Couple Returns For Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. George Abbott of Woodbury Heights, N. J., will spend month of October in Area

Mr. and Mrs. George Abbott, Woodbury Heights, N. J., are at Long Beach and Southport for their annual vacation period of one month. They have been coming here each fall for the past four years and are so pleased with this section of North Carolina that they hope to retire in a few years and make their permanent home here.

Mr. Abbott is one of the owners of the Abbott Dairy Products Distributors, one of the major industries of its kind in Philadelphia.

In this office Monday Mrs. Abbott stated that one thing that makes the Brunswick county coast so attractive to them is the quiet, uncrowded and unhurried way of things. She said that she knew that in the course of time both Long Beach and Caswell Beach will fill up with people. But, she added, the beach is such a long one it will take thousands and thousands of people to really fill it up and therefore we should have a quiet beautiful beach for many years to come.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Abbott are very much devoted to fishing. This is one reason why they always pick the month of October for their vacation. In furtherance of their plans for a full month of fishing, they brought with them from Philadelphia the real thing in a small fishing boat, powered by two outboard motors. They are placing the boat on Davis Creek and using that place as a base for operations. They expect to make many forays in neighboring waters, including the creeks around Bald Head Island.

Talent Night Being Planned

A county-wide amateur talent night will be held in the Bolivia school auditorium Wednesday November 16 under the sponsorship of the eighth grade.

There is no age limit but no one will be allowed to enter who has ever appeared on a paid radio or stage program and only Brunswick county talent including teachers will be eligible. Any kind of musical number, dance, impersonation or act is eligible. Valuable cash prizes will be given to the three contestants giving the best performances.

Each principal in the county will be asked to secure three contestants from their community. For further information regarding the contest contact Mrs. Anna Mary McDowell, Bolivia school. Proceeds will be for the benefit of the 8th grade students' Spring trip to Raleigh.

Visitor Returns To Birthplace

Alfred R. Reynolds Here Recently For Visit After Being Gone From Southport For Half-Century

An interesting visitor here the past week was Alfred Rankin Reynolds from Jacksonville, Fla. who returned for his first visit in over half-century. Mr. Reynolds was born in Southport in 1880 and moved to Jacksonville with his parents in 1893.

He was accompanied on the trip from Charleston by Mrs. Reynolds and their son, Richard Reynolds, and Mrs. Gilita Dawson, sister of Mrs. Reynolds.

Mr. Reynolds was born in a house that stood on the corner where the brick building owned by Dr. Roy Daniels now stands. He lived there with his parents until he was 13 years old, at which time the family moved to Florida.

The father of Mr. Reynolds was of the first engineers on steamboats on the Cape Fear river. Among the boats on which he served were the Lotise, Bessie and

The Pirate Log

By: The Three Buccaneers (Kat, Jan and Peg.)

This week consisted mostly of studying for tests. The students can't seem to get settled down to their old routine of homework.

Thursday a dog show was presented. It was sponsored by the juniors and we think it was enjoyed by everyone. The dogs acted with as much sense as people. They even walked on tight ropes, two passing each other at the same time.

Friday some of the football boys took off for Southport to see a thrilling game between Southport and Chadbourne. The Shallotte Pirates are expecting to play Southport Friday afternoon.

Last week we failed to mention that Jimmy Kirby, a former student of Shallotte, has been home on leave. He is in the Navy and is stationed in California.

The cool weather has already brought out many winter plaids. They are in all colors red, green, brown, blue and many others. Among those who have been lighting up the halls with the latest styles are Louise Hewett, Gertrude Leonard, Carol Ann Sellers, Billie Leonard, Sylvia Semons and Cecilia Tripp.

Short hair has also taken the lead. We are seeing these new haircuts on Mary Emma Tripp, Myrna Clemmons and latest of all Amelia (Snooks) Kirby. The nickname for this fashion is "G. I.'s for girls" and naturally the boys thought of this. That doesn't matter, Girls, we like them.

Thousands Attend Farmers

Each of the other 19 farm girls received a valuable piece of jewelry.

Judges were Cullen Johnson of Raleigh, professional entertainer; Bob Weirich, State news editor of the Wilmington Morning Star; and W. Z. Barkley.

Total value of the prizes distributed among the three winners and the other contestants was $475.

A few minutes after the beauty contest, some $600 in prizes to farmers in the audience. These were given by drawing numbers which had been distributed free as the crowd filed into the warehouse.

The Friday night throng sounded a thunderous "yes" to the question as to whether they wanted next year's Farmers Day to be held on the Railroad Plaza. The one-sided answer came after Dave S. Neilson, master of ceremonies, had inquired as to the poular will of the people.

Most of the festivities were held inside the warehouse this year as an experiment, since the Railroad Plaza could not be used in case of rain and since the noise of passing trains and the roping off of streets presented a problem in the conduct of stage performances and traffic handling.

An estimated crowd of 12,000 saw the parade, but somewhat smaller audiences were on hand for the afternoon entertainment at the warehouse.

Among the features were Cullen Johnson's one-man show, Girls of the Golden West, amateur contests, and other contests such as hog calling, the greasy pole, etc.

John M. Barkley, general chairman, expressed appreciation to the crowd for coming to Whiteville as guests of the merchants and Civitans. Speaking for the sponsors, he said the event seemed to be a great success.

The parade, one of the longest

POULTRY SHOW

MOVES TO SOUTHPORT

Captain and Mrs. Harry LeHew of Wilmington, Delaware, have bought the Aspenwall home and moved to Southport. Captain LeHew was born in Southport and has retired after many years with the U. S. Army Engineers.

Steamer Wilmington, all widely known river passenger and freight boats of their day. He left Southport to take a much better position as engineer offered him in the Florida city.

Despite the fact that he was only 13 when he left here 57 years ago, Mr. Reynolds says that he has always remembered the town and has always wanted to come back. He just never got around to coming until last week. He hopes to be back here next summer to spend some time.

He is distantly related to Mrs. R. T. Woodside of Southport and to Isaac Reynolds of Shallotte.

And most interesting in the five-year history of the event, was witnessed by the largest crowd on record.

The Whiteville High School Band led the parade and was followed by the football team and the high school float.

Some unusually colorful features were added this year. The mask-type hoods attracted considerable attention as did Paul Williamson in his cowboy hat, the 1907 Metz car, and others.

The parade group included cars, groups and displays as follows: Whiteville Sub-Deb Club, Junior Woman's Club, Army Recruiting vehicles, National Guard, V. F. W. American Legion, float of beauty contestants of Civitan Club, Columbus Bookmobile, Business and Professional Women's Club, Lions Club, Jaycees, Bobby Smith, Bullard Motors, Walker Bros., Braxton Motor Sales, Sing Service Station, Quality Motors, Spradley's, Columbus County Band, Sea Scouts, Brownie Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts, Avant & Sholar, Credit Women's Breakfast Club, Nelson's Warehouse, Carolina Motors, Marks Truck and Tractor Company, Simmons Drug Co., Future Farmers of America of Williams Township High School, Carolina Telephone and Telegraph Company, McKeel Motors, Whiteville Oil Company, Meares Hardware, North Carolina Forestry Service, R. F. Hall & Son, Fuller & Elliott Tractor Company, Whiteville Fire Department, and State Highway Department.

These names were caught as the parade traveled the length of Madison Street before breaking up for festivities at Moore's Warehouse. Some of the films had several cars in the parade. The commercial and civic display was among the best on record.
