Crop Prospect For Brunswick Best In Years

If nature continues her generous treatment of farmers in this section it appears now that Brunswick county crops this year will be the best in many seasons.

Wrent Mintz said Monday that he believed there was one-third more tobacco and corn in Waccamaw township this year than there ever had been before. The tobacco crop, in his opinion, will be the best ever produced in that section of Brunswick.

John Jenrette prominent farmer of Longwood, was in town Tuesday and had about the same thing to say with regard to crops in his home community. His neighbor, Willie Ganus, was housing tobacco that same day.

From this end of the county there came the word of M. Lancaster Tuesday that tobacco and cotton crops were the best in years, backed up by fine general crops.

County

"It had been reported to me * that there was a case in the colored section at Dark Branch, near Southport, and I went up Sunday to make an investigation. I discovered that James Edward Brewington, 19-year-old colored boy, had been carried to Wilmington to the hospital with what was believed to be poliomylitis. Checking with doctors in Wilmington I discovered that this boy was suffering from spinal meningitis,' the health nurse continued.

This is the second false report that has been more or less widely circulated regarding the appearance of infantile paralysis in Brunswick county within the past three weeks. The fact that this county adjoins South Carolina probably is responsible for local willingness to believe that this diesease has made its appearance in Brunswick.

Mrs. Smith says that there is no use to get panicky over the possibility of having infantile paralysis appear in this county, but she advises against carrying children into large crowds, especially when these crowds contain representatives from many different Checks Received

Gulf Stream Yields First Big Catch Of This Season

A catch of 11 fighting barracuda, 72 large dolphin and 3 big amberjacks by four men in four hours is pretty good fishing on any man's coast, so it follows that the prizes brought in Friday by the R. M. Lewis of Captain Hulan Watts was of more than usual interest.

The sportsmen were E. H. Chapman of Spartanburg, S. F. P. Summers, Karl Ginter and Seth Dingle of Charlotte. They left port early Friday morning, bound for the Gulf Stream, 35 miles off Southport. At 11 o'clock that same morning they called a halt to fishing and set out for home. It is no easy job to be fighting some five to twenty pounds of struggling fish every minute of four hours. The barracuda weighed an average of about fifteen pounds each; the amberjack were from five to twenty; the dolphin were not so large, they averaged somewhere between three and four pounds. All together, the big catch brought in and as many more that got away, provided plenty of arm breaking labor. A great many big fish of various sorts were lost by breaking tackle. Others, large and small, managed to throw off the hook before they could be brought to gaff. It was an exciting time from start to finish, this first trip to the gulf stream for the year. The barracuda have been out around Frying Pan lightship since April 20. The crew of the ship reported them at that time and stated that a number had bene speared by sailors from the deck of the craft. They said the fish were numerous and the catch made Friday bears out this claim.
