

ISLAND OF CRETE IS TAKEN BY REBELS

THIRTY THOUSAND INSURGENTS OVERPOWER SOLDIERS AND CAPTURE ISLAND.

ELEVENTH REVOLUTION

Island Has Had Stormy Time Within the Last One Hundred Years. Only Eleven of King Constantine's Guard Remained Loyal.

(By United Press)

Athens, Sept. 25.—Thirty thousand insurgents now control the island of Crete, following the occupation of Canea and Hieracium. Only eleven of King Constantine's Cretan body guard remained loyal. The rest surrendered to the insurgents without a struggle.

The capture of Canea, the capital and largest city of Crete, was accomplished without bloodshed, according to advices received here. Several thousand insurgents caused the soldiers in the city to surrender, who, with but few exceptions, joined the revolutionists. The city fell a few hours after Kandia.

The capture of Crete marks the successful consummation of the eleventh revolution on the island in the last one hundred years. The same men who led the revolt in 1907 headed the present uprising.

ZEPPELINS ARE INEFFECTIVE IN RAIDS

Attacked London and Other Points in Britain Saturday Night But Were Driven Off.

(By United Press)

London, Sept. 25.—With three of Germany's biggest and latest type of war Zeppelins brought down on English soil within as many weeks, Britain believes that London is now more secure against air raids than ever before, in spite of the fact that the number of air craft in the last two raids was larger than of any previous raids.

Military officials declare that the aerial defenses of London stood the supreme test in repelling the Zeppelins. The latest estimates of casualties in Saturday night's raid are thirty killed and 140 injured in metropolitan London. Fourteen or fifteen airships participated in the raid. Only three of these approached London. They were driven off with the anti aircraft guns.

DR. W. M. ANDERSON

500 PERSONS WERE PRESENT AT REVIVAL

MOST SUCCESSFUL MEETING WAS HELD AT BAPTIST CHURCH LAST NIGHT.

MAKING DEEP IMPRESSION

Dr. Anderson Has Gained Strong Hold on His Congregations. Will Preach Tonight on "The Second Coming of Christ."

The largest congregation ever assembled in the Baptist church was present last night to hear Dr. W. M. Anderson, the evangelist. Although the services did not begin until eight o'clock, every pew was filled fifteen minutes before that time. Late comers were provided with chairs. Several were forced to leave, being unable to secure seats. It is estimated that there were at least 500 persons present.

Dr. Anderson chose as his subject, "Is it well with thee; is it well with thy husband; is it well with thy child?"

He made an urgent plea for the salvation of women, saying that the women of the world possessed the greatest moral power and that they should set the example and then induce their husbands to follow.

"One of the most beautiful sights in the world," he said, "is to see husband and wife going to the same church together and see them sitting side by side in the pews. There is only one sight that is more beautiful, and that is when husband and wife are leading their children to church with them."

Dr. Anderson has remarkable power for holding the closest attention of his audience, and in spite of the large congregation present last night, his words, even when uttered in a whisper, could be heard in the furthest corners of the church. It was the most successful meeting that has yet been held.

Preached to Men.

Yesterday afternoon, Dr. Anderson preached a stirring sermon to about 200 men at the New theatre. He stated that there were only two courses for the men to follow; they had either to be FOR Christ or AGAINST Christ. There was no "half-way-between" course.

Tonight, the evangelist will talk on "The second coming of Christ."

Washington Now Has Big Opportunity For Securing Industries

Many Concerns Seeking New Sites for Factories, Due to Labor Troubles

(By CARL GOERCH)

Washington has one of the best opportunities in its history for securing new enterprises—mills and factories—to locate here.

New York is confronted with a big labor strike and many industries will be tied up. Many plants in that section are searching for new quarters, where they may escape this labor trouble.

Representatives of some of these companies are already being sent over the country, looking for available sites. Announcements have been carried in the papers recently of several changes having been made.

WASHINGTON WANTS SOME OF THESE INDUSTRIES. And there is no question but that some of these industries want Washington.

We have available sites to offer for factories; we have a favorable climate and we have both rail and water transportation and a subsequent low freight rate.

But the trouble is that these northern concerns have never heard of Washington. They don't know what we have to offer them. With this state of existing affairs, it is to be hoped that the Chamber of Commerce will get together as soon as possible and arrange for a scheme of advertising that will bring Washington to the attention of some of those concerns that are figuring on changing their factory location. It is too important a matter to be neglected.

BLAMES THE HIGH COST OF LIVING ON THE DEMOCRATS

Washington, Sept. 25.—Representative Kahn, of California, in an interview given out here by the Republican congressional committee, characterizes the Democratic claim of having reduced the high cost of living as an out-and-out myth.

"In 1912 the Democratic party promised the people of the United States to reduce the high cost of living," said Mr. Kahn. "They fulminated against the protective tariff and blamed the latter for contributing to the increase of prices for food products of all kinds. This is the plank of that platform:

"The high cost of living is a serious problem of every American home. The Republican party, in its platform, attempts to escape from responsibility for present conditions by denying that they are due to a protective tariff. We take issue with them on this subject and charge that excessive prices result in a large measure from the high tariff laws enacted and maintained by the Republican party and from trusts and commercial conspiracies fostered and encouraged by such laws and we assert that no substantial relief can be secured for the people without import duties on the necessities of life are materially reduced and these commercial conspiracies broken up."

"Instead of reducing the price of living under this Democratic administration the cost of food products has constantly increased. Uncle Sam himself feels the pinch. He is the greatest purchaser of commodities in the United States. He can buy cheaper than anybody else because he buys in such large quantities."

"The tragedy is one of the most gripping stories in the history of Missouri and promises to reveal many sensational details when the story of the death is unfolded.

Special Prosecutor Lockwood alleges that Mrs. McDaniels was slain by her husband because she threatened a divorce, following a quarrel between the two. McDaniels claims he was lured from his home to make a telephone call. He returned to find his wife dead. Lockwood declares that this is an invention to divert suspicion.

MAD SUITOR HURLS BRICK AT ANOTHER

MISCALCULATED HIS AIM, HOWEVER, AND BRICK HIT YOUNG LADY INSTEAD.

IN SERIOUS CONDITION

A Fair Occurred Near Jamesville. Bloodhounds Trailed Suspect. No Arrest Has Yet Been Made. Much Excitement Stirred Up.

The section in the vicinity of Jamesville is considerably stirred up over an assault which was committed upon Miss Bessie Griffin while she was riding home from a revival meeting with Roman Hardison. Both are residents of near Jamesville.

The two were riding home in a buggy and when they came to a dark place in the road, someone hurled a brick at them, which struck the girl in the face, rendering her unconscious. Hardison drove to Jamesville as fast as he could and the girl lost considerable blood before a physician could be secured to attend to her wounds. She was delirious through the night, but is reported to be resting better this morning. A long gash was cut in her face and the doctor found it necessary to take eight stitches in the wound.

Miss Griffin is one of the most popular young ladies of her community and there were several young men courting her. It appears that Hardison was shown special favor and this fact caused some bitter feeling among the rejected ones. It is believed that the brick was thrown by one of these young men and was intended for Hardison.

J. A. Harman, of this city, was notified to bring his blood hounds to the scene. The dogs were taken to the point where the assault had been committed, and they immediately picked up the trail. They followed it for about five miles and arrived at the home of a young man, who, it is stated, was one of those who had sought favor from Miss Griffin. No arrest has yet been made.

DENY THAT SOUTH CONTROLS CONGRESS

Washington, Sept. 25.—A hot denial of the charge by the Republicans that the "south is in the saddle" in Congress was issued today by the Democratic national committee. The denial comes as the result of the springing of this issue in the Maine campaign by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, of Massachusetts.

In his speeches in Maine Senator Lodge called the attention of the Maine voters to the great proportion of southern men in prominent positions in the organization of the house and charged that the agricultural states of the south were getting all the benefits of appropriations, most of which were raised by taxing the rich states of the north.
