VEGETABLES TO PLANT

The following kinds of vegetables and feet of row for a family of five may be planted in March: Radishes and parsley 50 ft. Bloomsdale spinach 100 ft. Seventop turnip 100 ft. Gardien or Tendergreen 100 ft. Beans (English peas) 400 ft. Beets 200 ft. Carrots 200 ft. Turnips 100 ft. Onion sets 100 ft. Irish potatoes 400 feet.

The production of the above vegetables from the suggested feet of row should supply a family of five with early fresh vegetables and a surplus to can. Don't forget that every individual in your family should be provided with 32 quarts of canned vegetables for the year. So begin with the early supply and put as much as is practical with your present facilities for canning.

ASPARAGUS

Every home garden should have an asparagus bed. Twenty-five plants will provide a sufficient supply in the future for a family of five. Plant one-year roots which can be purchased from dealers in garden seeds. Martha Washington is a good variety to plant. Prepare a deep furrow 12 to 15 inches deep and place the roots 18 inches apart. Cover the roots with several inches of rich dirt, then after the sprouts come thru gradually fill the furrow as the young shoots develop. Filling the furrow to the level of the ground when planting may smother the young shoots before they reach the surface. The rows should be four feet apart. Do not cut any shoots until the second year.

FERTILIZERS

The fertilizer used by many home gardeners is a commercial mixture of a 5-7-5 analysis. The following table gives the amount per 100 feet of row. This is at the rate of around 800 to 1000 lbs. per acre.

FRUITS

You can still set out strawberry, dewberries, raspberries, grapes and tree fruits in March. A home garden is not complete

Geo. R. Foulke Goes To Virginia

Has Accepted Position With New Powder Co. That Is In Operation In That State

George R. Foulke plans soon to move from Winnabow to Virginia where he has been selected to manage a plant for the Hercules Powder Company. It is understood the family will go right away.

The farm at Winnabow, formerly the plantation and home of Governor Russell, will be retained and it is understood will be placed in charge of a manager, with the family and Mr. Foulke returning frequently. His selection to manage the powder plant was made unexpectedly to him and the call for his services came overnight. Last week he made a hurried trip to Virginia to look over the proposition, decided to accept and returned to make preparations for moving this week.

16 COUNTIES TO HAVE CO-OP LAMB MARKETS

L. I. Case, Extension animal husbandman of N. C. State College, says lamb grading and co-operative lamb marketing will be conducted this year in 16 counties. He invites farmers who are interested in this improved method of selling livestock to contact their county agents.

The counties where the co-op sales will originate are: Camden, Chowan, Pasquotank, Washington, Hyde, Tyrrell, Martin, Edgecombe, Pitt, Wilson, and Onslow in the East; and Alleghany, Ashe, Watauga, Mitchell, and Buncombe in the West.

Case suggests that farmers in these and nearby counties avail themselves of the opportunity to market their lambs at higher prices, and on a graded basis whereby they may learn from others how they rate as producers of quality sheep.

PUREBRED ANIMALS

During 1940 large numbers of purebred animals than in any recent year were certified for free entry into the United States under provisions of the tariff Act of 1930.

The wholesale food price index was at $2.55 on February 11, which was one cent more than a week earlier and 9.4 percent above the corresponding 1940 average of $2.33.

IMPORTS SMALLER

United States imports of cattle and beef in the calendar year 1940 were 20 percent smaller than in 1939, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

IRISH POTATOES

A program for the diversion into livestock feed of up to 12,500,000 bushels of 1940 crop Irish potatoes in eight Western states has been announced by the Surplus Marketing Administration.

Charleston Newspaper Urges Development Of Defenses In The Vicinity Of Southport

"When Fort Bragg was constructed the government moved its men to Fayetteville for training and the historic old Fort Caswell was sold into private hands. Hot water springs were discovered there and, today some of the emplacement pits which should hold our nations big 10 and 14 inch guns, hold water. They are converted into swimming pools.

"The grim walls of Fort Caswell stretch . . . along the peninsula on which it is situated and yet, it protects nothing, because it is unarmed. Much money is being spent building camps to house our draft army, while, at Fort Caswell, a complete camp is falling to pieces.

"Time has told its tale on Fort Caswell, but it hasn't seriously impaired the efficiency of the old fortress. Some iron work has rusted and some woodwork has rotted but the majority of the buildings need no work done on them at all. The stone base-end stations, plotting rooms, powder chambers, tool rooms and control stations need only the addition of a few delicate instruments of warfare and the addition of a few guns to make them as fully equipped as those at Fort Moultrie, which this fort so much resembles."

power companies, and make the presence of telephone or power lines equivalent to reclamation; permit marriage anywhere in the State under a license issued within the State, regardless of county of issuance, where the register of deeds has affixed his official seal to the license; authorize municipalities to transfer the city treasurer's duties to the city clerk; Permit the operation of school buses one day prior to the opening of school; and place local units issuing bonds, other than counties, cities and towns, under the Local Government Act.

AGRICULTURE BILLS

The agriculture bills include one to permit farmers to secure special half-price license tags for trucks used only in hauling their produce and supplies, but not for hire; and another to provide for the warehousing of other agricultural commodities as well as cotton. A comprehensive measure to regulate and supervise public live stock markets and live stock dealers, requiring a permit from the Commissioner of Agriculture upon certain health standards, was introduced, and a greatly extended seed law emerged from Committee in the form of a substitute bill. By another bill the Commissioner of Agriculture is authorized to establish and supervise a County and District Fair Division to classify fair and to contribute to premiums according to a set scale. A Senate measure would remove the license or privilege tax on buyers of scrap or unried tobacco, while a House measure would relieve the Department of Agriculture of supervision of dog vaccinations.

REVISION

The administration-sponsored Highway and Public Works Commission revision bill heads the list of roads measures sent to Committees during the week. The bill would reduce the members' term from six to four year, establish a statewide rather than district system of representation, and invest the commission chairman with all Commission authority when the latter is not in session. Two other important meaasures would (1) set up a $4,000,000 fund for construction of secondary roads throughout the State, and (2) require proof of financial responsibility for car and truck operators, on conviction of motor vehicle law violation instead of upon failure to satisfy judgment. The recent Supreme Court Decision declaring invalid parking meters because they were without legislative authorization prompted a measure authorizing cities to pass ordinances to impose parking fees.

HEALTH BILL

A measure related to both health and highway would have the State Board of Health govern bus station sanitation and issue certificates of approval revocable by the Utilities Commission upon recommendation of the Health Board.

EDUCATION

Education bills provide for: a $15,000 appropriation to establish Indian and vocational normal schools; the purchase of free texts with surplus funds from the Textbook Rental Fund; the allocation of an amount equal to 5 percent of the State gross taxes on intoxicants to the school fund to be used in teaching the effect of alcoholism and narcotism; a commission to study the problems in transition of students from high school to college; and the authorization of city or county units to provide kindergartens.

MISCELLANEOUS

Other bills introduced included: a "Townsend plan" calling for a $15 per month pension to everyone over 65; a provision for light saving time in the State until the last Sunday in April; a regulation of unfair sales practices; a uniform partnership and a bill rewriting the limited partnership law; setting forth uniform rules of practice for administrative agencies; a provision for alimony after absolute divorce upon grant of two years separation; a constitutional amendment to provide the General Assembly to elect the number of solicitors and the number of judicial districts; a provision for a $100 per month pension for widows of former attorney Generals; an exclusion of newsboys under 18 from benefits of unemployment compensation; and a re-writing of the inheritance law.
