Lumberton Mart Remains Open

Market Selling Tobacco For Just A Little More Says Supervisor; To Remain Open With Full Corps Of

LUMBERTON, Sept. 19 .- J. C. Fulton, sales supervisor of the Lumberton tobacco market, reported this morning that the Lumberton market will remain open with a full corps of buyers representing all companies as long as there is tobacco in this section to sell.

Mr. Fulton said that tobacco was not selling high on any market just now but that it was just a little higher in Lumberton. He is of the opinion that farmers will get as much or more for their tobacco in Lumberton than Lumberton has had a most successful season so far this year, said Mr. Fulton, and has chosen by many of the "floating trade", proving that the market Many Times Wood Used In is paying just "a little more" for tobacco. Mr. Fulton urges farmers to select their warehouse or the Lumberton market and sell the remainder of their crop there.
