HOBO PARTY

The Training Union of the Baptist church was entertained at an outing Thursday night by Misses Marjorie Potter and Louise Rees. Nineteen guests arrived and went out to Clear Lake for a "Hobo Convention." Gathered around a big camp fire at the edge of the lake they played games, made some "trampy" resolutions and roasted wieners. Miss Thelma Sellers was awarded the prize—a can of lyo—for being the trampiest tramp.

The occasion also marked the birthday of Mrs. George Whatley and she was presented with a birthday cake with candles. The cake was sliced by Mrs. Whatley and enjoyed by all the guests.
 Those attending the "convention" were Mrs. George Whatley, Mrs. Jessie Cooperider, Mrs. John Dail, Mrs. George Stephens, Jr., Mrs. Walter Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Golden, Misses Nancy Cooperider, Thelma Sellers, Dora Walton, Olive Jean Smith, Vickie Lancaster, Susie Sellers, Pearl Mae Lewis, Barbara Weeks, Marjorie Potter, Louise Rees, Bobby Brown and Hubert Livingston.

HOME ON BUSINESS

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bennett, former residents of Waccamaw township who now live in Charleston, were visitors at their former home on business over the week-end. They are among many Charleston folks who get this paper and Mr. Bennett said it is something they looked forward to receiving each week.

When Mother Goose, who in private life was Mrs. Isaac Goose of Boston, wrote "Mary, Mary Quite Contrary" she had Mary, Queen of Scots, in mind.
