Shirley Temple's New Picture Playing This Week At Carolina

Singing, dancing and dimpling her way once more into millions of hearts, Shirley Temple's new triumph, "Dimples," opened Tuesday at the Carolina Theatre.

Replete with laughter, romance and drama, "Dimples" tells the story of a lovable little street minstrel, Shirley, and her incorrigible but irresistibly funny guardian, Frank Morgan.

The film opens with Shirley leading a group of young sidewalk minstrels through songs and dances. As they conclude their performance Morgan pushes through the crowd and starts off the "contributions." This is how he and Shirley eke out a precarious livelihood.

Morgan has a penchant for other people's belongings and his nimble fingers fasten on anything of value with which they come in contact. His peccadillos eventually lead him into trouble but he goes scot free through Shirley's winsome smiles and pleas.

With Shirley mothering and caring for the irresponsible scamp, the film moves through its highly entertaining story, climaxed with Shirley being cast in the starring role in a presentation of "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

NEXT WEEK
 Gary Cooper, the screen's most famous soldier-of-fortune, will be seen again in his favorite role when "The General Died at Dawn," a picture of adventure, romance and intrigue in modern war-torn China, opens Monday at the Carolina.

Having already established himself as film-don's outstanding portrayer of romantic adventure roles in the French Foreign Legion, the Bengal Lancers and the Italian and American armies, Cooper now comes to the screen as a roving soldier-of-fortune in modern war-torn China.

Appearing opposite him is beautiful blonde Madeleine Carroll in the role of the lure put out by a scheming war-lord to trap Cooper. This is an entirely new role for Miss Carroll who has already captivated America despite her few appearances before the camera. Akim Tamiroff, famed for his portrayals of sinister roles, is cast in the role of the ruthless war-lord.

"The General Died at Dawn" is a story built around the romance between a soldier-of-fortune to whom danger is the breath of life, and a beautiful woman adventuress who is given the task of destroying him. Their fortunes are closely involved with the fate of China's teeming millions and their lot is decided for them as it only could be in the mysterious Orient.

"What a wonderful world this would be if the people who have money would use it the way people who haven't money think they would use it if they had it—but they wouldn't!"

Shalotte News

Bill Teachey, of Beulahville, visited friends here last week-end.

L. C. Tripp and daughters, Rexie and Louise, spent Thursday in Lumberton.

Mrs. Lillian Oliver, Misses Gladys Frye and Catherine Chadwick were Wilmington visitors Saturday.

Mrs. George Danford has returned to her home here after spending some time with relatives in Lumberton.

Mrs. Claude Reaves and small daughter, Smitty, visited D. T. Long and family during the week end.

James Stone, of Kannapolis, is spending sometime at his home here.

C. Ed Taylor, of Southport, was a business visitor to Shalotte Monday.

R. W. Davis and daughter, Bobbie, were Shalotte visitors Saturday.

Misses Louise, Rexie and Doris Tripp and Pershing Tripp visited relatives in Wilmington Sunday.

A certain old lady left a note on her front door which read:

"Will be gone for two weeks. Callers please leave names."

She was surprised upon her return to find listed on the scratch pad she had affixed to the note these names:

"Herbert Hoover, Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Alfred Mossman Landon, George Bernard Shaw, Mahatma Gandhi, Halle Selassie and Mickey Mouse."—Wall Street Journal.

"Inside or outside room, sir?"

"Inside, I guess. It looks like rain."
