High Times

By: Lib, Jan, Toog and Glo

News seems to be pretty scarce these days, but we still have little gossip for you. Maybe when basketball season starts we can liven things up a bit.

Well, we guess that everyone's heard about the football game Friday afternoon with the Wilmington J. V.'s. Luck must have been against us with the score 56 to 0 in favor of the J. V.'s. Our next game is to be with Chadbourn at Chadbourn on November 23rd. We expect to see a big crowd in the cheering section.

Seen around: Danny Harrelson, Agnew Fulcher, Bobby Spencer, Tommy Bowmer, Douglas Watts, Bernice Phelps, Janice Swan, Janice Trunnell, Kayen Swan, Harriet Corlette, Mary Ann Loughlin, Stuart Arrington and just loads of others enjoying the game in Wilmington Friday night. We could mention that people there Friday afternoon but could hardly say the Southport fans enjoyed it since we lost . . . Friday also saw Nancy Swan on her way to Charleston for the week-end . . . Bill Cramer is sporting a sprained wrist this week, battle scars from the game . . . The Home Ec. Classes are going to have an attractive room when they finish the curtains and machine covers. They are also making lovely aprons . . . This isn't exactly school news, but those of us who go to the Shallotte dances want to say how friendly our school neighbors are . . . Janice Swan was lucky last Saturday night when she won a fruit cake . . . Last week we mentioned the talent show. This week it seems as if the plans have fallen through . . . In Biology class we see Jackie Marsh, Leroy Stanley, Sue Williamson, Ramona Fink, Delight Gay and Bill Cramer watching the class work. Work is right hub, Mr. Robinson? . . . Patricia Adams and Latitia Hickman copying work off the board. Our teacher is quite an artist.

Well folks that's all for this week, but we will be back next week, same time, same place.

TEXT FOR SUNDAY

Rev. J. M. Waggett, the pastor, has announced that the topic for the night service at the Southport Presbyterian church next Sunday will be "When Life Takes Us." The hour will be 7:30 o'clock. This will be Rev. Mr. Waggett's fourth sermon on athletics and life.

ON VACATION

Dr. and Mrs. M. H. Rourke and two children have been on vacation the past week. They drove throughout the east and were in New York for the Notre Dame-Carolina football game Saturday.

Local 4-H Club Elects Officers

The 4-H club at the Southport school has recently elected Joan Ramsauer, president; Barbara Hewitt, vice-president; Joe Price, secretary-treasurer and Polly Robinson and Betty Rabon, reporters.

County Agent A. S. Knowles and Miss Corine Green, the home agent, are serving instructors. The young folks say that they appreciate the interest and help of these workers. Both the instructors and members of the club are looking forward to having a very successful year. Already the number of club members has increased greatly over last year, when there was only Miss Greene as instructor for the girls. Mr. Knowles joining up in this 4-H work has greatly stimulated the interest of the boys, as well as that of the girls.

BUILDING NEW HOMES

Mrs. E. V. Fogleman of Burlington is building an attractive new summer home at Caswell Beach. Her brother, C. C. McCuiston, prominent hosiery manufacturer of Burlington, has owned a nice home at Caswell Beach for the past two years. His family spends the entire summer there.

CHRISTMAS PREPARATIONS

With the Lions Club the guiding spirit, Shallotte folks are already making extensive preparations for their annual Community Christmas. This event, started two years ago, sees many worthy people in the Shallotte community recipients of useful things that help to make their holidays brighter.

NEW BUILDING
 The old Hubbard Barage building in Southport is to be torn down immediately and replaced by a larger and more attractive structure. Material for the building is already arriving.
