

Crutchfield's Considered Among Best In Business

Raymond Crutchfield Leads Management This Year, With Brother, Gaither, In The Army

EXCELLENT FORCE ON FLOOR, IN OFFICE

Operators Of Warehouse Have Been Unusually Fortunate In Getting Men With Wide Experience For Key Positions

August 1st heralds the opening of another successful tobacco season for Crutchfield, as there has been little change in the sales force that has served Crutchfield patrons for the past several years.

General renovation of the Crutchfield Warehouse has conditioned Crutchfield facilities for better handling of tobacco than ever before in the history of the operations of the Crutchfield boys here.

For many years, the Crutchfield brothers, Raymond and Gaither, have successfully run the Crutchfield warehouse in Whiteville and their long list of farmer friends has lengthened immensely. Today, they are considered two of the best tobaccoists in the business.

Raymond has been actively engaged in the tobacco business for over 16 years and has chalked up a neat record, which has readily placed him at the top. Gaither, the younger of the two, now in the U. S. Army, is also rated as one of the best warehousemen in the realm of tobacco and has played a prominent role in the success of Crutchfield's. Their winning personality and square dealing have covered the mammoth floor of their warehouse with golden weed for many years and promise to do the same in the current season that opens next week.

Raymond will lead the sales and will be ably supported on the floor and in following the sale is considered one of the best ex-

known to Crutchfield patrons. His work, as heretofore will be to render whatever service he can to the farmers selling at the big Crutchfield house.

Very little change has been made in the warehouse force for the coming year. W. M. Williams will begin another year with Crutchfield's as floor manager. Mr. Williams has been with Crutchfield's for a number of years and has made a good name for himself. To round out a policy of excellent 24-hour service, E. B. Coleman will act as night floor manager.

Buck Wall with that familiar habble that the farmer deciphers as "more money" will auction off the golden weed. He has had years of practical experience and

CONSERVATION OF FORESTS WILL BE GREAT IMPERATIVE

There is a better way to handle our timber lands.

Intelligent cutting can fully supply our mills without wrecking our forests. Selective cutting can take out the old, the overmature, the slow-growing, and the defective trees. The younger, more vigorous trees can be left to take on more growth. Young trees can be thinned instead of slaughtered, leaving a well-spaced stand to grow more rapidly. Fires can be kept out. Always, the forest can be kept growing.

Will we have a thriving forest industry twenty years from now? It all depends on how we treat our woodlands in the coming years.

parts in the tobacco auctioneering business.

Greeting the farmers at the warehouse office will be bookkeeper Ed E. Watts, a man well known to Crutchfield customers and well versed in his job. He will be happy to welcome his old friends back and to greet new ones. Herman Simpson will handle the books on the floor during sales and John Dunn will be back again to carry the clip.

C. E. Williamson, Jr., will be on hand to weigh the many pounds of golden leaf that has already started pouring into Crutchfield's Warehouse — one of the most modern warehouses in Whiteville that offer many conveniences to the tobacco farmer. Everette Love will serve as ticket marker.

Coon Nunn will replace Herman Simpson as bookman.

This personnel, with a rich background of experience in the marketing and selling of tobacco, guarantees all who come to Crutchfield's the best in prices and courtesies.
