Miss Marion Ruark Becomes Bride Of Mr. Kenneth McDonald

Miss Marion Ruark, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ruark, of Southport, was married Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Trinity Methodist church here to Kenneth P. McDonald, son of Mrs. W. O. McDonald and the late Mr. McDonald of Gainesville, Fla. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Henry Ruark of Princeton, cousin of the bride, in the presence of a large company. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. Ferns, sprays and gladioli were within the chancel; at either side of the altar were burning tapers in seven branched chandeliers. The church was lighted by the memorial chandeliers, and presented by members of the bride's family, James B. Reilly, organist, of Wilmington, rendered a lovely program of nuptial music. He played "To a Wild Rose" (McDowell), "Believe Me If All Those Young Charms," "Berceuse," and "In the Luxembourg Garden." For the processional of the wedding party, Mr. Reilly led the bridal chorus from Benjamin Wagner, and as the organist, he played Mendelssohn's wedding march. The bridesmaids were: Joe Cross Ruark, sister of the bride, of Southport, and Billy Edwards, of Southport, the bride's cousin. Mrs. Fred Willing of Southport, the bride's cousin, attended as a dame of honor. She wore a beautiful gown of blue lace, a hat of pale pink horsehair trimmed in velvet ribbon. She carried an arm bouquet of Briar roses and blue delphinium with pink silk net. The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a handsome gown of tea rose satin. The yoke with high neckline was of net with short sleeves. The lace skirt fell in graceful folds. This she wore a most becoming picture Leghorn hat trimmed in purple and green velvet. Her showered bouquet was of Briar roses, lavender larkspur, and lilies of the valley, beautifully showered with ribbons of lilies of the valley and tied with lavender silk net. The groom was attended by his brother, Walter S. McDonald, of Atlanta, Ga. Men of the bridal party wore white linen with blue flower boutonnieres. Mrs. Ruark, mother of the bride, was becomingly attired in a chiffon and large purple hat and wore a shoulder corsage of roses and lilies of the valley. The groom's mother wore a lace and white hat, and a shoulder corsage of roses and lilies of the valley. Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was given at the home of the bride's parents and relatives and out-of-town guests. Guests were welcomed at the door by Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hall of Wilmington. Mrs. Hall wore a lovely gown of shaded chiffon with red sash and a large hat matched the gown. She was trimmed in red velvet. She wore a corsage of red roses and white snapdragons. Receiving the guests were partners of the bride, the groom's mother, members of the bridal party and Mrs. W. S. McDonald. Mrs. McDonald wore a pale blue dress, white hat and white accessories and a corsage of rosebuds and fern. Guests were directed to the dining room by Mrs. Ruark of Southport. Mrs. Ruark wore a prettily appointed, laid with a white hanquet cloth and decorated with a bride's cake. Around the cake was a spray of white and sweetheart roses and at either side, white candles burned in silver holders. Delectable ices were served, all appointments being in white. Assisting in serving were Miss Mary Sanford, Miss Jane Gurley of Sanford, Miss Sarah Ruark of Raleigh and Miss Elizabeth Pridgeon, of Delco. The good-byes were said by Mrs. R. C. St. George, aunt of the bride. Mrs. St. George wore a pretty aqua gown with matching accessories and had a shoul-

Prayer Service
The little prayer service which was held for rain at Oak Grove Baptist church last Monday morning at ten o'clock, and turned out to be a real revival all the week, has been graciously rewarded. The Reverend Huggins, pastor of Oak Grove church decided not to stop with just a prayer service for rain, so he and Rev. F. P. Potter and Rev. Fitts, Methodist, have held preaching services every night this past week.
The farmers around here are all "smiled up" instead of the frown of the past few weeks.

YELLOW FLOOD
About 300 Chinese were trapped by the muddy torrent Monday when the Yangtze River broke through dikes in the Kiangsi Province to flood adjoining farms and bring death to their inhabitants. The disaster wiped out crops in the region, and destroyed approximately five miles of railroad, making prompt relief for refugees impossible. The village of Tuchiapu is reported almost totally destroyed.
TO INVESTIGATE
The rules committee of the House of Representatives will investigate the recent lobbying done in the progress of the campaign for the Wheeler-Rayburn utility bill, newspapermen learned Monday. Ralph Brewster, Republican representative from Maine, precipitated the inquiry by accusing Thomas Corcoran, RFC attorney, of coercion. Preliminary investigation was slated to begin Monday morning.

BIG RAIN BRINGS END TO DRY SPELL
More rain fell here Saturday than had fallen during the months of May and June. The official recording for the 24-hour period was 2.46 inches. The total for July, up until Monday night, was 3.36 inches. The rain was general throughout the county and brought welcomed relief to farm crops that were suffering from prolonged drought.
FIRST TO DIE
Ed Hester, 19, who murdered with an axe a fellow-convict at a Raleigh prison camp, was sentenced Saturday to be first to die in North Carolina's lethal gas chamber, which has not yet been finished. Hester, who was serving a sentence for second-degree murder, killed Paul Honeycutt for no apparent reason on May 16, and will pay the penalty on August 23.
BROWN MEN KICK
The independent government of Mongolia, which lies to the west of Japan's new Manchoukan territory, burst a diplomatic bombshell late last week when a statement was issued at Ulan Bator, the capital, accusing Japan of plotting to seize Mongolian holdings. The statement, which came from official sources, charged that Japan has attempted to place military observers in Mongolian territory, for the purposes of spying on Soviet Russia and taking over Mongolian lands.
HORSFITAL?
We propose that Mrs. E. C. Williamson's horse be rechristened Florence Nightingale, or Good Samaritan. A Sunday paper reports that Mrs. Williamson was thrown from her horse and disabled while riding outside Victoria, British Columbia. The horse, apparently contrite—or perhaps interested in Mrs. Williamson's new Jodpurs—rolled her across the field to the highway. A passerby called help for the horsewoman.
MAY BE DEBARRED
Women drinkers may be refused admission to regulated saloons in St. Louis soon if a campaign begun Monday is successful. Saloon-keepers object to feminine customers on the grounds that they chisel too many drinks off the men, thus driving the male drinkers to the privacy of bottled stock and the kitchen at home. Reformers join the bar-keepers in deploring the presence of women in St. Louis saloons.
STILL HAS THEM
John D. Rockefeller, who could buy platinum teeth if he wanted them, still clung proudly to 19 of those that God gave him more than 80 years ago, when he celebrated his 96th birthday at Lakewood, N. J., on July 8. Most interesting in this connection is the fact that a recent visit to his dentist disclosed no need for fillings or extractions for any of the 19 surviving teeth.
ON VACATION
Miss Roma Moore, who holds a position in the relief office at Whiteville, spent a part of her vacation here this week at her home. She plans to leave tonight (Wednesday) for Atlanta, Ga., where she will visit friends.

Manure and Legumes Double Crop Yields
Crop yields on the farm of R. C. Williams of the Rock Hill community in Union County, have doubled in the last few years by the growing of vetch in winter, lespedeza in summer, and the adding of manure secured from the feeding of beef cattle. "Mr. Williams has only 141 acres in his farm," says L. I. Case, animal husbandman at State College. "Most of the cleared acreage is devoted to small grain and feed crops with about ten acres set aside for cotton. Mr. Williams finishes a car load of beef cattle each winter. In doing this, he grows all the coarse roughages needed for the animals but buys cottonseed meal. He has observed a steady increase in the fertility of his land each year to the point that his acre yields are doubled now over what they were when he began his present program."

THRIFT PAYS
Thrift is a virtue which pays, but it rarely pays such high dividends as those it yielded to two Baltimore youths recently. The boys, Theodore Jones and Henry Crob, both 16, were digging in the cellar of an abandoned house to secure a few coins which they had learned, when they discovered a hoard of old gold money. Last Wednesday a Court of Appeals granted the money to the two boys, in spite of the demands of descendants of former occupants of the house. The rare gold brought its youthful finders more than $20,000 at auction.
NOSEY BOYS GET GATE
Cuban authorities politely sent home a group of American citizens Wednesday night, suggesting quite as politely, but firmly, that social conditions in Cuba are none of that group's business. The 17 liberals who made up the detachment of deported Americans were escorted aboard the Orient by detectives just before the ship sailed. Clifford Odets, dramatist, and spokesman for the group, stated that they expect to return to Havana in the fall with reinforcements to continue their "investigations."
SUBTLE HUMOR
Robert Southey's poem "After Blenheim" furnished President Roosevelt with the quotation which was his only comment on his decisive defeat by utility interests last week. He quoted the last two lines when asked for his reaction: "That I cannot tell," said he, "But 'twas a famous victory."
Newspaper men rushed madly for the nearest library, to find that the two preceding lines read: "But what good came of it at last?" Quoth little Peterkin."
BLACKS APPEAL TO U. S.
As Americans celebrated the birth of American independence Thursday, Ethiopia appealed to Perry George, representative of the United States in Addis Ababa for negotiations for aid in the present crisis. A five-page statement describing Italy as planning conquest of the African empire was delivered to George, asking that the United States aid in holding Italy to the Kellogg peace pact.
NEW DECLARATION
A second declaration of independence came into prominence on July 4 when the National Educational Association went on record as favoring—even demanding—full freedom of instructors to teach all side of controversial questions. In addition to the action, a victory for liberally inclined educators, another resolution was passed which laid plans for a committee to actively engage any interference with classroom teachers and their methods of teaching.
PITCHED BATTLE
Kingfish Huey P. Long, who is always good copy because of his eccentric behavior, broke into print again last week when he stuck his finger into the surprise pie and brought out a special session of the Louisiana legislature. Most of the bills which figure in the session are designed to strip the government of the city of New Orleans of all power, and is described by many as a deliberate attack on T. S. Walmesley, mayor of the city, and anti-Long sympathizer.
LABOR PROTECTION
President Roosevelt signed Saturday the Wagner labor disputes bill, which is expected to materially aid in establishing peaceful relations between workers and employers. The bill definitely establishes the right of collective bargaining by employees without coercion from the employer. A board of three, which the bill sets up, will be empowered to hold elections to determine the representatives of the employees.

ANOTHER INTEREST "PAY DAY"
For Our Thrifty Depositors
A "dividend" has just been credited to the account of each one of our savings depositors, in the form of interest. This is as much a Dividend as though you had clipped a coupon from a bond, or had received a dividend check.
During a period when many investors are receiving no dividends, savings depositors are still receiving interest, with 100 per cent security of principal. At a time when the interest yield even on Government bonds is the lowest in history, savings depositors with their money always within easy reach, may well consider themselves fortunate in their choice of an investment.
