

County Women Attend Meeting

Mrs. Frank Mintz, Of Bolivia, Honored At Graduation Exercises For Farm And Home Week

Brunswick county was ably represented at Farm and Home Week at N. C. State College August 25-29th by 5 club members: Mrs. Frank Mintz, Bolivia; Mrs. Olivia Russ, Bolivia; Mrs. Nelson Bennett, Longwood; Mrs.

Jessie Purvis, Ash; and Mrs. Evelyn Holden, Supply. Monday saw them arriving, happily greeting one another, registering and making new acquaintances.

While in Raleigh they attended classes, were privileged to hear speakers such as Dorothy Thompson, Dr. I. O. Schaub, Dr. Jane S. McKemmon and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. They toured Raleigh, visited the Governors mansion and other historical spots of interest. They were presented to the governor and other State officials. They were very much impressed with the State Silver Service. It is said to be the only silver in the U. S. engraved with the insignia of its State. It cost seven thousand dollars.

Radio entertainment was provided and broadcast through station W. R. A. L. each night at Riddick Stadium. Wednesday night was county contest night. Each county selected a contestant to represent their county. That person had to describe and relate facts about her county, trying at the time to prevent the three people provided by the announcer from guessing their county. Mrs. Nelson Bennett represented Brunswick county and won the contest.

Delegates were entertained Tuesday night at a reception by North Carolina State College, Thursday evening at a garden party on Holladay Hall Campus and Thursday night at a square dance at the Frank Thompson gym.

Friday was honor day and marked the graduation of Mrs. Frank Mintz. This is the last year graduation exercises will be held.

Friday was also closing day and one of farewells. Each member that attended advises the Farm Women and men of Brunswick county plan to attend next year.

BEER—The Beverage of Moderation

Let's Take A Look at the Brewers Foundation

Question: What is the chief function of the North Carolina Committee of the Foundation?

Answer: To see to it that beer and ale are retailed under conditions in keeping with the strict demands of public opinion and the high standards of the brewing industry itself.

Question: How are the Committee's aims accomplished?

Answer: Field men visit beer outlets regularly. If undesirable conditions are found, dealers are advised. Most dealers want to cooperate and welcome suggested improvements.

Question: Suppose these suggestions are not carried out?

Answer: The retailer is reported to the licensing authority having jurisdiction, with a request that his license be revoked or suspended.

If you drink beer, please patronize only reputable places.
