BRIDE-TAYLOR

centered with white Canhamiana orchids.

The bride had as her maid-of-honor her sister, Miss Katherine Taylor, who wore a gown of pink lace and marquisette with a high neckline, lace torso, and bouffant skirt of lace and marquisette. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay of pink roses, white snapdragons, and blue delphinium. Miss Freta Ann Jones, of Shelby, was junior maid and wore a gown of pink net with short puffed sleeves. She carried a miniature nosegay. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Kenneth McDonald of Gainesville, Fla., sister of the bridegroom, Miss Gretchen Baldwin, of Dunn, Miss Ruth Ashworth, of Fayetteville, and Miss Janie Parker, of Woodland. They wore blue gowns of lace and marquisette fashioned identically to that of the maid-of-honor and carried nosegays of the same design.

The bridegroom's father, J. W. Ruark of Southport, attended him as best man, and ushers were Sherwood Jones of Raleigh, uncle of the bride, Winslow Edwards, of New Bern, cousin of the bridegroom, A. B. Hall, of Wilmington, and Tucker Burruss, of Raleigh.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of Alice blue lace and marquisette with a square yoke, short sleeves, and full skirt. She wore long white gloves and had a shoulder corsage of orchids. The mother of the bridegroom wore a gown of pink chiffon with a low V neckline, and a full skirt on a long torso of lace. She wore lace mittens. Her shoulder corsage was also of orchids.

The bride is a graduate of Meredith College and made her debut in 1938 at the annual Terpsichorean Ball in Raleigh. For the past year, she has been supervisor of public school music in the Goldsboro public schools.

Mr. Ruark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ruark, of Southport. He graduated from State College, where he was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity. He is now a government textile inspector in the Quartermaster Corps and is located in Asheville.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Taylor, parents of the bride, entertained the wedding party and out-of-town guests at a reception at their home. An ice course in the bridal motif, with individual iced cakes, nuts, and punch, was served.

For traveling, the bride changed to a white suit with powder blue accessories. She wore a shoulder corsage of white orchids. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Ruark will be at home at 6 Charlotte Street, Asheville.

ATTENTION VOTERS

— OF —

BRUNSWICK . . . COLUMBUS, NEW HANOVER and PENDER COUNTIES

I am most grateful for your vote and support in the First Primary, which gave me a substantial lead in the race for District Solicitor. I look forward with confidence to June 27th, next Saturday, when you will make your final choice. I ask for your vote and assistance on that day. If I am elected District Solicitor, I shall consider it a great honor and a sacred trust. I promise that I shall serve every part of the District impartially, will be ready at all times to answer the call of duty. Will cooperate with all law enforcement officers, the Judges, the Court officials and the public, to the end that justice will be done as far as it lies within my power. The duties of this office are important to our war effort, and I shall be alert to every opportunity to serve my Country in this capacity, and in every other manner possible. Won't you let me serve you?

Sincerely,

CLIFTON L. MOORE
