MYERS WAREHOUSE OF CHADBOURN

After twenty years in the warehouse business in Chadbourn, Myers Warehouse promises farmers of this section "the best of services and the highest market prices for their weed that can be found anywhere."

"We assure you," said George Myers, Jr., who is affiliated at the warehouse with his father, who is well-known in Columbus county, "without fear of contradiction that tobacco sold in Chadbourn will bring as much if not more than any other market."

The Myers warehouse is one of the largest warehouses in Chadbourn, one of the leading markets in the South Carolina belt.

Senator McNeill Is A Candidate

Fayetteville Business Man And Staunch Democratic Worker In Cumberland County Announces For Lieutenant Governor

Fayetteville, July 28.—Senator George McNeill, widely known Fayetteville business man who has been prominently connected with the political life of Cumberland County and the State of North Carolina as a staunch Democrat for the past thirty-five years, today announced his candidacy for the Lieutenant Governorship of North Carolina, subject to the Democratic primary of 1936.

In making his announcement Senator McNeill said, "I am a candidate for the nomination of Lieutenant Governor of North Carolina, subject to the Democratic primary of 1936. In making this announcement I desire to inform the public that I am just a plain, every-day business man and if elected Lieutenant Governor shall try to apply the same practical methods to the affairs of the state that I have always endeavored to apply to my personal business."

As the campaign progresses and the issues arise, I shall face them squarely and fearlessly."

Liked Treatment In Local Jail

J. A. Russ, local jailor, received a post card last week from Joe Fryer, alias Joe Cheers, Jr., thanking him for the kind treatment given him while he was in the Brunswick county jail. The boy said that he missed the good things to eat that Mr. Russ furnished.

The boy and Joe Cheers were recently removed to the North Carolina State prison in Raleigh to begin serving their sentences following their conviction on charges of attempting to burn the Cheers home in Southport.

Seek Literature About Southport

R. O. Johnson, secretary of the Port City Civic Club, last week received a communication from two ladies in California asking for information concerning Southport. They expressed a desire to locate in a "small, respectable town on the Atlantic."

Mr. Johnson wrote, describing the many attractions of life in Southport and bidding the west coast tourists welcome to this town.

The ladies making the inquiry were: Mrs. George Miller and Miss M. Worrell, both of Corona, California.

Increase Quota For Enlistment

Young Men Who Are Interested In Naval Career Should Make Application At Once At Wilmington Office

The navy recruiter at Wilmington advises that first enlistments were materially increased July 1, and that the proposed monthly quota for the enlistment of Apprentice Seamen for this district is 60 men.

This increased quota is approximately twice the number enlisted the fiscal year just ending, and it offers splendid opportunities to young men who are interested in a naval career. The recruiter states that in order for men to be enlisted at an early date on this increased quota it is necessary for them to make their applications as soon as possible, so that their papers may be completed and their names placed on the waiting list.

All applicants are required to present themselves for the preliminary examination at the Navy Recruiting Office located in room 337 Custom House, Wilmington.

Checks Received By County Agent

Seventy-five checks paying a total of $2,447.85 to Brunswick county farmers were received this week at the office of County Agent J. E. Dodson.

These checks were the first payment on the 1935 corn-hog contracts and farmers will be notified when to call for their money.

DANES GO VISITING

The repeated rumors of a widespread farm strike in Denmark were hushed Monday when King Christian promised aid to the 50,000 peasants who marched to Copenhagen to appeal for relief. The peasants were received by the Prime Minister Theodore Stauning, who agreed to cabinet consideration of their plight. Later the King addressed them from the balcony of the attic, expressing the hope that they might be aided. After drawing up a resolution of their demands, which they presented to the Prime Minister, the peasants returned to their farms.

DELAY SCHOOL OPENING

Suggestions to that effect by J. T. Knox, state epidemiologist for North Carolina, may delay the opening of public schools in the state for a month this year. Stating that one cannot be sure when the expected decline in the epidemic of infantile paralysis may occur, he strongly urged early this week that openings be postponed till October 1.

ANTI-KINGFISH

Five determined Louisiana congressmen, incensed at the recent behavior of that colorful demagogue, Huey Pierce Long, and particularly at his violent criticism and opposition in regard to the present administration, last Wednesday announced their intention of splitting the Democrat party in that state. The five legislators, Cleveland Dear, J. Y. Sanders, John N. Sanders, Numa Montet and Riley J. Winslow, propose to organize an anti-Long party from Democrat ranks in Louisiana, which will not support Long, either in state elections or in the national party convention. A huge number of Roosevelt followers, the friends of T. S. Walmesley, and most of the "Young Democrats" are believed to be behind the movement, which may end Long dictatorship in his native state.

FRUIA OF THE FLOOD

Press dispatches Wednesday reported that the bodies of at least 30,000 victims of a flood in Central China were recovered in the Hankow area alone during the course of a day. Five provinces are said to be devastated by the furious passage of flood waters. In northern sections, disastrous floods continue as waters subside in other territories. The governor of one Chinese province, Shantung, alone, reported that he believed as many as 5,000,000 of his people to be homeless. With farms under water and food supplies destroyed, relief agencies announced that they may be forced to appeal to other countries for help in case of famine.

SOLONS BAN NAZIS

Thursday saw the third flare-up of anti-Nazi feeling in the United States legislature when Representative Samuel Dickstein, New York Democrat, classed Adolph Hitler as "the mad man of Europe." Already during the past week, two definitely hostile movements have been made which suggest that congress is opposed to the reciprocal trade treaty with the Reich. The other two movements, made by Senator William H. King of Utah and Representative Emanuel Celler of New York, respectively, proposed investigation of conditions and boycott of German products. Dickstein professed to believe that Hitler's influence over German born residents of the United States definitely affects economic and social conditions here.

ARGENTINE HONOR

After resigning his position in deference to the law which forbids a cabinet minister of the Argentine to engage in a duel, Frederico Pinedo exchanged shots with Senator Lisandro Delatorre Thursday to satisfy the insults received by both hot-tempered gentlemen when they hotly debated a question on the floor of their Senate. The shots passed reasonably close to the principals, but neither was injured. They expressed satisfaction, and denied any resentment.

U. S. WASHES HANDS

The United States government, represented by its presiding officer, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Friday definitely declared that there will be no meddling in the Italo-Ethiopian controversy, as far as the United States may be concerned. The president told newspaper men that the country will mind its own business, and will not become entangled in disputes which are "none of our affair." In the meantime, American citizens in Ethiopia continue the gradual evacuation of the country.

QUARANTINED

Because of infantile paralysis in those states, Delaware health officials Friday ordered the registration and daily examination of persons coming from North Carolina and Virginia. The roads are being posted with notices which warn visitors from those states to register with the nearest health unit. Examinations will continue for twelve days after North Carolinians and Virginians enter the state.

ITALIAN DISASTER

The Bickford Smith munitions plant at Taino, Italy, blew up Saturday afternoon to take a toll of 50 lives from the ranks of its employees, and to injure scores more. It is believed that the first blast occurred in the packing warehouse, where large numbers of native girls were employed. Other explosions were feared, and firemen patrolled the factory grounds, while emergency stations were set up for the relief of the injured.
