

Radio Repairman Opens Shop Here

Paul Mason of Pink Hill is moving his family here this week and will open a radio repair shop in the Ormond Leggett building next door to the Amuzu theatre. Owner and operator of a shop in Pink Hill, Mr. Mason has had much experience in the repair and reconstruction of radios. He will open shop in a few days, as soon as his equipment arrives and can be set up. Mr. Leggett will continue to handle radios and appliances in the same building.

Seed Available For Fall Crops

Brunswick county farmers will be able to obtain seed for planting winter cover crops through the Agriculture Conservation Program this fall, according to J. J. Hewes, secretary. Mr. Hawes says that Austrian winter peas, vetch, crimson clover, ryegrass, orchard grass, Dallas grass and fescue seed are now available as conservation materials. As in the past, phosphate and limestone materials also are available.

wrong here. These folks don't look like young Democrats or any other sort of Democrats."

"I think the same," said Marion. Bunn leaned over and politely addressed the man on his right with the question: "What sort of a meeting is this, please?"

"Why," said the man, "it is our CIO Convention, of course."

"My God," said Bunn. "Let's get out of here Marion, what will happen if those folks at Southport find out we are attending such a meeting?"

Father and daughter hastened out and made their way back to the lobby of the hotel and Bunn strode up the desk and addressed the clerk.

What I wanted to know is where are they holding the Young Democrats Convention? We didn't drive 200 miles up here to attend a CIO meeting."

"Oh," said the clerk, I am sorry the CIO Convention is the only one being held in the city today and tomorrow. The Young Democrats Convention is not scheduled to be held until September 17th and 18th.

Two hours later Bunn and Marion were nearly half way back to Southport and still going strong.

urgent appeal for strong support of this organization this year.

They cite many benefits which have come to farmers as a result of Farm Bureau activity, and they point out that greater benefits will come about only as the strength of the organization increases.

While an active solicitation is being conducted in all parts of the county, it is hoped that persons who may not be contacted will mail in their membership to J. J. Hawes, secretary of the county organization, at Supply.

CAPEL'S HOSE

until roads come and other fine homes find wooded sand dune retreats on the down towards Holden Beach and the Lockwood Folly inlet.

In all about seven miles of highway runs down through Long Beach. A little over four miles of this distance at the upper end was taken over and paved six or eight years ago after being built up and a foundation laid by the beach owners.

The three and a half miles just taken over is an extension of this original distance. The beach people had built it up and paved it but heavy traffic resulting from the hauling in of building material had put this original paving in very bad condition when the Highway Commission took over, about three weeks ago.

About fifty homes, most of them fine ones for beach residences, are already on the new three and a half mile stretch leading to near the Capel's place. It is predicted that with the road being taken care of from now on this stretch of new highway will make even more rapid growth than the older section of the beach. Hundreds of prominent people from all sections of the state own building lots along the ten mile stretch of strand that gives the place the name of Long Beach. The development of this beach was started and is still being carried on by the Carolina Lands, Inc., of Charleston, S. C., E. F. Middleton of Charleston and Southport is one of the active heads. Mr. Middleton has always been a key figure in fostering the development that has taken place at this popular resort.

However, it can also be said that many of the home and lot owners are equally progressive and enthusiastic about the development. They are building and boosting and with the fine united spirit to begin with there can be no doubt that Middleton's belief in Long Beach development into a great seaside resort will be entirely justified.

The place is already becoming widely famed.

PRETTY POND PURCHASED

Mrs. Holden is chairman of the Camp Committee of the local Girl Scouts and Mrs. Jones is executive director of the Cape Fear Area Council.

Mrs. Holden a volunteer Girl Scout worker, was appointed to head the committee by the Girl Scouts board of directors. She was assisted in the long negotiations by H. A. Marks, Hal Love N. A. Avera, L. C. Robertson, R. C. Allen, the Rev. Edgar Fisher and Edgar Yow.

Pretty Pond, often likened to White Lake in Bladen county by reason of the beautiful sloping white sand beach, teems with bass and crapie. It is ideal for fishing, bathing, boating. It is really a lake, with no outlet or inlet, situated on a high, well drained area and getting its water supply from springs located in the deeper, central points.

With no stump, trees or other obstructions, it will probably become a spot for sailing after the Girl Scouts take over.

The lake is located about 12 miles from Southport, accessible from either the River Road or the Bell Swamp highway. In addition to this lake, and the property acquired by the council, there are numerous other lakes nearby. Some of these, especially miles from Pretty Pond, is a clove-

Gore or Long Pond, teem wither leaf shaped body of water al-fish. Gore Pond, less than three most as large as Pretty Pond and has possibilities of being deve-

ed into a hunting and fishing servation.
