Choral Club In Musical Concert

Group Under Direction Of Ben C. Stevenson Presented Delightful Program Here Thursday

The Southport Choral Club, comprised of a group of fourteen women voices under the direction of Ben C. Stevenson, presented a concert Thursday evening in the high school auditorium.

The chorus showed great versatility in their performance, and several of the numbers with which they delighted their audience were unusually difficult.

The proceeds from this program were divided equally between the Southport high school band and the fire truck fund. It included the following numbers: "The Green Cathedral", Hahn, chorus; "Sea Fever", Andrews, Mrs. H. C. Corlette; "The Naughty Little Clock", DeKoven, and "The Weaver", Adams, chorus; "Trees", Kilmer, Mr. Stevenson; "Who Is Sylvia?", Schubert, chorus; "Indian Love Call", Friml, Mrs. Bryant Potter; Chorale from "Finlandia", Sibelius, chorus; "Scarf Dance", C. Chaminade, Miss Barbara Adams, Miss Ruth Patterson, Mrs. Dallas Pigott and Mrs. L. D. Hayman; "The Monotone", Cornelius, Miss Ruth Patterson; "La Cucaracha", Mexican Folk Song, and "Carmina", Wilson-Fulton, chorus.
