

Bolivia Farmers Dairy Visitors

Group Representing Vocational Agriculture Department At Bolivia Visit Dairy Products Firm

With the trip sponsored by J. M. King and J. H. Tinga of the Bolivia school, a strongly interested group of Brunswick farmers went to Wilmington last week to ascertain the possibility of milk routes in Brunswick county, especially in the Bolivia community.

The destination was the White Ice Cream Company, where a tour was made of the plant and machinery inspected and matters relative to milk production and handling explained. Plenty of samples of ice cream were passed out by Mrs. Robinson, hostess for the ice cream company.

The group was especially interested in the pure-pac milk carton machinery and in the talk by J. F. Klein, dairy field representative, and J. E. Edwards, county health officer of New Hanover county. Others, from Wilmington, present were, Albert Bridge, agricultural teacher; Francis Harrell, Wm. Bryan, Douglas Moody, Henry Feenstra and Louis Dilazero.

Pushing Plans For Development

Sales Organization Busy Making Contacts For Moving Property Included In Beach Development

Asserting that they are working on the most carefully engineered plan ever executed as a result of close study of other developments, the Carolina Land, Inc., of Charleston, now has a big organization working night and day to make the model resort city between Caswell Beach and Long Beach the biggest coastal development in North Carolina, if not on the entire Atlantic coast.

This is according to E. F. Middleton, Jr. For two weeks Mr. Middleton has been building up a powerful sales organization throughout North and South Carolina. For this week and the rest of the month of October he is extending his activities to form sales connections throughout all of the larger cities of the North and east, Cleveland, Ohio; Washington, D. C.; Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and even into New York. He says that the interest at all points has been far better than he could have hoped for. One of their connections gave up a twelve thousand dollar a year job in order to throw all of his energies into the development undertaking.

Regarding the many facilities that are to be a part of the model resort town development, Mr. Middleton said Saturday that they expected to get construction of the modern 60 room hotel underway by Christmas, that in any event it was to be completed in the spring. The hotel is to come first in the corporations development program. Everything is under well formed plans, to be carried out as they can be reached. The hotel first, air strip, amusement pavilion, fishing pier, yacht basin and other facilities should all be underway or completed by this time next year. But it is expected that several years will be required to carry out the program with additions as they may arise.

The Middletons founded Long Beach, fast growing and widely popular. They are still pushing it. In fact, the new model resort town is a part of Long Beach, although separate from it. It is believed on all sides that the new move will give the original Long Beach its biggest and most powerful development impulse. The extensive sales organization for the new program will work just as vigorously for anything that will develop the old Long Beach section and its ten miles of beach frontage.

As an evidence of local interest and faith in the Middletons and this development, W. G. McGlamerry, Southport Cafe owner, jumped in and was the first buyer after it became known that blocks and lots were for sale. Mr. McGlamerry bought all of one of the smaller blocks adjoining the Fort Caswell Road. He stated to a newsman that he will begin the construction of a modern tourist court the first of the year. He will have facilities for trailers, a lunch room and well appointed cabins and other conveniences.

No check has been made with the sales organizations to see how much property has already been sold, but Middleton stated Saturday that he hoped to have some very interesting announcements in two weeks time.

Weevil Damage Hits Growers

Brunswick County Cotton Crop Reported To Be The Worst In History In Point Of Production

Early season reports of damage being done by boll weevils in the cotton fields are being born out by the harvest. Although the acreage in Brunswick is relatively small it is twice as large as was planted during any one of the past 30 years.

Recently Rice Gwynn of Longwood stated that on his 80 acres in cotton he would only make about 20 percent of a crop. He thought that these figures also applied to the general production in the county.

Although the acreage he planted this year has not been stated, Bert Frink of Shallotte township made over a bale to the acre last year, and this year he is credited with saying that he will not even pick over his fields.

About the best report of a cotton crop received by this paper came from Register of Deeds Amos Walton. He planted four acres on his farm near Hickman's Cross Roads and says that he made two small bales that just barely paid expenses. The general opinion is that very little if any cotton will be planted in the county next year.

ERROR IN NAMES

In a report two weeks ago it was stated that William McDonald, Raleigh and Floyd Varnum had been arrested on a charge of manufacturing. This was an error. The correct names of those arrested should have been William and Floyd McDonald and Raleigh Varnum. Floyd Varnum was not implicated.
