ANOTHER REVIVAL.

Another religious revival has been started in Washington and will continue for two weeks. It is being held at the Methodist church and it pomisers to do much good for our community.

There is an interesting little pamphlet in circulation throughout the city and it lucidly sets forth some of the things that every Christian should do toward bringing his fellow men to salvation. One paragraph in this pamphlet is especially strong and to the point. It reads

"Suppose I were to see a blind man unknowingly approaching the brink of a high precipice, and that I were to sit by without concern or any effort to warn or save him from certain death, would I not be as guilty of his death in God's sight as though I had murdered him outright! The death of a body, which might have been (but was not) prevented, is a terrible thing, but how about the preventable death of a human soul—perchance of many souls—for which God may hold me responsible? If my murder of another's body by neglect is an unspeakable crime, what shall be said of my murder by neglect of another's soul?"

That paragraph should cause every man and woman who read it to stop and think. Many of us are too busy or are too fond of pleasure to give much though to religious matters, but the least we can do is to attend these meetings that have for their purpose the salvation of the souls of our neighbors and lend our influence in making the meetings a success.

LOSING OUR AUTOMOBILE TAX.

An organized attempt is being made to have all of the special automobile tax of the state go into the treasury of the the State Highway Commission for the maintenance of state highways. Governor Craig has endorsed the plan and there is much sentiment in favor of it in certain parts of the -tate--particularly in the west.

It is pointed out that at present there are far too many varieites of road building and road maintenance methods, "almost all bad, and county lines are often easily discernible by reason of the fearfully bad roads because of the large number of supervisors and various methods of road building and road maintenance in the different counties."

This mates will probably be one of the important bill, to be brought up at the next session of the legislature. It is up to the citizens of this section of the state to get down behind their representatives and their senators and express their most determined disapproval of any such measure. If that bill carries, every county in this part of the state will lose their auto tax money and will not get one penny's worth of help in road building. The bill is unjust to our people and it benefits only those autoists who desire to make long tours and want to have "through" rosels built, with no attention paid to the local roads.

CONTENTMENT AND DISCONTENTMENT.

Rev. E. B. Jenkins preached a strong sermon at the Baptist church yesterday morning on the subject of Contentment. Mr. Jenkins pointed out that discontentment and dissatisfaction with one's home, business or surroundings usually meant unhappiness and that the discontented man was not apt to be a success

There is a time and place for everything and there is also a time and place for Contentment. If a man becomes too contented with his affairs, however, the chances are that he will never forge ahead in

Many of the old men in the country today, who are working for small salaries and have a hard time supporting themselves, are in the positions they hold because they were too contented in their youth. They probably had positions which paid them a fairly good salary in those days and they did not strive to better either themselves or their positions.

One of the greatest obstacles in the way of reform in both city and country is this same Contentment. Settlement workers among the squalid tenement districts of New York City have often declared that the people are opposed to any attempts to better their conditions because of the fact that they are contented with what they have. And the man in the country, who has a dirt floor in his house, no sanitation and no comforts, is usually in that fix because he does not ear for better things.

One of the greatest handicaps in the development of Mexico is the contentment of the people of that country. If they can manage to get enough to eat, that is all they desire. They are content to live like animals and spend most of their time in idleness.

But the man who is DISCONTENTED, -who is not satisfied with the position he holds, who wants to be something better and who is always striving with some fixed sim or ambition in view. he is a the type which comprises the successful men of our country.

INTEREST IN THE BALKANS

During the past week two reports have come from the borders of Rumania, both of which are of interest to the students of the war In the first place, the Germans have claimed a victory over the Ru manian army north of the Red Tower Pass in an invasion of Tran sylvnaia. By a rapid flank move Von Falkenhavn cut off this arm and captured the major portion of its supplies, although the bulk of the men succeeded in breaking through the opposing lines.

On the other side of the Rumanian frontier, facing Bulgaria, we remember the march of the Central Powers along the Dobrudja district. This second report concerns the crossing of the Danube by ; Rumanian army in the rear of Mackenson, and between the fortresse captured by the invading army. Whether this will prove a really strong column or not is as yet unknown, but the reports are conflicting

Along the eastern and western fronts there has been nothing of im portance although in general the Allies made slight gains in the west and both aides alternated with gains along the huge eastern battle line. Macedonia is still quiet as is also the Italian-Austrian front. Turkey reports minor victories over the Russians but there is no importance attached to them.

Sermon on Farming

Some farmers are wide awake. They look ahead, plan ahead, get ahead. Others are content to drift along.

Some ''do things'' themselves and profit from the experience of others who have already 'done things." Others don't do, don't profit and never have anything. Others don't

Some are willing to look into and try anything that offers a reasonable promise of greater profits. They accomplish things and in time have money to lend. Others are skeptical, can see nothing good in new inventions or projects, live and die in the old rut, and their children eventually pay off the

We believe you are of the class that looks ahead, that seeks the shorter path to success. If you are of that class we have many and various kinds of implements and machinery by which you can travel the shorter and surer pathway to financial independence.

Seeing is better than reading. Therefore we ask you to come in and see these implements and this machinery. Assured success is ahead for those who see, and buy, and use.
