Observance Of Dogwood Week New Drive Is Being Made On Brunswick Plantation Grounds By

Mrs. Cornelius Thomas, of the beautiful Clarendon plantation on the River Road, are showing Dogwood Week by making a driveway through the growth of these trees. The growth of these trees is unusually heavy. They have been appropriately named this "Dogwood Drive".

Thomas says that visitors to the garden this year will be viewing one of the finest areas of dogwood in the State.

He has added 6000 pansy to the garden this year and promise a gorgeous color in the spring. The tulips and the rose

Clarendon has a wide range of blooming flowers, azaleas, and so on. One of the interesting sights of the garden is the beautiful Japanese cherry trees. So far as is known, Clarendon is the only place where the cherry trees may be seen in bloom. The cherry trees do not need Washington at its famous cherry blossom time.

Eddie Summartin and W. P. Pearce.

Phillip Watson Jordan was killed about 5:45 p. m. when the motorbike he was riding collided with an automobile on U. S. Highway 74-76 near Alligator Creek bridge in Brunswick County.

According to Highway Patrolmen, Jordan was riding his motorbike west and met an automobile driven by Robert Primrose Gooding, 55, of Route 1, Beaufort. The officer said it was raining hard at the time and no tire marks in the road could be obtained.
