Industry Ready to "Keep 'em Rolling" for Defense

Graphic illustration of the way in which one of America's greatest industries gears its activities with the United States Army for national defense is found at Little Falls, Minn., where the greatest peacetime maneuvers in the history of the country are being held Aug. 3-Aug. 24. To "keep them rolling," Chevrolet, one of the largest suppliers of motor transport equipment to the nation's armed forces, has set up through one of its dealers, the Bert Baston Motor Co., of Minneapolis, a complete parts and service headquarters in the military reservation at Little Falls. More than $10,000 worth of parts is maintained at this depot, where three service representatives are on duty 24 hours daily to service Chevrolet equipment in use. The 85,000 troops in actual combat maneuvers will use 1,180 Chevrolet transport units, including officers' cars, reconnaissance cars, hundreds of trucks adapted to special uses, and military ambulances. Upper left in the photo shows army transport crewmen servicing an ambulance. Upper right is the Chevrolet parts and service headquarters tent, where service experts are always on duty. Lower left is Lieut.-Col. R. F. Roessberg, of the Minnesota National Guard Quartermaster Corps. At lower center, an officers' car used by the major-general in command of the Little Falls encampment is being serviced. Lower right is an interior view of the Chevrolet parts tent, showing completeness of stock.

HURT IN FORDHAM GAME SAT.

"Sweet" Jim Lalanne, Quarterback, U. N. C.

Lalanne, star back for Carolina and sparkplug of the team, hurt his foot in the second quarter of the game with Fordham in New York Saturday after gaining 72 yards in 13 tries against the staunch Fordham Forward wall. He had to be removed from the game early in the third quarter after intercepting a pass, breaking up a Fordham drive.

DUKE 41-GA. TECH 7
DURHAM—Georgia Tech kicked off, Steve Lach returned 20 yards to Duke's 22. On the first play from scrimmage, Wilson's Jap Davis scampered 78 yards to touchdown—and the rout was on.

That was just one of a half-dozen touchdowns the Devils made Saturday afternoon as they spanked the Engineers from Atlanta, 41-7, in a game which made Duke's Home-coming Day a very enjoyable occasion for old grads.

Duke's big concrete horseshore was almost filled, and the official announcement put the attendance at 34,000.

Coach Wallace Wade of Duke used his No. 1 team as a unit for only 11 minutes. He began sending in subs just after the Devils had notched their third touchdown, so the No. 1 array's performance was almost at the rate of two points a minute—the regulars made 21 points in 10 minutes, 50 seconds.

Thereafter in the first half, Duke presented a mixture of members of the first, second, and third teams—and the Devils had a 33-0 lead at intermission.

FORDHAM WINS
NEW YORK—Striking twice with long, furious touchdown drives in the opening minutes of play, the Fordham Rams had little difficulty scoring a 14-0 victory over North Carolina in their inter-sectional battle before 16,000 at the Polo Grounds Saturday.

WRITERS ENJOY FULL PROGRAM IN BRUNSWICK
H. H. Thomas of the Fort Caswell Carolina Corporation was host, feeding and sleeping the guests at his own expense. He and several others were godsenders in this section for their efforts to provide suitable entertainment.

Churchill Bragaw of Orton and Charlie Mathews of Bald Head island did not wait for any calls to be made on them, but were standing-by or taking active part at all times.

The second day of the meeting George B. Canady and Col. Wm. Ochs of the New Hanover Fishing Club came down with an invitation to be the guests of the club in Wilmington for a short time. A rather full program already arranged prevented acceptance. Likewise, the same thing prevented the acceptance of a large number of other invitations extended by telephone and telegraph from various points. Myrtle Beach people were especially cordial in their invitations for a visit.

The five days were taken up with hunting, fishing, playing, with only a short time being given over to business. Several hundred pictures were made by Bill Baker, Charlie Farrell, Bob Thompson, Jimmy Stuber and Hammond Brown. Farrell also took two-hundred feet of color movie film.

Perhaps the most outstanding pictures made during the entire gathering were taken on Bald Head island. Bill Baker secured seven splendid layouts and many individual pictures. Farrell also got many shots and wound off a great deal of film. The outstanding picture of all will probably be that one in which President Roberts hooked a 33-pound drum while surf casting. The fish was fought up to the water line with Jimmie Stuber dancing around Roberts an dtelling him by signs how big it was, both movies and stills for the papers being taken of this. After Roberts had fought the fish to the water line, the hook came out of its mouth, and right there happened a natural for two or three splendid picture shots. Captain Hawk dashed into the water and flung himself on the fish, with Joe Brooks following suit by flinging himself on Hawk. With the surf breaking over both of them and with the cameras clicking, they waded ashore with the fish.

Robert also got another 18-pound drum. More than 30 sharks and almost as many stingarees were landed in addition to drum, flounder and one or two blue fish.

Southport people who met the visitors were very much pleased with them. One and all, they were regular fellows, friendly and congenial, appreciative of their visit to North Carolina. It is safe to say that all will be back some day.

Hopes of the G. O. P. to increase its congressional power was smashed when 10 Democrat additions were listed for the house of representatives. The Republicans gained one senator, with a dog-fight still in progress for a second seat.

The balance of power among the governors appeared unchanged, with 30 Democrats and 18 Republicans still occupying the office of chief executive in the various states. Changes occurred in 8 states, but advantage was may even exceed the all-time high number of 124 reported killed in December, 1937.

"Whatever may be the causes of accidents, this thing is true", he added, "that unless every agency and every person realizes that we face an emergency situation we will lose far more people by death in 1940 from auto accident than North Carolina lost in the World War. Traffic accidents threaten every citizen. Every citizen must act to remove that threat, and they must act now. Tomorrow will be too late for someone."

The above information refers to those of the white race, who are twenty-one years and not over thirty-one years of age, unmarried, without a police record, of good character and at least a seventh grade education.

He's Prepared to do his Part!

The thought of preparedness is not new to Bell Telephone workers. In fact, the South's and the nation's vast telephone system is what it is today mainly because preparedness is one of the fundamental principles of the Bell System's policy.

Telephone people are constantly at war with the elements, fire, flood and hurricane. They are prepared in advance to meet the emergency whenever and wherever danger strikes.

Rapidly changing industrial demands—shifting populations—quick expansions in some places and contractions at others—ever-changing problems of supply and demand, are conditions under which all telephone people are accustomed to working.

Years of experience in anticipating, planning for and meeting these exacting demands strengthen the confidence of telephone workers in their ability to provide for the needs of the South and the nation under any conditions that may arise.
