife and an infant only a week old.

New Building for New Bank.
Hertford—A new building to be the home of the Farmers National Bank of this city, is under construction on church street. The building is next to the Southern Drug Co. and on the plot of land where "The Old Eagle Tavern" once stood. The officers of the organization are H. C. Stokes, president and H. C. Sullivan, cashier.

Man Who Was Suing for $3,000 at New Bern is Awarded Small Sum for His Trouble.
(By Eastern Press)
New Bern, Feb. 10.—After hearing the evidence of the witnesses and the summing up of the case by Judge Whedbee, the jury in the case of W. E. Turnbull vs. the Pullman Co., in which the plaintiff was suing for three thousand dollars in two cases on account of the fact that the Pullman Company had failed to reserve a berth which he had engaged and paid for, yesterday afternoon returned a verdict giving Mr. Turnbull and his wife each ten dollars and refunding to them the price of their tickets.
This case was hard fought by both sides and much interest was manifested in it throughout both by those interested and the general public.

SOCIETY WOMEN MUSN'T GAMBLE
Kentucky Judge Orders That All Who Play for Booty be Pinched. Practice Must Be Stopped.
Madisonville, Ky., Feb. 10.—Society matrons of Madisonville were subjected to the Hopkins county grand jury to investigate all bridge parties and "indict every woman, no matter who she is, if she is caught playing cards for booty."
"The card table is the ruin of many boys," said Judge Carl Henderson, who delivered the charge, and the card table is in the home," he spoke of the influences society women exercise on the city and directed the jury "to stop this terrible crime."
"Investigate the society gambling list and then go after the poor negro and the ignorant class of people," was Judge Henderson's concluding statement to the jury.
Superficial Impression.
"That man looks as if he had something on his mind."
"Yes," replied Miss Cayenne, "but his conversation doesn't sound that way. He is a walking optical illusion."

Lady—Oh, yes, you'll have to. My husband has just lost his position!

AFTER LAGRIFFE—WHAT?
Coughs that "hang on" after is grippe exhaust the strength and lower the vital resistance. F. G. Prevost, Bedford, Ind., writes: "An attack of lagriffe left me with a severe cough. I tried everything. I lost in weight and got so thin it looked as if I would never get well. I tried Foley's Honey and Tar and two bottles cured me. I am now well and back to my normal weight." Foley's Honey and Tar gets right at the trouble. It is a safe, reliable remedy. Davenport Pharmacy.

Receives Severe Cuts.
Greenville—Sunday morning while Mrs. Claude West was in the act of raising a window at her home on Locust street she received a severe cut from a broken window light, that required the attention of a physician who made four stitches to close the wound.

Physician Had Narrow Escape.
New Bern—Dr. N. M. Gibbs, one of New Bern's well known physicians, had a narrow escape from what might have been serious injury a day or two ago when a freight car which was making a "flying switch" dashed into his automobile at a point where the Norfolk Southern railroad crosses George street. Dr. Gibbs was going up George street at the time and saw the car coming just in time to prevent it striking his machine a full blow. As it was, the freight car smashed into his automobile and rammed it up against the switchman's house, badly scaring it up. Fortunately Dr. Gibbs escaped without injury.

Wilson, N. C., Feb. 10.—An entire block in the business district of Elm City was threatened by fire last night when a blaze originating in the store of Joyner and Gardner, grocers, completely destroyed that store and badly damaged adjoining buildings, with a total property loss of nearly $5,000.
The Wilson fire department was called to assist in fighting the blaze, which at first appearances threatened to spread rapidly. Owing to splendid water pressure from the plant recently installed in the town the fire was practically under control when the local motor truck reached the scene.

Paris.—A rumor that King Frederick of Saxony was considering the abdication of his throne in favor of his son, Prince George, probably owes its inspiration to the festivities arranged in Dresden for the young man's twenty-third birthday anniversary on Jan. 15, coupled with the fact that for the past three years, since he became twenty, he has been gradually initiated into state affairs, more and more taking his father's place in the reception of minor commitments from the council of ministers and parliament. This has been in accordance with the policy of state to take every precautionary measure possible to protect the heir to the Saxony throne and the Saxon people from the influence of Prince George's mother, the notorious ex-Crown Princess Louise, in the event of the sudden death of King Frederick and the accession of Prince George.

The Saxon government fears influence upon her son almost as much as the Prussians of a century ago feared Napoleon. She is their nightmare, and

Fort Worth, Texas, Feb. 10.—Mrs. Nina Kelly, aged 28, shot her two sons, eleven and eight years of age, then killed herself here today. One of the boys, physicians believe, will recover. Mrs. Kelly conducted a boarding house.
The two little boys, it is said, were called into Mrs. Kelly's bedroom, the door was then locked and the mother began to fire at them with a revolver as they ran screaming about the room. Neighbors heard the shooting and hurried to the Kelly house, but were unable to gain admittance. Finally a door was broken open and the mother was found dying and the two children unconscious.
The woman and her husband have been separated for some time.

Greenville, Feb. 10.—The proposition to consolidate the four schools in Beaver Dam township and to levy a special tax for the support of a strong central school lacked just five votes of carrying in the special election yesterday. With 129 voters registered and 65 necessary to carry the proposition, its advocates were able to poll only 60 votes; there were 67 votes cast against the proposition, and two registered who did not vote, thereby counting against the proposition.
The campaign has been waged very earnestly, and it was conceded by both sides that the election would be very close.

Henderson, Feb. 10.—A jail delivery was narrowly averted late yesterday, when the authorities discovered nine persons in the act of sawing their way out of prison. The prisoners had broken their way through the cement floor and were cutting their way through the bars when interrupted at their work.
A negro errand boy, employed about the jail, is said to have furnished the prisoners with the tools. One of the prisoners was being held on a murder charge, the trial to come up at the March term of superior court.

Italian Lady Who Never Tasted Water Outlived Twelve Children Who Did.
Rome.—Mrs. Paolina Pelligrini, who never tasted water, but always drank wine, died at San Michele recently, aged 117 years.
Her twelve children, who, according to the old lady, "were addicted to the pernicious habit of drinking water," have been dead many years.
NOW FEELS ENTIRELY WELL.
Those who have backache, rheumatism, stiff and swollen joints or other symptoms of kidney trouble will be interested in a statement from A. H. Francis, Zenith, Kan., who writes: "I had a severe pain in my back and could hardly move. I tried several remedies with no results. I took about two-thirds of a 50c box of Foley's Kidney Pills and now feel entirely well." Middle-aged and older men and women whose kidneys are weakened and whose backs are aching and who find these safe pills give relief from sleep-disturbing ailments. Davenport Pharmacy.

EYES OF SAXONY ON CROWN PRINCE

Rumor Says King Frederick May Abdicate.

FEAR MOTHER'S INFLUENCE.

Comparative Poverty Has Kept Divorced Wife of Ruler Quiet in Recent Years, but People Are Worried That She Will Become Active Again if Son Takes Throne.

Paris.—A rumor that King Frederick of Saxony was considering the abdication of his throne in favor of his son, Prince George, probably owes its inspiration to the festivities arranged in Dresden for the young man's twenty-third birthday anniversary on Jan. 15, coupled with the fact that for the past three years, since he became twenty, he has been gradually initiated into state affairs, more and more taking his father's place in the reception of minor commitments from the council of ministers and parliament. This has been in accordance with the policy of state to take every precautionary measure possible to protect the heir to the Saxony throne and the Saxon people from the influence of Prince George's mother, the notorious ex-Crown Princess Louise, in the event of the sudden death of King Frederick and the accession of Prince George.

as long as Prince George remains young and without experience in the grave responsibilities of state the government is in dread of possible complications. Everything is being done to give him a full appreciation of his duty as king. Prince George has not seen his mother for several years, since her so-called "memoirs" were published. She eloped from the royal palace some years ago with his tutor, Giron, and was divorced by King Frederick, being compelled to renounce her title as crown princess, her husband conferring upon her the title of Countess of Montignoso. The king took charge of the girl baby born to Louise after her elopement, the child being christened as the king's and given the name of Princess Anne Monique Pie, being included in the royal family and kept away from the mother entirely. Louise's later escapade in marrying an Italian pianist, Towell, the publicity of a divorce from him and a fight for the child born of this union, with the publication of her memoirs ridiculing her husband's family, had the effect of completely alienating King Frederick and his government from her. Comparative poverty has kept her quiet in recent years.
Prince George's marriage has already received a good deal of attention by his father and the Dresden court, since it is obviously wise to see him settled down early with a prudent wife, whose influence would counteract any which his mother would attempt to exert. A few months before the war it was said that informal negotiations had been opened with the czar for an alliance between the heir to the Saxon throne and the Grand Duchess Tatiana, the czar's second daughter, who will be nineteen next May, a beautiful girl, vivacious and intelligent. This match is, of course, quite impossible now, and the prospective bride generally spoken of at this time is Princess Stephanie of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen, the daughter of Prince Karl of Hohenzollern, who is two years younger than Prince George.

WILL REGULATE WOMEN'S GOWNS

Richmond, Feb. 10.—Delegate William M. Myers of Richmond introduced a bill in the Legislature today which would make short skirts bare necks and transparent gowns unlawful. He says he wishes "to protect men!"

NEW BERN WANTS TO FORM LEAGUE

Is Eager That Old Eastern Carolina League Be Revived. Kinston Not Much Interested.

(By Eastern Press)
New Bern, Feb. 10.—As the opening of the baseball season approaches, local baseball fans are becoming more and more interested in the probability of putting new life into the old Eastern Carolina Baseball League and many rumors are going the rounds in regard to this matter.
Reports from Goldsboro, Washington and Greenville and other Eastern Carolina towns are to the effect that enthusiasm in the matter at those places is rife and it is believed the league could be revived. Kinston fans don't seem to take much interest in the chatter going the rounds but there are a sufficient number of towns outside of Kinston to form the league and there is a probability that this will be done.
New Bern now has a City League and unless something is done in regard to re-organizing the old league, the members of this will be seen in action.

WHAT CHILDREN NEED NOW.

In spite of the best care mothers can give them this weather brings sickness to many children. Safe, reliable family medicines are in demand. Mrs. T. Neureuer, Eau Claire, Wis., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar cured my boy of a severe attack of croup after other remedies had failed. I recommend it to everyone as we know from our experience that it is a wonderful remedy for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough." It stops the coughs that hang on and weaken after the la-grippe.
