Warehousemen Of County Named In Anti-Control Suit

Warehousemen On All Four Markets Of Columbus County Named In Action In Wake Superior Court

PROTEST PAYMENT OF WEED PENALTY

Tobacco Warehousemen Ordered To Show Cause Why They Should Not Be Restrained From Collecting 50 Per Cent Penalties

Tobacco warehousemen of each of Columbus county's four markets have been named in an action in Wake Superior Court started Friday for an order prohibiting the collection of, penalties on tobacco produced in excess of quotas established under the agricultural adjustment act.

Filing a complaint asserting that the act is unconstitutional, the growers obtained an order directing tobacco warehousemen in the four flue-cured tobacco belts in the state to appear at a hearing here September 27 to show cause why they should not be restrained from collecting the 50 per cent penalty.

HARRIS SIGNS ORDER
Judge W. C. Harris signed the order and will conduct the hearing.

The jurist explained that the growers would request a temporary order at the hearing, and if it was granted, a date would be set for a hearing on their petition for a permanent order.

I. M. Bailey, attorney for the growers, said there were 351 defendants and over 600 affidavits, including H. I. Ogburn of Sanford, president of the state anti-control association.

Other attorneys for the growers are L. R. Varner of Lumberton, former state supreme court justice, and F. L. Gavin of Sanford, former U. S. district attorney.

In addition to the restraining order, the growers ask, pending settlement of their action, the impounding of sums collected as penalties; and the return of penalties they already have paid.

(Warehousemen collect the penalty by deducting it from the sale price of tobacco and forwarding it to the secretary of agriculture. The penalty on $100 worth of tobacco, for instance, would be $50).

The plaintiffs contend that the adjustment act is unconstitutional on the grounds that:

- 1.—The growers are engaged "solely in intrastate commerce" over which congress has no power.
- 2.—The measure is a violation of the fifth amendment to the constitution providing that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property without due process of law; and of the tenth amendment providing that powers not delegated by the constitution to the United States are reserved to the states.
- 3.—The act delegates to the secretary of agriculture powers "not even within the constitutional powers of congress itself."
- 4.—It "attempts to prescribe, limit and define the powers, functions and jurisdiction of a state court . . ."

Referring to a referendum conducted to determine whether the growers wished control, the plaintiffs allege that they "were deceived into action against their interests and subversive of the purposes of the act."

MANY DEFENDANTS
Marketing allotments, it is alleged, were issued late in August, after some of the tobacco had already been sold, and as a result each of the plaintiffs had between 1,500 and 150,000 pounds of tobacco in excess of his allotment. The value of this excess tobacco, the complaint says, is over $100 for each grower.

Warehousemen made defendants in the action operate in the following towns:

- Wendell, Smithfield, Rocky Mount, Tarboro, Wilson, Whiteville, Fairmont, Lumberton, Goldsboro, Wallace, Kinston, Farmville, Greenville, Washington, N. C., Williamston, Ahoskie, Robersonville, Louisburg, Warrenton, Henderson, Oxford, Dugham, Mebane, Burlington, Winston-Salem, Mt. Airy, Stoneville, Reidsville, Roxboro, Clarkton, Fair Bluff, Roxboro, Clarkton, Aberdeen, Carthage, Sanford and Madison.

Bishop Purcell Addresses Meet At Carver Creek

Members Of The District Conference Were In Session At Carver's Creek On Friday

SELECT 21 LAY DISTRICT LEADERS

Number Of Conference Representatives Were Present And Made Addresses, Including Dr. M. T. Plyler, Of The Christian Advocate

The Wilmington District Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, convened at Carver's Creek Church, four miles east of Council on the Wilmington-Fayetteville Highway, at nine-thirty o'clock last Friday morning with the Reverend W. A. Cade, Presiding Elder, in the chair. The large auditorium of the church as well as the spacious slave gallery were filled shortly before Dr. O. P. Fitzgerald, Pastor at Whiteville, conducted the opening devotional. Preachers, lay delegates, and visitors from the thirty pastoral charges in the district attended. It was one of the largest religious meetings ever held in Bladen County, and hundreds declared that it was one of the most successful and enjoyable sessions of a district conference which they had ever attended.

After the devotional, the Presiding Elder called the conference to order and after completing the organization for the transaction of business, he asked W. D. Maulsby, Bladen County Historian and local Methodist Layman, to extend the address of welcome.

Mr. Maulsby expressed the keen delight of the people of Carver's Creek Charge and their great pleasure in having the conference meet at the old church on this occasion. He traced briefly the history of the church and rejoiced his hearers that they were treading on Holy ground. The Quakers first held religious services there during the early part of the Eighteenth Century. That pioneer Methodist preacher and greatest of all circuit riders, Bishop Frances Asbury, traveling on horseback from New York to Georgia, preached to the people of Carver's Creek in 1792 and organized the first Methodist Society in Bladen County. He stated that the Wilmington District Conference had met on one other occasion at Carver's Creek. This was in 1867. Reverend R. P. Bibb was the pastor and Dr. L. S. Burkhead, of sainted memory in the North Carolina Conference, was the Presiding Elder.

With Reverend C. N. Phillips at the Secretary's table, the business of the conference got underway. The roll of the district was called and substitutions of lay delegates were made. After appointing the various committees for the work of the conference, the chair called for reports on the spiritual life of the church. This was followed by a report of the financial state.

Reverend A. S. Barnes of the Methodist Orphanage in Raleigh, Reverend R. W. Bradshaw of the Conference Board of Christian Education, Durham, Dr. M. T. Plyler, Editor of the North Carolina Christian Advocate, Dr. Walter Patten representing Louisburg College, Professor F. S. Aldridge representing the Golden Cross Society, Dr. W. K. Green of Duke University, Reverend W. L. Clegg of Bethel, and other connectional men were presented to the conference, and each spoke briefly for his cause. Among other visitors were: Reverend W. C. Martin former Presiding Elder of this District, Dr. W. V. McRae Presiding Elder of the Fayetteville District, Reverend L. M. Hall of Dunn, and others.

Promptly at eleven o'clock the Presiding Elder introduced to the conference Bishop Clare Purcell of Charlotte, presiding Bishop of this Episcopal Area which includes all the conferences in North and South Carolina. After singing a hymn and after a prayer by Dr. F. S. Love Pastor of Grace Church Wilmington, the Bishop read a scripture lesson and based his scholarly discourse on the first verse of the 24th Psalm: "The earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof, the world and they that dwell therein". He pointed out that these words were simple but of very deep significance. He pictured the world in which we live as a very "big" world, a small world, and as a most valuable world. He marveled at the great progress the White Race has made in the field of Science and deplored the fact that the peace of the world is greatly disturbed at this time because of the greed of selfish individuals and a failure to apply and live the philosophy of the Prince of Peace. Stating that he took no stock in the theory advanced by many present day authors that the colored races of the earth—the brown, the black, and the yellow—would some day wipe out the white or Caucasian Race, the Bishop declared that while the colored races represented three-fourths and the white only one-fourth of the people of the earth, it is the White Race which has given and is still giving Christianity to the people of this earth. The hardships of Christian missionaries in China and other fields were described vividly and a plea was sounded that we increase the number of home and foreign missionaries. The Bishop said that the world at one time was large but today it is a very small world. What affects one part affects vitally the other. It is possible today for the voice of one man to be heard by every living person at one tick of the clock. The only solution for the ills of the human family is in Christ. He related an incident which took place at Southampton, England during the World War. Two fathers accompanied their sons to the boat on which they were to embark. One son was going to the battlefield, the other to the mission field. The parting word of the soldier-father to his son was, "Give them hell". The other father, embracing his missionary son, said, "Give them Jesus Christ". The Bishop declared that the Christian way is the only way, and that when we as individuals or nations rebel against it, nothing remains but sin, sorrow, strife, war, untold suffering, and at last utter destruction. The earth and all that's in it is God's.

At the noon hour a delicious picnic dinner was served on a table more than eighty feet long which had been erected in the grove of majestic oaks near the church. The good women of the charge spared nothing in making this a real feast. They had food and to spare.

Wheel Trays Are Handy In Homes

Tea Wagons Can Be Made At Home Or Purchased For Moderate Sum, Miss Whisnant Says

One of the most convenient things a housewife can have for the dining room and kitchen is a tea wagon, or wheel tray, said Miss Mammie N. Whisnant, State College assistant extension specialist in home management and house furnishings.

These wagons, which can be made at home or purchased for a moderate sum, not only save steps but also enable the hostess to serve more graciously, Miss Whisnant pointed out.

Carrying food into the dining room and taking empty dishes back to the kitchen is much easier with a tea wagon. Housewives also find it nice to have the coffee or tea service on a wheel tray beside the table rather than on the dining table.

As dishes are emptied, they can be set on the bottom of the wagon where they will be of sight until they are rolled to the kitchen.
