Ancient Swing Located At Supply

At least until someone comes along and proves otherwise, is laying county claim to having the oldest swing in the State still serviceable and capable of sustaining as many children as it did when first erected almost a hundred years ago.

In fact, the swing is un-breakable. It is a chain with heavy, hand-forged links of rustless iron. This chain is suspended on a huge limb of the giant oak tree in the yard of the late R. W. McKeithan,

The exact date when the chain was put in the tree to serve as a swing is uncertain, around a hundred years ago. Many generations of children have used it.
