Merle Allison Bennett Is Wed To
Wickliff Hughes Jr. At First Baptist Church

A candlelight ceremony of simplicity and grace was held at the First Baptist Church of Whiteville, at five o'clock on Saturday afternoon, when Miss Merle Allison Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Bennett of Freeland, was united in marriage to Wickliff Hughes, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hughes of Chadbourne. The bride was given in marriage by her father, who wore a heavy ivory slipper satin with a fitted bodice and sweetheart neckline edged in several rows of seed pearls, leg o'mutton sleeves ending in calla lily points over the hands. The faler skirt ended in a long court train. Her triple tiered full length veil of French illusion was fashioned from a tulle of satin embroidered with seed pearls. She carried an arm bouquet of calla-lilies centered with a white fushia throated orchid and tied with ivory satin ribbon. The brides only ornament was a single strand of oriental pearls, a gift of the bride groom. Mrs. Speed Jefforys of Wilmington was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a gown of golden taffeta with a full skirt and fitted bodice fashioned with an off the shoulder gathered effect and carried an arm bouquet of bronze chrysanthemums tied with olive green ribbon. The bridesmaids were: Miss Jean Fairly Bennett of Freeland, sister of the bride, Mrs. Cecil Fitz of Chadbourne, sister of the groom, Miss Elizabeth Ashworth of Wilmington, Miss Helen Russel of Kinston, and Miss Evelyn Whitefield of Wilmington. They wore olive green gowns fashioned like that of the matron of honor and carried arm bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums tied with brown ribbon. Miss Gayle Fitz, niece of the groom was flower girl, she wore a gown of yellow taffeta fashioned to those of the brides maids, and carried a white basket filled with rose pedals. Master Charles Edward Heye, nephew of the groom was ring bearer and wore an ivory satin suit. The bridegroom chose as his best man, Lenton Yates of Chadbourne. Groom's men were: Claude Meares, John Milton, Mills Blake, Otis Collins, all of Chadbourne, and James Bennett of Wilmington, brother of the bride. The mother of the bride wore a navy crepe dress, with accessories of navy and her corsage was of pink rosebuds. The bridegrooms mother wore a black crepe dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the Columbus County Hospital Nurses Home in honor of the bridal couple. Mrs. Flora Smith greeted the guests, and introduced them to the receiving line composed of the wedding party and the parents of the couple. Miss Catherine Simmons presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. David Strole, Mrs. Hubert Cook, Mrs. Merlin McQueen assisted in serving. Mrs. Bertha Mae Elliott was in charge of the register. Goodbyes were said to Mr. and Mrs. Carol Avant. Following the reception the couple left for a wedding trip to the mountains of western North Carolina. Mrs. Hughes wore a Fogart Green velvet suit with brown accessories and the orchid lifted from her bridal bouquet. The couple will make their home in Chadbourne upon their return.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Herbert Baker, Mrs. R. C. Daniel, Mrs. R. L. Thompson, Miss Susie Newton, Mrs. D. E. Arthur, Mrs. J. J. Loughlin, Jr., Mrs. Ormand Legett, and Mrs. Worth Ward.

The October social meeting of the Southport Woman's Club was held on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. L. J. Hardee. "Party Plates" furnished the theme for the afternoon's program and a novel method was employed to provide refreshments for the guests. Each member prepared and brought with her a plate of refreshments and the hostesses provided a beverage to go with it. The attractive plates were placed on the dining room for all to see as they were brought in by the members. They ranged from simple salads and desserts to most elaborate plates complete with all the "fixin's". Some were suitable for special holidays, such as the Christmas wreaths provided by the hostess for any member who arrived without a plate. Halloween salads, fruit salad "wagons", cakes decorated to represent ribboned boxes, and all kinds of unusual tricks for making desserts and salads attractive were in the large collection.

A jury composed of Mrs. D. J. Smith, Mrs. Malcolm Lewis, and Miss Bobby Long judged the plates and awarded first prize to Mrs. James Carr. Second prize went to Mrs. R. E. Thompson, and Mrs. Dan Harrelson was third prize winner.

During the afternoon's program Miss Long, home economics teacher at the high school, spoke on party plates and gave hints on attractive ways to prepare them. Hostesses with Mrs. Hardee were Mrs. Merritt Moore and Mrs. Paul Messick.

The club adjourned to meet with Mrs. H. Wolfe in November.
