TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or Bladder trouble you—Salts is fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which clogs and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night. To neutralize these irritating acids and flush of the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a table-spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to cleanse and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

Campaign Issues Are Portrayed by Prominent Men

(By GEORGE CHEEL)
Written for the Democratic National Committee.

The authenticated minutes of the American Independence Conference prove the existence of a secret organization that puts allegiance to foreign powers above allegiance to the United States; they prove that this body appointed a committee to wait upon Candidate Hughes to demand his repudiation of the telegram endorsing Roosevelt's Maine speech; they prove that this committee reported a "highly satisfactory conference" with Candidate Hughes; they prove that Justice Cohan, of New York, proposed a financial arrangement with the Republican National Committee, and that upon the report of his conference with the Republican leaders, Cohan was tendered a vote of thanks for his good work; they prove that immediately after the secret conference between Hughes and the committee, Candidate Hughes attacked the mail seizures and British blacklist.

Candidate Hughes has admitted that he held an hour and a half conference with Jeremiah O'Leary and the three other members of the committee. Jeremiah O'Leary has admitted that even while President Wilson was branding him before the nation as a disloyal citizen, he was conferring with the Republican candidate for the presidency. The issue is fundamental. Divided allegiance means national disaster and national death. It is not claimed that any large number of foreign born citizens are guilty of organized treason. It is claimed that from the first a small group of conspirators have plotted against President Wilson and the peace and justice of the United States.

Where does Candidate Hughes stand on this issue? Fighting under his banner are Roosevelt, Bacon, Choate and the Morgans, all hating Wilson because he has not taken his foreign policy from London, and Jeremiah O'Leary, Seiberlich, Hexamer and Ridder, all hating Wilson because he has not taken his foreign policy from Berlin. Let Candidate Hughes, in common honesty and decent Americanism, speak to THIS issue.

A store must be interesting every day—not merely now and then. And a store should be advertised on every day that it is interesting!

That President Wilson and Congress handed the heads of the railway brotherhoods a gold brick when they gave them the Adamson law is coming to be generally appreciated by railway and other wage earners. The indications are that the brotherhoods themselves will have to appeal to Congress to repeal the law. The law provides that "eight hours shall . . . be deemed a day's work and the measure and standard of a day's work for the purpose of reckoning the compensation of ALL employees, etc."

Many able lawyers, including those employed by the labor unions, believe that this means that a railway trainman who completes his run in less than eight hours can be paid only for the time worked, that if he completes it in 5 hours, for instance, he can be paid only 5-8 of a day's wage, so that if his ordinary pay is $6, he can be paid only $3.75. This is the view of Milton L. Clawson, leading labor union attorney of Indiana.

Others insist that the law applies to passenger as well as to freight trainmen. Grand Chief Stone, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, has sent out a circular letter to all members of that brotherhood saying he has been receiving many letters asking what the law means and that "We are not in a position to give any accurate information on this subject, because we do not know just what the law means."

As the railway men would not stand for being paid less than a day's wage when they complete their runs in less than eight hours, and as it was never intended that the law should apply to passenger trainmen, the indications are that the Brotherhood will conclude that they have been flim-flamed and ask Congress to repeal the law before it goes into effect, thus leaving them precisely where they were before the law was enacted, both as to wages and as to hours.

The course of so many railway presidents in coming out for President Wilson after the passage of the Adamson law is beginning to be entirely understandable. So, too, is the strong swing of union and non-union labor men back to Charles Evans Hughes.

It's no easy task to fool the laboring men of the country more than a few days at a time.

FAMILY AVOIDS SERIOUS SICKNESS

By Being Constantly Supplied With Theford's Black-Draught.

McDuff, Va.—"I suffered for several years," says Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, of this place, "with sick headache, and stomach trouble."

Ten years ago a friend told me to try Theford's Black-Draught, which I did, and I found it to be the best family medicine for young and old.

I keep Black-Draught on hand all the time now, and when my children feel a little bad, they ask me for a dose, and it does them more good than any medicine they ever tried.

We never have a long spell of sickness in our family, since we commenced using Black-Draught."

Theford's Black-Draught is purely vegetable, and has been found to regulate weak stomachs, aid digestion, relieve indigestion, colic, wind, nausea, headache, sick stomach, and similar symptoms.

ADVERTISE IN THE DAILY NEWS

LOCALS HOLD GOLDSBORO TO THE GAME

In a game full of thrills, good plays and miscues, the Goldsboro High and Washington High played to a tie yesterday afternoon, the result being 6 to 6.

Consistent line bucking coupled with an intercepted forward pass by Robbins brought the ball to Goldsboro's 2-yard line. Howard then went over for a touchdown. The same story minus the forward pass was true of Goldsboro's touchdown in the third quarter. Neither side kicked goal.

The backs on both sides gained at will off tackle but were thrown for losses on end runs. For a while in the final quarter it seemed that Washington had won for with the ball on Goldsboro's 20-yard line and one minute to play Wheaton missed a field goal by inches.

The playing of Robbins, Howard, Bowen, Johnston and Wheaton on the offensive and Robbins, Lamm and Doughty on the defensive, featured for the home team. Nash at quarter played the best game for Goldsboro. The game was clean and with few penalties, Goldsboro receiving the majority.

SOME OF NEW YORK'S INFANTILE PARALYSIS VICTIMS STILL SUFFER

(By United Press)

New York, Nov. 4.—The infantile paralysis epidemic which swept New York city during the summer marked many, but not all of its victims, for life. The home cases show a higher percentage of serious after effects than those of the hospitals.

According to a Health Bulletin just issued, sixty-six per cent of 2,058 discharged from city hospitals showed evidence of paralysis, eighteen per cent showed that paralysis had entirely disappeared and the remainder sixteen per cent had not shown effects of paralysis at any time.

Of 2,715 cases followed in the homes, 1,885 were found seriously paralyzed in either one or both legs and are unable to walk. Five hundred and thirty, though partially paralyzed in the legs can walk. Two hundred and seventy-three suffer paralysis in one or both arms. The youngsters are being fitted with braces and are being scientifically taught the use of their crippled arms and legs.

For Winter Colds
You need a real tonic. Strength is required to overcome the trouble. Let that tonic be one that is specially valuable in catarrhal conditions, and you can conquer the cold. A cold is acute catarrh; it may become chronic. Chronic catarrh frequently becomes systemic, involving the stomach and the intestinal tract as well as the nose or throat. It means stagnation.
