Woman's Club

An informal talk on "Fall Transplanting" made by O. D. Hyatt, horticulturist at Orton Plantation, was the feature of the first program of the year for the Southport Woman's Club. Afterwards there was a round-table discussion which the club members found to be most helpful.

Mrs. E. H. Arrington, chairman of the ways and means committee made a report on the luncheon given on the day that 11th District Club Women met in Southport, and from this report it was apparent that the meeting was a success in every way.

The club adopted a resolution recommending the establishment of a public health department in Brunswick county which will meet the requirements of the State Board of Health.

Miss Annie May Woodside, chairman of a committee named to bring the club constitution up to date, made her report and the recommendations were approved by the club.

Mrs. L. D. Hayman became a new member of the club at this meeting.

ing too free with the corn fields and other crops of farmers.

Fernside is a native of California. Away back when a boy his father heard of Horace Greely's advice to go west and grow up with the country. His father was born there in California and so was John. A few years ago this third generation of California settlers hit upon the idea of coming east and settling in Brunswick county where there was good hunting and fishing.

He bought a farm in Waccamaw township, near Freeland and Makotoka, and on the edge of the Great Green Swamp. There he has all of the hunting and fishing and gulding that he can well do.

To both the resident hunters as well as to the non-resident hunting visitor, the use of an experienced guide in the Green Swamp is an absolute necessity. Many skilled woodsmen have been lost for days in the swamp, which covers many thousands of acres abounding in deer and bear.

With an occasional dog being lost in encounters with bear or bob cats, Fernside still manages to keep a fair sized pack of bear hounds on hand. This year he has only five, led by Betty, a black and fawn colored hound that is now somewhat aged, but still leader of the pack.

Most of his bear dogs are females, as their names indicate. The are, Betty, Beaver, Pup, Lady and Lou. In search of bear or deer all work individually. Once a trail is struck, they become a collective unit, all working as one to run down whatever they are after. If it is a deer the aim is to drive it within range of the deadly, old time, Winchester that their master carries.

Despite the wilderness of swamp and wood it takes a smart bear to escape the hunter and hounds, once a trail is struck. It is said that Fernside has never missed getting his full quota of two bears each season. In addition he has put the finishing touches to many a crop destroying bear during the closed seasons and has been the guide who has led other hunters on to get their quotas of bear and deer.

WHERE I STAND

ODELL WILLIAMSON

1.—Automobile Inspection Law—

It is my sincere belief that the Motor Vehicle Inspection Law as now written is unfair to the ordinary citizen and is causing him unreasonable worry and unnecessary expense. I was opposed to this LAW as now written while a member of the last session of the North Carolina General Assembly, and when I go back to Raleigh in January, one of the first matters which will receive my attention will be to help bring about Legislation which will eliminate the Unfair and Impractical Features of this law.

2.—State Aid For Public School Building—

Under the present law, responsibility for construction and maintenance of Public School Buildings rests entirely upon the county. Because Brunswick is not a wealthy county, this system has resulted in our children being seriously handicapped in their educational facilities. More buildings and improvements to existing buildings are vital to the educational progress of our county, and help for this program must come from the State of North Carolina. In order to place Brunswick on an equal basis with every other county in North Carolina so far as Educational Facilities are concerned, I shall support Legislation which will bring State Aid to the Public School Building Program.

3.—Better Roads Program—

During the past two years Brunswick County has seen many miles of hardsurfaced roads added to our highway system, and at present there are more paving projects in progress than ever before in the history of the county.

This is only the Beginning. It is my opinion that every citizen and Taxpayer is entitled to a Safe, All-Weather Road upon which to travel to and from his home, over which to transport his children to school and over which to haul his produce to market. I shall strongly support every effort to bring Good Roads to every section of Brunswick County.
