

The Lighter Side Of Life

Our Helpmate

Wick for their all-day meeting at Shallotte on Monday. In spite of the heat, a successful program was carried out.

They put on a good flower show and their exhibitions of handwork were especially interesting. The things we remember . . .

Mrs. J. J. Knox's brown afgan . . . The exhibits brought by Mrs. Z. G. Ray from Waccamaw . . . Mrs. London Lewis' crocheted bed spread . . . as we hurried by we didn't see the names on some of the pieces . . . These were exquisite pieces of cut work and delicate crocheting, and very attractive pillows . . .

The curio collection was also very good . . . They had all of them dated and the necessary information written for them . . .

There were a number of club exhibits which were mighty good . . . To name only a few of the good ones . . . The Shallotte table . . . The Exum series of three tables settings, breakfast, dinner, and supper, complete with suggested menus . . . The miniature garden, and the arrangements with fruits and vegetables . . . The Southport shadow boxes (two of them) . . . and the miniature house with grounds, which, we think, was the Longwood exhibition . . . There were fruit and vegetable collections . . . and they all added up into a highly successful show for the county.

SOCIETY

Woman's club had a delightful program at Mrs. Cranmer's home last week. For the musical part you'll have to read the program . . . but for the "show" which followed, the information . . .

It was a leg show . . . as the ladies know, the day that nylon hose went on . . . we even saw boys . . .

Woman's club held its last meeting of the year on Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. Cranmer. The entire floor was open to accommodate the large number of guests . . .

Flowers formed an attractive background for the musical program which presented Mrs. W. A. . . . of Wilmington, was in charge of the program and several from Wilmington gave during the afternoon. The complete program is as follows:

"Maria"—by Otto Olsson, Danish composer. Mrs. Ververy sang with Mrs. O. O. . . . at the piano. Violin was played by Mrs. Eric . . .

"Impromptu", Chopin, a solo by Mrs. O. O. Humphries.

"Art Risen, My Beloved," by Taylor, and "Cargoes" a solo by John Masefield set to music by Dodson, were sung by McGowan accompanied by Humphries.

W. A. French played two pieces by Cecile Chaminade, "Chant", H. Bemberg, "An Irish Love Song", Lang, sung by Mrs. George Smith accompanied by Mrs. Humphries.

"Song"—Oscar Weil, by Sarden, Mrs. Avery, and Humphries.

"Vital-Aver, a brilliant piece for the violin, Eric Norden, accompanied by Humphries.

"Hungarian Rhapsody",

ELECTRICITY PUT TO WORK ON FARM

Rural electrification has brought light and modern conveniences to thousands of North Carolina farm homes within the past few years.

"Now", says D. E. Jones, rural electrification specialist of N. C. State College, "farmers are learning how electricity can be put to work to lighten burdens and economically operate heating and refrigeration units on the farm."

He named the operation of brooders for chicks, dairy equipment, and feed grinders, and the heating of plant beds as ways that farmers are using their newfound source of power and heat.

ENTERS HOSPITAL

A Year of Action Results in The Old North State's "Clean Up or Close Up" Campaign

Twelve months ago the North Carolina beer industry went into action to commence weeding out those relatively few beer retailers who, by practices unbecoming good citizens, tended to bring reproach on the great law-abiding majority. "Clean Up or Close Up" was the ultimatum issued them and we feel that our action results speak for themselves.

To date, 78 beer licenses have been revoked—revoked because 78 beer dealers used their licenses to shield illegal activities. Thus are being removed the bad spots that, left alone, would smear the reputation of the thousands who operate within the bounds of decency and ethical business conduct.

As a new year begins, this committee states anew its determination to carry forward aggressively its now well-established program . . . and asks continuance of your alertness to patronize only decent, reputable beer outlets.
