... candlelight service at Methodist Church Tuesday... November twenty-third, Reba S. Rogers of Lexington, N. C. became the bride of Charles A. Rourke of Orlando, Fla. and Bolivia. The vows were spoken before an arrangement of Southern smilax, pines, white chrysanthemums and candleabras holding white tapers.

Dr. J. M. Waggett, the Presbyterian minister of Southport and pastor of the groom, officiated. Mrs. J. W. Rourke of Southport, pianist, Mr. Pearce Cranmer of Southport, violinist, Miss Ruth Patterson of Southport, soloist, provided the musical setting. Instrumental numbers included "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "O Perfect Love". Vocal solos included "I Love You Truly" and "Because".

The bride entered with her school principal, Mr. Talmadge Page of Kitty Hawk and Bolivia who gave her in marriage. She wore a black silk crepe dress with accessories to match with a corsage of bride's roses and white carnations. Her only ornament was a necklace of pearls.

Miss Jean Stokes of Wingate and co-teacher of the bride was her only attendant. She was dressed in grey brocaded satin with black accessories with a corsage of lavender chrysanthemums.

Mr. Rourke's best man was John M. King of Clinton, member of the Bolivia high school faculty. Wayne McMickael of Atlanta, Mo., and Jake Tinga of Wilmington were ushers. They also are members of Bolivia school faculty.

Mrs. Rourke is the former Miss Reba Smith of Lexington, S. C. She is a graduate of Newberry College and is a teacher in Bolivia high school.

Mr. Rourke, who is mayor of Bolivia, is engaged in general merchandise business.

The bridal couple made a brief wedding tour to Orlando and the Gulf Coast. They have been at their home in Bolivia since December 1, where Mr. Rourke has purchased a home and business.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kopp entertained following the ceremony at their lovely home near the church. In the receiving line were Mrs. Foster Mintz, Mr. and Mrs. Kopp, Mr. and Mrs. Page, the bridal couple and their attendants.

Mrs. Anna Mary McDowell of Elizabethtown presided at the punch bowl, Mrs. W. E. Lesh the cake cutting, Miss Maude Fox of Randleman the bride's book and Miss Iva Lee Miller of Hemmingway, S. C. directed the guests.

night. A wonderful time was had by all and the program was a success.

Practice started last Monday for the local teams and thus far they are a sight to behold, mainly the beginners. Just ask Janice Trunnell how easy it is. Right now it looks as if Mr. Sanders has quite a job but never underestimate his power.

The French class has been trying all week to give Professor C. N. Sanders their version of the Christmas spirit—no quizzes. Often the reply to no test request is—"Do you have a hole in your head?"

There has been a new addition to the faculty, Mrs. Bullard from Goldsboro has taken over the seventh grade.

Seen Around: During the past week for a few days we saw the seniors who were to be Charter

Beta Club members being initiated by the school faculty... Thursday we went to chapel to see the seniors who were invited becoming full-pledged members... We saw the Dramatic Club members rehearsing for a Christmas play which we'll let you know more about later... We saw Sue Williamson, Jackie Marsh, Iris Rabon and Gloria Hewett discussing what they want for Christmas... Delight Gay was busy singing a song during activity... We saw Romona Frink making preparations for a Christmas program... We saw a large crowd of ball players and cheerleaders heading towards Bolivia Tuesday night... Stuart Arrington, Marcia Dilsaver, Linda Hickman, Claire Potter, Gene Watts and William Robbins were seen at the regular Saturday night square dance... Boyce Spencer was seen looking for a ruler for some reason—it couldn't have been to get his math... To add to our Christmas spirit, some students are beginning to come out with bells on their shoes and even in their hair... Monday morning we saw the science class on their way on a field trip... We saw the Beta Club members show off their membership pins. Among these are Catherine and Rebecca McCracken, Linda Hickman, Lena Ward, Peggy Arnold, Doris Stephens, Clare Potter, Joan James, Bobby Spencer, G. W. Fisher and Robin Hood... Latitia Hickman sure is anxious to know who we play our first basketball game!

Well Folks, that's all for now; but look for us next week for the latest school news.

CATHOLIC INFORMATION

I'd Rather Believe In Santa Claus!

There is no personal or creature worship and prayer are man's final end is here. The universe was not created. It is self-existing. These are the things that are true today in some of our hearts. It would behoove Christians to make sure it is being taught their own sons and daughters.

There were a little boy and some girls that those gifts in my stockings which so perplexed my childish wants had made by no one, but were hanging—well, I'd rather believe in Santa Claus. It would be intelligent.

A college professor, a scientist, a clergyman—tells me that the universe and the things that are in it, air, water, food, all other things that so perplex humanity's needs, were created, but had always self-existing—well, even if I never heard of Almighty God, I still find their answer satisfactory. I feel sure that I can wrangle through to some idea of God. It would be intelligent.

High Times

By: Lib, Jan, Toog and Glo

Here we are again with the news and gossip around Southport high school for this week. Christmas will soon be here and you can bet that we will be more than happy to have a short vacation. But now for the news.

Get prepared folks! The first period Home Ec. class has really been shining, so naturally everybody has to know. First they finished those first class aprons, then the machine covers, now they're working on curtains. They have a very artistic board arrangement. They also have big plans for a Christmas party. The date isn't definite, but they are anxious to get it planned. Now last, but certainly not least, they are planning to make toys and gifts for the needy. See, we told you they were really on the ball!

This is of great interest to us—basketball! To start the year off right we had a county-wide banquet at Bolivia last Tuesday

Lowrimore Boy May Get Knife Today, Tuesday

Operation Will Be Performed To Relieve Heart Condition; Britt Youth Must Go Back In January

Joney Day Lowrimore, the county's most famous blue boy, will undergo an operation either today or tomorrow in John Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore, Md.

Tom Hayes of the Inman-Cox & Gore Funeral Home of Tabor City told The News Reporter today that the 10-year-old lad's operation was scheduled for one of the two days and that hospital attaches had indicated a 90 per cent chance of success.

E. A. Britt, the 14-year-old Chadbourn boy who is also suffering from the congenital heart condition, must return to Baltimore on January 23 for further examination. Apparently an operation was deemed inadvisable at this time.

Young Britt and his mother, Mrs. Norman E. Britt, returned Friday in the company of Mr. Hayes and D. T. Gore of the Inman-Cox & Gore establishment.

The Tabor City undertaking firm took the "blue boy" party of five to Baltimore last Tuesday. The Britt's, young Lowrimore, his mother, Mrs. Geneva Lowrimore, and C. E. Ray made the trip.

Mrs. Lowrimore and Ray, who is her brother, remained in Baltimore pending the outcome of the operation on Joney Day.

All expenses of the ambulance trip were paid by Inman-Cox & Gore as their contribution to the Lowrimore Blue Boy Fund.

Herman Jennings Roberts Is Felled By Shotgun Blast; Alleged Slayer Held In Horry County Jail

GREEN SEA, S. C., Dec. 5—Herman Jennings Roberts, 28, of the Green Sea section of Horry County, was shot and killed early Sunday morning near the State line close to Tabor City.

Sheriff C. E. Sasser of Conway arrested Johnnie Ward who is alleged to have fired a blast from a .12 gauge shotgun into Roberts as the man stood near the doorway in Ward's home.

The cause of the altercation which resulted in the early morning slaying was not quite clear. There was some indication the shooting followed a party at the alleged killer's home.

Alton Simmons and S. A. Small were reported to have been witnesses to the shooting.

Roberts, a prominent farmer, is survived by his mother, Mrs. Beulah Floyd Roberts his wife, Mrs. Verna Roberts; three sons, Kenneth Roberts of Winston-Salem, and Ronald and Reuben Roberts of Green Sea; and a sister, Mrs. H. E. Dorman of Green Sea.

What is it worth TO YOUR FAMILY?

It takes more than arithmetic to add up the full value of the telephone when Grandmother calls up to say, "Happy Birthday" . . . when Mother wants to tell the druggist, "Rush the order, please" . . . or when Junior hears the magic words, "I'm giving a party—you're invited."

Between the calls you make and the calls you receive, the telephone is such an active partner in your daily life it's almost one of the family! Day and night, rain or shine, it serves the whole family in countless ways—running errands, spreading cheer, bringing friends and loved ones closer.

When you stop to think how much it does for you, at the price you pay, telephone service stands out as one of today's biggest bargains. And it grows bigger as the number of people you can call keeps increasing and the service becomes faster and better.
