"I'LL EAT TURKEY THANKSGIVING DAY FIRST TIME IN YRS."

Says "Judge" Wrihtenberry, Who Will be 76 Christmas Day. He Gained 20 Pounds on Tanlac.

"I will eat turkey on Thanksgiving Day for the first time in years," said "Judge" Wrihtenberry, "and on Christmas Day I'll be 76 years old and will celebrate by having a bottle of Tanlac on the family dinner table, in appreciation of the wonderful relief I have gained through it."

"Judge" Wrihtenberry owns a 117 acre farm on the outskirts of Greensboro, and is a Confederate Veteran. His numberless friends take him at his word when he says: "Tanlac is worth more than a hundred times what I paid for it, because it is the only medicine that has helped me."

"The last doctor to attend me told my wife, as I lay on my sick bed, that he feared if I would live until he returned to his office. Then it was that a neighbor dropped in and told of his success with Tanlac. I told Mrs. Wrihtenberry to get some and, believe me, I took it.

"Soon after taking Tanlac I improved so that I told the doctor he needn't come back. Why, I can digest the rankest bacon now. My sleep is as good as any person's and my regained strength enables me to work again. I let my hired hand go because I didn't need him any more. My weight has increased 20 pounds and there is nothing too good I can say for Tanlac."

Genuine Tanlac is sold in Washington only by Davenport's Pharmacy, Belhaven, H. F. Noble.

FASHIONS ARE DISCUSSED

One of Most Interesting Meetings of the Crescite Club Held Yesterday.

Mrs. Frank Bowers was hostess to the Crescite Book Club Thursday afternoon. The literary program was one so much discussed every day—"Styles." First paper, "Changes in Fashions during the Last Fifty Years," by Mrs. William Rumley, brought laughter and exclamations from each member. Then followed a very interesting sketch of "Extreme Styles of Today" by Miss Mary Belle Small. Last a beautifully written paper on "Architecture" by Mrs. Lee Davenport and read by Miss Mary Cowell.

The club liberally contributed to the State Endowment fund, the Sally Southall Cotton fund and to the membership of the city. The hostess served a delightful salad course.

The roll call was answered by many interesting current events. The next meeting will be with Mrs. E. L. Brooks at 3:30 Thursday afternoon, December 7th.

RECEPTION GIVEN VISITING GUEST

A reception was given on Monday by Mrs. E. S. Marsh, of Belhaven, N. C., in honor of the visiting guests in the city to attend the Marsh-Olsen wedding. The guests were received in the hall by Mrs. B. F. Stearn and Mrs. Tom Marsh and shown to the gift room where many beautiful presents were attractively displayed on tables lighted by glimmering candles of pink and white. The evening was a most delightful one and the conclusion of many showers and receptions given in honor of the hostess' popular daughter. Mrs. Marsh was assisted by Mrs. D. W. Blount, Mrs. Thad Blount, Mrs. J. E. Clark and Mrs. H. R. Way in serving delicious cream and bride cake to the many friends calling during the evening. About eighty in number were served. The visiting guests were Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Burton and little daughter Mary of Washington, N. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Elliott of Warren, N. C.; Mrs. E. R. Windley and Mrs. W. A. B. Branch of Washington, N. C. The choir, the rector, Rev. C. C. Kelsey and wife, and a host of friends and relatives were charmingly entertained and the evening will linger long in the memory of all as one of the most delightful social gatherings of the season.

INTERESTING PAPER READ

Mrs. J. K. Hoyt's Paper on North Carolina's Part in Revolution
Enjoyed by O. Henry Club.

Mrs. C. M. Campbell, Jr. proved a most delightful hostess at the meeting of the O. Henry Club held yesterday afternoon at her home.

The study for the afternoon was
"The Revolutionary Period." Mrs.
J. K. Hoyt had prepared a most excellent and instructive paper on North Carolina's part in the revolution, which was ably read by Mrs. W.
A. B. Branch. The guests at the meeting were Mrs. Morgan of Raleigh and Miss Allison of Mocksville. Quotations from the framers of the constitution were given in answer to the roll call.

After the business session a social half-hour was enjoyed. The club members and visitors were ushered into the dining room, tastefully decorated in red and white, where a delicious salad course was served. Attractive little talks were given as favors. Red and white candles lighted the room.
