High Times

By: Lib, Jan, Toog and Glo

Here we are once more with the weekly news and gossip around the school. Everyone is waiting anxiously for basketball season to begin and then we will have more news for you. But for the time being here are the latest happenings.

Friday night a gala affair took place at Big Hill on Long Beach. The two home economics classes had a rip-roaring time on a weiner roast. Some of the students there were Lena Ward, Linda Hickman, Catherine and Rebecca McRacken, G. W. Fisher, Gene Russ, Sonny Hickman and Tommy Bowmer. Some of the sophomores were Karen Swan, Harriet Corlette, Mary Lupton and Mary Ann Loughlin. The chaperones were Mr. Robinson, Miss Long and Mrs. Gilbert.

Around the campus: We saw Mary Ann Loughlin Monday during activity period borrowing ink for her pin. During fourth period we saw Lattia Hickman reading a library book getting prepared for a book report in biology. We saw Kay Moore struggling over her English homework. We heard Janice Swan talking already about who will help with the junior class play this year. During study period we heard Mr. Robinson giving fifty page themes. Ask Karen Swan and Elizabeth Lupton why they can't talk in biology this week. Monday morning we saw Bernice Phelps running up and down the hall for Mr. Sanders. We are having the inside of the school painted, even Mr. Sanders' office. We saw Linda Hickman deeply interested in a book during study period. Billy McDowell was trying to borrow a pencil. Bobby Spencer was talking about the theme he has to write. We saw the sophomore students busy reading library books since they have only twenty-one to read this year. We saw Danny Harrelson, Pete Larson, Douglas Watts, Ed Hanson and a few Southport, Mr. Powell was especially interested. That makes it a splendid business proposition, here, not there at one of the beaches, he said.

R. W. Powell Of Goldsboro Thinks That Hotel In Southport Would Be Good Year-Round Proposition

"A hotel at Southport is the crying need of the moment. At the same time such construction would be tops as a good-business proposition. In addition to being a big paying business it would help our nearby beaches more than anything else would."

The above was from R. W. Powell of Goldsboro, one of the leading figures among the owners of Caswell Beach. Mr. Powell was being interviewed by the Rovin' Reporter for the Pilot Sunday morning. He brought out some local angles of the hotel proposition that have not heretofore been given much consideration.

"You realize," said Mr. Powell, here at Southport a hotel would be a good year-round paying proposition. It is already a big need for sport fishermen, who come here almost the year-round. Added to them would be hundreds of tourists who come to Orton during the winter and spring months and who would like to come on here, if there was a hotel. Then there are hunters all through the winter and hundreds of yachtsmen. All would like to see a good hotel at Southport and they would patronize it liberally.

"Last, but not least," he said, "there are thousands of summer visitors to our beaches and there would be many times more if they could get hotel accommodations in Southport. The need for a hotel will increase greatly during the coming year with the Baptists taking over Fort Caswell."

Shallotte Folks Have Good Dance

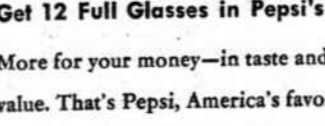

Dance On Last Wednesday Night In Legion Hut Was Enjoyable Social Occasion Reports Legion Commander

Commander Edward H. Redwine of the Shallotte Post American Legion says that the dance held at the Legion Hut Wednesday night was a big success in every way. The music furnished by Nick Ponos and his Wilmington orchestra was excellent and evoked many compliments.

This band plays at the Legion Hut in Wilmington each Saturday night. It appeared at the Shallotte Legion Hut in May and plans to make regular monthly appearances at Shallotte. Among the things already being arranged is a costume party at Hall-owen's and a masquerade dance on New Year's Eve.

Mr. Redwine says that the square dance each Saturday night is attracting considerable attention. One car load of people from Hallsboro and another from Wanaish have not missed a dance since the Hut first opened. Good order prevails at all of the dances, he reports.

Seminary May Like Prospect

Dr. W. H. Davis Of Baptist Theological Seminary, Of Louisville, Is Greatly Interested In Ft. Caswell

Dr. W. H. Davis, one of the deans at Baptist Theological Seminary of Louisville, Ky., is very much interested in the possibilities of Fort Caswell, which is being acquired by the Baptists of North Carolina.

Owning a home at Holden's beach and spending the summers there, Dr. Davis was seen at Shallotte Saturday and Fort Caswell was very much of an outstanding subject, so far as he was concerned.

He pointed out that the place will take a lot of money to be developed to the furthest of its possibilities. At the same time he expressed no doubt that the Baptists will get that money and really develop the place into something of great value to all of North Carolina, especially to this
