PUBLIC CALLED UPON TO MEET OBLIGATION

Same Workers As In 7th War Loan Drive; Hoping Much From Efforts Of School Officials And Children

The Victory Loan drive, something that the American people can really rejoice in and celebrate, began Monday of this week. LeRoy Mintz, chairman of the drive in Brunswick county, announced last week that during the drive bonds would be for sale by the same agencies that worked so untiringly in the Big 7th War Loan Drive. may be secured at the Waccamaw Bank, the various post offices, the Building and Loan Association or from the chairman at his office in Shallotte. Much effort on the part of the school principals, teachers and other public-spirited citizens to put the drive over is being hoped for, Mr. Mintz said yesterday that, with the war over, he realized the task of interesting the public in securing bonds would a hard one. However, he pointed out, it is both a duty and one of the finest investments to put all spare money in bonds and to hold those bonds for use

"During the war many hundreds who did the actual fightingbought war bonds on the limited service pay they received," said Mr. Mintz. "Now at home those same boys are buying Victory Bonds to celebrate the victory which they won. The American men and women who stayed safeafford to do otherwise."

"We should all buy Victory Bonds," said the Chairman. "In that we have won the war Picture Of Famous Her- We have an obligation to meet, the obligation of meeting the final score, settling the account that our boys fought and died THE ARMED SERVICE for. I am urging every patriotic man and woman in Brunswick to buy Victory Bonds today and to work urging their neighbors to buy. ## Are Reinlisting

Many veterans who served throughout the war and received honorable discharges seem to be planning to make the Army their career. From this county quite a number of men have re-enlisted soon after their discharges. Army seas with the army for almost last week, were asked regarding the following information. "Men who enlist or re-enlist
