

Fines Continue In County Court

Another Long List Of Traffic Violators Poured Over Six Hundred Dollars Into School Fund Treasury

Not including a sizable sum in forfeited bonds, Monday's session of the Recorder's court took in the sum of $630.00 in fines. In permitting bonds for speedsters, most of whom are non-residents

Referendum Questions-Answers

Question: Who is eligible to vote in the flue-cured tobacco referendum?

Answer: Any person who has an interest in the 1949 crop of flue-cured tobacco as owners, tenant, or sharecroppers.

Question: How many voters must approve quotas to make them effective?

Answer: At least two-thirds of those voting in the referendum.

Question: Is it necessary for eligible voters to cast their ballots in their own community?

Answer: Every voter is expected to vote in the community in which his main farming activities are located. If he has a farm in another community, he may vote in either place but can't vote in both places. Any eligible voter, however, can vote in any community he wishes, but his ballot may be challenged if his name is not on the list in that community.

Question: On a farm operated by several members of the same family, which member or members are entitled to vote?

Answer: Only those members who have an independent bona fide status as operator, share tenant, or share cropper and are entitled to share in the proceeds of the 1949 crop.

QUESTION: What questions will appear on the ballot?

Answer: There will be three question: (1) Are you in favor of quotas for three years, 1950, 1951, and 1952? (2) Do you favor the quota for one year

1950, but oppose quotas for three years? (3) Are you opposed to any quotas?

Question: If quotas are disapproved will they affect the payment of penalties on overplanted acreage in 1949?

Answer: No. Penalties for excess flue-cured tobacco in 1949 will have to be paid whether quotas are approved or disapproved in this referendum.

Beach Booster Plans To Build

Greensboro Man Hopes To Retire And Make His Per- manent Home At Long Beach

R. H. Barbee, Greensboro shoe store man, speaking of Long Beach yesterday, said he owned a home there and that he intended to buy a lot and build another. In six years he plans to retire from business and establish his permanent residence at the beach.

"In six years," said Mr. Barbee, "Long Beach will be one of the biggest beaches on our coast. With its southern frontage on the ocean, a fact that makes it safe from storms, it can do nothing but grow steadily. Like its name, it has the longest strand of any beach I know of, with a surf and absence of undertows that makes it safe for bathers of all ages. I do not know any better beach than Long Beach and I am sort of thrilled at its prospects for the future."

Mr. Barbee added that in addition to its own qualities as a beach was set down in the midst of the best sport fishing area on the North Carolina coast.

Catching Trout And Flounders

Use Of Live Bait Has Im- proved Luck Of Sports- men Who Are Fishing From Pier At Ft. Caswell

A. R. Boatwright of Long Beach says that some really good catches of flounder and trout made off Caswell Beach and Long Beach this past week. Some of the flounders weighed seven and eight pounds and trout were about one-half as large.

Boatwright says that folks seem to be just now learning that live bait, minnows or live shrimp, are the best possible bait for flounder. Up to this year the general idea has been that minnows were only good when used in freshwater.

For flounders Dr. J. R. Hyatt of Southport prefers the live shrimp, but may be because he can get them easy any time when the weather will permit fishing. During hot weather like the present it is difficult to keep minnows alive for any length of time.

Speaking of the various flounder baits, Jack Christian of Wilmington, former Southport man, said this week that he used a small white plug that dives deeply and moves along the bottom when being retrieved.

One thing is certain, a whole lot of folks are becoming genuinely interested in flounder fishing and they seem to be finding some very effective ways of taking these prized fish with hook and line.

All-Stars All-Wet

The Border Belt League All-Star Game, scheduled to have been played at Legion Field, here, Thursday night, was called off because of rain and wet grounds. Hard rains, which started falling around 6 o'clock, caused the postponement of the "dream battle". It will probably be played on a future date, to be set at an early meeting of the BBL officials.

Flue-cured Tobacco REFERENDUM

Here is the chance that the Tobacco Farmer has to help himself. On Saturday all persons who are directly responsible for the production of the flue-cured tobacco crop will be given an opportunity to say whether he wants to continue in a program where fair prices are assured, or whether he wishes to return to a cut-throat, haphazard system of production.

Consider What Has Been Good For You....
Then Vote Accordingly!

The Tobacco Associates, Inc., organization was set up three years ago to employ someone to seek foreign markets for flue-cured tobacco. In the meantime tobacco farmers voted to assess themselves 10c per acre of their planted acreage each year for a period of three years to create a fund for this purpose. Tobacco farmers are again being asked to vote as to whether they will accept this 10c per acre assessment for the years 1950, 1951, and 1952.
